Penn Quakers (4-13, 1-2 Ivy League) vs. Cornell Big Red (1-17, 0-4)

Feb. 7, 2014 • 7 p.m. • The Palestra (Philadelphia)

Radio: WNTP 990 AM - Matt Leon (PBP), Vince Curran (analyst)

Television: Ivy League Digital Network - there is a fee for this service

The University of Pennsylvania men's basketball team struggled through its first Ivy League weekend at Dartmouth and Harvard, getting swept on that Northern New England trip for the first time since the 1987-88 season. The Quakers return to The Palestra this weekend hoping to reverse fortunes, as Cornell is here Friday and Columbia arrives on Saturday.

The Penn-Cornell Series

• The Quakers and the Big Red have met 218 times, with Penn holding a 144-74 lead in the series.

• Penn has won three of the last four meetings, after dropping seven of eight to the Big Red from 2008-11.

• Penn and Cornell split last season's series, each team winning on the road. The Big Red won for the fourth time in its last six trips to The Palestra, 71-69—Patrick Lucas-Perry led Penn with 14 points—but the Red and Blue returned the favor in Ithaca, 79-71, behind 29 points from Tony Hicks.

The C-C Home Weekend

• Penn has hosted Cornell and Columbia on the same weekend 54 times; the Quakers have swept the weekend 40 times, split it 12 times, and been swept twice (in 1968 and 2009).

• Penn has split this home weekend three of the last four years; last season, the Quakers opened with a win on Friday over Columbia (62-58) but then fell to Cornell on Saturday (71-69).

• Penn swept this weekend two years ago, beating Cornell on Friday and Columbia on Saturday.

It's Penn, Please

The first time you mention us on-air or in your columns, please use our full name—the University of Pennsylvania. After that, we ask that you refer to us simply as Penn. We would ask that you refrain from calling us Pennsylvania at any time.
Thanks for your cooperation!

Weekly Honors

• Senior forward Fran Dougherty was named Ivy League Player of the Week on January 13.

• Sophomore guard Tony Hicks was co-Ivy League Player of the Week on November 11, sharing the honor with Yale's Justin Sears.

Early Start

Penn's season-opening, 78-73 loss to Temple not only marked the earliest Philadelphia Big 5 game since the start of the Big 5 in the 1950s; it also matched the earliest start, by date, in Penn program history. The other times the Quakers played on Nov. 9 was in 2007, when they lost to Drexel in overtime at The Palestra, 67-59; and last year, when they overcame a 22-point deficit to defeat UMBC, 80-75.

Home is Where the Wins Are

Penn entered the 2013-14 season with 803 wins at The Palestra, which opened in 1927. In an informal survey of the other NCAA Division I programs, only Washington (932 wins at Hec Edmundson Pavilion) and Butler (826 wins at Hinkle Fieldhouse) boasted more wins in their current home than the Quakers. The Edmundson Pavilion was opened in 1927, while the Bulldogs opened Hinkle in 1928.

Across The Pond

Penn spent nine days in Italy during the month of August. The Quakers spent two nights each in Venice and Florence, then spent the rest of the trip in Rome. Penn played three games while in Italy, winning all of them easily. The trip represented a homecoming of sorts for Head Coach Jerome Allen, who spent a majority of his pro playing career in Italy.

Up The Scoring Chart

Senior Miles Jackson-Cartwright has 1,277 points for his career which is 17th in Penn history; he passed Perry Bromwell (1,265 from 1985-87) last night at Dartmouth. Joe Sturgis (1,292 points from 1954-56) is 17th. Check page 16 of these notes to see where Jackson-Cartwright fits on other career lists at Penn.

The Quaker Notemeal of Note

• Penn played a game on every Saturday in January this season. Seems reasonable, right? It is, until you realize that the Quakers haven't done that since the 2002-03 season.

• Penn has held 13 of its 17 opponents this season below 45 percent shooting from the field; George Mason was one of those other four teams, but barely—the Patriots shot 45.3 percent (24-53) on January 2.

• Penn is 4-4 this season when leading at the half; before last Friday's game at Dartmouth, when the Quakers surrendered a seven-point halftime advantage and lost to the Big Green, the halftime leads they had lost were 1 point (Lafayette), 1 point (Wagner), and 2 points (George Mason).

• Penn entered the week sixth nationally in assist/field goal ratio, at .650; that is behind only Denver (.684), Utah State (.682), Creighton (.655), UC Santa Barbara (.651) and American (.651).

• In Penn's 17 games so far, head coach Jerome Allen has played 15 players in a game twice this season, 14 players four times, and 13 players six times; last weekend, all 13 players who dressed saw time in both games.

• Nine different players have made at least two starts for Penn this season, and only senior Fran Dougherty has started all 17 games.

• Penn has used eight different starting lineups in its 17 games this season—five of them in the last 11 games—and has put out the same lineup in consecutive games just seven times.

• Penn has four players averaging double figures in scoring—Tony Hicks (14.8), Miles Jackson-Cartwright (11.8), Dougherty (11.7), Darien Nelson-Henry (11.5)—but the Quakers have had more than three double-figure scorers in a game just once this season (January 25 against NJIT).

• Through the first 17 games, five different players have led Penn in scoring (Dougherty, Jackson-Cartwright, Hicks, Nelson-Henry, Julian Harrell) and all five have had at least one 20-point game.

• After recording 14 rebounds combined in Penn's first four games (3.5 rpg), Dougherty has 105 in the last 13 contests (8.1 rpg); he has snared nine or more boards in nine of Penn's last 12 games.

• Hicks has led Penn or shared the lead in scoring in six of the Quakers' last seven games (18.8 ppg in that stretch); the outlier came last Friday at Dartmouth when he had four points.

• Jackson-Cartwright has hit six three-pointers in one game this season (Rider), five treys in another game (Monmouth), and four in three other games (Villanova, George Mason, NJIT).

• Jackson-Cartwright enters the weekend having hit 19 of his last 21 free throws.

• Jackson-Cartwright has started 96 of the last 99 games he has played at Penn; earlier this season, he came off the bench at Marist due to a thumb injury. The other times he played in a game but did not start during this stretch? Dec. 10, 2011 at UCLA, and March 8, 2011 against Princeton (Penn's Senior Day of his freshman year).

Notemeal From Ivy Weekend 1 (at Dartmouth/Harvard)

• Dartmouth's 21 first-half points were an opponent low for this season.

• Senior Steve Rennard tied season/career highs in assists (3) and three-point baskets (3) at Dartmouth; he had all of the Quakers' treys in that game.

• Junior Henry Brooks set a season high and tied a career best with three steals at Harvard.

Preseason Notemeal

• Penn boasts two players who received all-conference recognition last year, senior Miles Jackson-Cartwright (second-team All-Ivy) and sophomore Tony Hicks (All-Ivy honorable mention). Jackson-Cartwright led Penn in scoring with 13.5 points per game last season, while Hicks was second with 10.4 ppg. Jackson-Cartwright also led Penn with 113 assists and was second with 31 steals and 35 three-point baskets.

• Hicks boasts a unique status in the long, illustrious history of University of Pennsylvania basketball. As a high school senior in Chicago, he earned a spot on the prestigious Parade All-America Team, one of 40 players nationwide to be so recognized. When he came to Penn, he became the first Parade All-America to suit up for the Quakers.

• Another player who likely would have earned All-Ivy honors last year was senior forward Fran Dougherty, if he hadn't gotten hurt at midseason. Dougherty led Penn in scoring and rebounding through the first 10 games, missed several games due to mononucleosis, then came back for two games but suffered a season-ending injury during the second one. He averaged 13.8 points and 8.1 rebounds.

• Like Hicks, sophomore center Darien Nelson-Henry was another player who enjoyed a strong rookie campaign last year, averaging 7.6 points and 4.1 rebounds per game. However, he scored in double figures 10 times in his last 17 appearances, and had double-doubles against NJIT (12 points, 11 rebounds) and Ivy League champion Harvard (18 points, 11 rebounds). Nelson-Henry also led Penn with 25 blocked shots and a .540 field-goal percentage.

• Junior forward Henry Brooks, Jr. started 28 games last year and played in 30 of the Quakers' 31 contests. (Only Jackson-Cartwright started more, at 30.) Brooks averaged 6.5 points and 3.4 rebounds per game, scoring in double figures six times and ending the season with a nine-point, 11-rebound performance against Penn's archrival, Princeton.

• Only one player saw time in every game for Penn last season, junior forward Greg Louis (after he did not play as a freshman due to injury). Louis averaged 3.9 points and 3.2 rebounds per game last year, highlighted by a double-double at Delaware (19 points, 11 rebounds).

• Penn's top three-point threat last year was junior guard Patrick Lucas-Perry; 38 of his 49 field goals came from beyond the arc, and he led the Quakers in that category. "PLP" had a trio of 15-point games—against UMBC, at Temple and at Brown—as well as 14 against Ivy League foe Cornell.

• Senior guard Steve Rennard has struggled to stay healthy the last few years; last season, he started 18 of the first 19 games before suffering a season-ending injury. He averaged 4.2 points and 1.9 rebounds per game.

• Another guard, sophomore Jamal Lewis, started 19 games and made 28 appearances overall. He averaged 3.5 points and 2.0 rebounds per game—highlighted by a 16-point game at Wagner and a 14-point effort at Dartmouth—and led Penn with 38 steals while finishing second with 67 assists.

• One of the most inspirational players on Penn's team is senior Dau Jok. A native of the Sudan, his family escaped to the United States after the death of his father. After an extremely limited role in Penn's lineup his first two seasons, Jok played in 29 of the Quakers' 31 games last year.

• Junior guard Camryn Crocker started eight games last year and played in 27, averaging 2.2 points and 1.6 rebounds. He also had one of the best assist/turnover ratios in the Ivy League (62 assists/45 turnovers).

• Senior center Cameron Gunter had a limited role for the first half of last season, scoring just 10 points total in Penn's first 22 games; he then dropped 10 and added nine rebounds in the Quakers' 23rd game, at Ivy League champion Harvard, and scored a combined 18 in the last eight contests.

• A player who did not see any time last year due to injury but is on the trip is sophomore swingman Julian Harrell; he hopes to be a factor at the guard/forward spot.

Meet The Newcomers

• Tony Bagtas (Union City, Ga.) was a two-time first-team all-state and a two-time Player of the Year in South Atlanta, South Fulton and in his region. He also was Class 5A South Player of the Year as a junior at Westlake HS.

• Matt Howard (Columbia, S.C.) was a two-time all-state selection and regional Player of the Year as a senior, when he led A.C. Flora to a 22-7 record and a regional title.

• Dylan Jones (Houston, Texas) was captain of his Village School team as a senior, and a three-time recipient of the team's Best Defensive Award.

• Preston Troutt (Dallas, Texas) was a four-year letterwinner at Trinity Christian.

Jerome Allen W'09, John R. Rockwell Head Coach

Penn Coaching Career

• Returned to Penn as a volunteer assistant for the 2009-10 season but promoted to the interim head coach position on Dec. 14, 2009.

• Formally named the John R. Rockwell Head Coach of Men's Basketball on March 30, 2010, after going 6-15 as interim coach.

• Penn improved from 6-22 his interim season—he was 6-15 as interim coach—to 13-15 his first full season, then 20-13 last year.

• In Ivy League play, Penn went 5-9 in Allen's interim year—he was head coach for every Ivy game that season—then improved to 7-7 in 2010-11 and improved upon that to go 11-3 and finish second in 2011-12, a game behind Harvard in the standings. (Penn went into its final game at Princeton with a chance to gain a share of the title, but fell to the Tigers 62-52.)

Penn Playing Career

• A four-year starter from 1992-95, led the Quakers to Ivy League titles each of his last three seasons, all of them coming via a perfect 14-0 mark. (Penn also won its last Ivy game his freshman year, in 1991-92, as well as its first five Ivy League games in 1995-96, giving the Quakers a 48-game Ivy winning streak that remains the conference record.)

• Ivy League Player of the Year in 1992-93 as a sophomore—sharing the honor with Columbia's Buck Jenkins—and again as a junior in 1993-94, making him one of three Penn players to earn the honor twice.

• Three-time first-team All-Ivy and All-Philadelphia Big 5 selection.

• Ended his career as the program's all-time leader in assists (504) and steals (166). Scored 1,488 career points, which is currently ninth on Penn's all-time scoring list, and grabbed 482 career rebounds from his guard position.

• Inducted into the Philadelphia Big 5 Hall of Fame in February 2009.

Why is He Listed as Penn '09?

Jerome Allen left Penn following the 1994-95 basketball season to pursue his professional basketball career, attending NBA draft camps and such. At the time, he was two classes shy of his degree from Penn's Wharton School of Business. Upon the conclusion of his playing career in Europe, Allen returned to coach with the Quakers and also took those final two classes to complete his degree.

• Penn's 1992-93 squad went 22-5 overall, wrestling the Ivy crown away from Princeton after the Tigers' four-year run before losing in the NCAA first round to Massachusetts.

• In 1993-94, Penn went 25-3 overall and earned an NCAA first-round victory over Nebraska before losing to Florida in the second round.

• Captain of the 1994-95 team that went 22-6 and again advanced to the NCAAs, losing to Alabama in overtime in the first round.

Pro Playing Career

• Second-round draft pick of the NBA's Minnesota Timberwolves and spent two seasons in the NBA with Minnesota, Indiana and Denver.

• He then enjoyed a stellar professional career in Europe—primarily Italy—before retiring at the end of the 2008-09 season.

Coaching Background

• In the summer of 2007, did an internship with the San Antonio Spurs, serving as an assistant coach on their summer league team at the Las Vegas NBA Summer League and the Rocky Mountain Review in Salt Lake City, Utah. As part of that program, he participated in both practice instructing and game scout.

• In February 2009, awarded the head coaching position for Snaidero Basket of Italy's Serie A, with whom he had previously played for four seasons. With that, he became the first person in 15 years to be promoted to head coach while still actively playing in one of the top European leagues (Italy, Spain, Greece, Russia, France, Turkey).

Philanthropy

• Founded Brothers Embracing Brothers (BEB) in 1997. In an attempt to convey the message of neighborhood involvement, BEB established a men's basketball league. Over the years BEB evolved and began working with the neighborhood youth. With a new mission in place, Hood Enriched was formed with the objective to cultivate the academic and athletic attributes of inner-city youth.

• Using the motto "expect to be exceptional," students were exposed to educational analysis exams and monitored thereafter. In addition, a summer job program allowed participants to develop proper workplace behavior.

GAME 1 Temple 78, at Penn 73 Nov. 9, 2013

PHILADELPHIA — The Quakers made a gallant comeback, but after whittling away at a 15-point deficit and taking a two-point lead they allowed Temple to score the game's final seven points. With nine minutes, Miles Jackson-Cartwright's three-pointer was answered by a jumper from Temple's Dalton Pepper...

- Two Quick Notes... This was the earliest Philadelphia Big 5 game, by date, in history. Following the game, fans who attended to a Bill Cosby stand-up show in The Palestra.

GAME 2 Penn 79, at Monmouth 73 Nov. 12, 2013

WEST LONG BRANCH, N.J. — Hello, Julian Harrell. Welcome to college basketball. The sophomore missed all of last year due to injuries, and he was bedeviled by more maladies this preseason. As a result, this was his first official appearance in a Penn uniform...

- Two Quick Notes... Penn had 13 steals, a team high in the Jerome Allen coaching era. Sophomore Julian Harrell made his collegiate debut, recording two points and five rebounds in 17 minutes.

GAME 3 Penn State 83, Penn 71 Nov. 16, 2013

PHILADELPHIA — A slow start by the Quakers proved fatal, as they fell behind by double digits before their game with Penn State was five minutes old and never recovered at The Palestra. Penn was down just 7-5 after two furious minutes, but while Penn State continued its relentless attack the Quakers went quiet...

- Two Quick Notes... Penn shot 40 free throws, a team high in the Allen coaching era. Sophomore Darien Nelson-Henry went 11-of-11 at the foul line, the best performance at the stripe by a Penn player since Dec. 7, 2011.

GAME 16
at Dartmouth 67, Penn 58
Jan. 31, 2014

HANOVER, N.H. — The Quakers led by seven points at the half, but Dartmouth's Alex Mitola scored 23 of his 25 points after the break as the Big Green roared past Penn at the Leede Arena.

Dartmouth scored 11 of the first 14 points in the second half to go in front, 32-31, Mitola draining a trio of three-pointers over a 76-second span.

Steve Rennard answered Mitola's third trey with one of his own to put the Quakers back in front, 34-32, but clearly it was game on at that point.

The game stayed even for most of the next four minutes after that, and when Rennard drained his third trey of the night Penn went up, 45-42. After that, John Golden put this game away for the Big Green. He knocked down a three-pointer to tie the game, then followed up a Brandon McDonnell free throw with four more points that pushed the Big Green in front, 50-45. He wasn't done, hitting another jumper after a Kevin Crescenzi bucket. McDonnell capped Dartmouth's 13-0 streak with yet another free throw, and with 5:49 left the Big Green's lead was 55-45. Penn got no closer than eight points after that.

Two Quick Notes...

• Dartmouth's 21 first-half points were an opponent low for this season.

• Senior Steve Rennard was the only Penn player to hit a three-pointer in the game; everyone else combined to go 0-of-11.

PENN 4-12, 1-1

GAME 17
at Harvard 80, Penn 50
Feb. 1, 2014

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. — The Crimson ran away with this thing starting midway through the first half. Penn was up 18-15 after a Fran Dougherty layin with just over 11 minutes to play in the opening period, but Harvard scored the game's next 14 points and used a 29-5 run to halftime to take any drama out of this contest.

The run continued into the second half, as the lead built up to as much as 32 points after Lauren Rivard (22 points) hit a trio of three-pointers in the span of just over a minute.

Rivard finished with 22 points, while Kyle Casey had 15 points and 11 rebounds and Zena Edosomwan had 10 points. Harvard shot 50 percent in the game, with eight of the Crimson's nine field goals in the second half coming from beyond the arc.

Hicks finished the game with 14 points to lead Penn, while Darien Nelson-Henry and Miles Jackson-Cartwright added 10 apiece. Henry Brooks scored six points and had three steals.

Two Quick Notes...

• Penn was swept on the Dartmouth-Harvard road trip for the first time since 1988.

• Junior Henry Brooks tied a career high with three steals in the game.
