

Partner Pension Form

If you are getting married or if you enter into a registered partnership in the Netherlands, your pension fund will be informed about this by the municipality where you are registered. If your partnership has been laid down in a cohabitation agreement, you can use this document to register your partner. If you live abroad, you need to inform the pension fund yourself that you are getting married or enter into a registered partnership.

Cohabitation agreement

If you and your partner have been living together demonstrably for at least six months and you have both signed a cohabitation agreement, in which any proprietary matters have been laid down, and that has been authorized by a notary, you can register your partner with the pension fund. You need to include a copy of the cohabitation agreement with this form.

The contract is not required if you and your partner both state that you have been maintaining a permanent joint household for at least five years and if you can present an extract from the population register that shows that you and your partner have been living on the same address for at least five years.

Marriage abroad

If you live abroad and you are getting married, you will need to register your partner yourself. You need to include a copy of the marriage certificate with this form.

Return

You can return the completed and signed form together with a copy of the cohabitation contract (if required) or the marriage certificate in an envelope to the following address:

Stichting IKEA Pensioenfonds
