The International College of Psychosomatic Medicine

Psychosomatic medicine is a multi-disciplinary field that encompasses research into the interrelationships of biological, psychological, and social factors in health and disease, and embraces a holistic approach to the care of patients. This discipline is responsible for the contemporary emphasis on biopsychosocial processes in medical education, research, and clinical practice. The International College of Psychosomatic Medicine was founded in 1970 to stimulate international collaboration in research and clinical practice incorporating the principles of psychosomatic medicine. Every two years the International College sponsors a World Congress to foster this collaboration, and to provide a forum to highlight recent developments in psychosomatic medicine,

The International College is currently enjoying a period of rejuvenation and renewal. National psychosomatic societies are thriving. The need to understand and integrate research and clinical approaches from different countries is of profound importance to the field of psychosomatic medicine, and, indeed, to medicine in general.

The 2003 Congress in Hawaii is a leap forward in this process. Modern technology has allowed direct and rapid communication among our distinguished panel of international scientific advisors. The result will be not only an outstanding scientific program, but also the generation of international respect, understanding, and good will.

Continuing Education Credits

Accreditation: The Queen's Medical Center is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

It is the policy of the Queen's Medical Center that the information presented at QMC CME activities will be unbiased and based on scientific evidence. To help participants make judgments about the presence of bias, disclosure of the financial relationships of speakers and QMC with commercial entities that produce or market products or services related to the content of this CME activity, if any, will be made known to the audience at the beginning of the conference.

CME Credit: The Queen's Medical Center designates this education activity for a maximum of 30 hours in Category 1 credit toward the American Medical Association Physician's Recognition Award. Each physician should claim only those hours of credit that he/she actually spent in the educational activity.

Continuing Education: A Continuing Education certificate will be provided at the conclusion of the conference for each registrant.

Psychology Continuing Education: Application in progress.

Welcome and Aloha!

We invite you to participate in the 17th World Congress on Psychosomatic Medicine at the Hilton Waikoloa Village in Hawaii, August 23-28, 2003.

We are working hard to make this a valuable and enriching meeting, one that will provide wonderful memories for a lifetime. We are particularly proud of our International Scientific Advisory Committee, which consists of outstanding clinicians and researchers from many countries and six continents. The ease of communication by e-mail has allowed vigorous interchange of ideas and proposals to form the nidus for a truly stimulating scientific program.

In addition, the venue is a remarkable one with outstanding conference facilities in a stunning location. The Hilton Waikoloa Village is one of the world's finest resorts. The opportunity to spend a week here should not be missed.

The people of Hawaii are a unique and harmonious mixture of many ethnic and cultural backgrounds. This makes Hawaii the perfect location for this international medical conference, celebrating collaboration, understanding, and progress in psychosomatic medicine.

Congress Venue

Nestled on an oceanfront of the Big Island of Hawaii's spectacular Kohala Coast, with the giant peak of Mauna Kea in the background, is the lush Hilton Waikoloa Village Hotel. This is one of the world's finest resort hotels with tropical gardens, exotic wildlife, cascading waterfalls, tranquil lagoons and waterways, playful dolphins, three swimming pools, beautifully appointed guest rooms, two championship golf courses, world-class tennis, the elemental pleasures of Kohala Spa, nine distinctive restaurants, Hawaiian cultural activities, a year-round Camp Menehune children's program, shops with everything from artwork to Aloha shirts, and so much more. In addition to its fabulous facilities and incredible grounds, it boasts a museum walkway with a $7 million collection of Pacific Rim art. Its superb conference facilities are beautifully integrated into the resort.

About Hawaii and The Big Island

Hawaii is a unique paradise in the middle of the Pacific Ocean. Its peoples form a harmonious mixture of many ethnic groups, none of which is a majority. Its land mass is compressed into several small islands, but these include the world's most beautiful beaches, high mountains, stony deserts, tropical rain forests, waterfalls, lush valleys, and an almost perfect climate with moderate temperatures and cooling breezes throughout the year.

Among the several populated Hawaiian Islands is the Big Island of Hawaii, the site of the 17th World Congress on Psychosomatic Medicine. Attractions include one of the world's most active volcanoes, Kilauea, and its incredible lava fields. The island has two giant mountains, reaching almost 14,000 ft. above sea level, making them the largest island-based mountains on earth. Waipio Valley, with its amazing vegetation, is surrounded by cliffs that reach 2,000 ft. and include 1,200-ft. cascading waterfalls. One can see paniolos (Hawaiian Cowboys) at work at the famous Parker Ranch, the world's largest privately owned cattle ranch. There are many other wonderful attractions. Activities abound, including golfing on world-class courses, ocean swimming, kayaking, sailing, deep sea fishing, hiking, biking and exploring the island, shopping, viewing the historical petroglyphs and heiaus, and much more. Superb restaurants offer international menus.

Program at a Glance

CONGRESS THEME:

Advances in Psychosomatic Medicine Around the World:

Progress in the integration of biological, psychological, and sociocultural factors in health and disease

Types of sessions

Plenary Lectures

Topics of special interest presented by prominent researchers and scholars. See page 4.

Debates

Controversial areas will have one or two debaters on each side followed by discussion. Preliminary topics include: Risks vs. benefits of opioids for chronic pain; the implications of alexithymia in medicine; and models of psychosomatic consultation

Symposia

Sessions are organized around a specific topic. There will be 3-5 speakers plus a discussant. See page 4 for preliminary topics in preparation.

Workshops

These 60-90 minute sessions are designed to promote audience involvement. Ample time is allotted for general discussion

Posters

Posters will be on display throughout the Congress. At designated times, authors will be present to answer questions and discuss their work.

Oral Presentations

Individual papers will be grouped by theme. Time will be allotted for discussion.

Guidelines for Abstract Submission

The 17th World Congress on Psychosomatic Medicine invites submissions of abstracts for consideration by the Scientific Advisory Board. Relevant fields of study are all medical specialties including basic science, animal research, psychology, philosophy and technological advances and discoveries. Early submission is encouraged.

All accepted abstracts will be published in the Abstract/Program Book. It is anticipated that accepted abstracts passing the appropriate level of peer review will be published in The Journal of Psychosomatic Research. Authors must register with the Congress or the abstract will not appear in the final program, on the website or in the abstract book.

Categories of presentation

ORAL AND POSTER SUBMISSIONS

Check preference or either.

Oral presentations are 15 minutes in length

Poster submissions are strongly encouraged. Posters must fit in a space 4 feet (1.2 meters) by 5 feet (1.5 meters)

OVERALL SYMPOSIUM ABSTRACT

This should be prepared by the Symposium Chair. List name of Chair and names of presenters after the title. The Chair may also be a presenter or the discussant.

EXAMPLE: JOB STRAIN AND DEPRESSION

Chair: Smith PJ

Presenters: Gonzales AT, Smith PJ, Cohen Z, Yuan WS

Discussant: Garibaldi G

Symposia are 2 hours 15 minutes in length and should include four or five speakers plus one discussant (optional). If no discussant is chosen, the scientific committee may assign one to the symposium.

An overall symposium abstract must be prepared by the symposium chair. In addition, there must be abstracts for each of the constituent papers, prepared according to the instructions for abstracts.

For hardcopy submissions, the symposium abstract and the abstracts for the individual contributions must be submitted together with a separate form for each author. The online abstract submission process will allow for each author to submit his/her abstract separately by providing reference to the symposium title.

SYMPOSIUM PRESENTER ABSTRACT

List title of symposium and name of Chair in the space provided. No abstract is required for the discussant.

WORKSHOP ABSTRACT

Only one abstract is necessary. List the Chair and 0-4 names of additional presenters after the title.

Workshops are informal sessions 60-90 minutes in length. Audience involvement must be a part of the workshop.

Electronic Abstract Submission

The 17th World Congress website is designed to accept online abstract submissions. We strongly encourage the submission of abstracts online. Go to hawaii residency.org/icpm2003. Complete instructions are contained within this site.

Submission by Postal Mail or Fax

If online submission is not possible, please read the following guidelines thoroughly before preparing your hardcopy abstract.

- Please indicate the topic of presentation by checking the appropriate boxes on the submission form. Add relevant keywords that will help to index the abstract.
- Check preference of category of presentation. Categories are described below.
- All abstracts must be typewritten in English.
- Abstracts may be submitted on the brochure form, or on a photocopy of the form.
- The body of the abstract should be a maximum of 200 words in length.
- Provide a title in capital letters at the top of the abstract, followed by the authors' last name and initials.

EXAMPLE: THE PRESENCE OF DYNORPHIN IN MEDICATED CHRONIC PAIN PATIENTS
Lee KW, Schultz G, Suzuki NH

Submit hard copy by postal mail. If possible, please send a computer disc also. If sending by fax, please also send by postal mail. Send to the following address:
17th World Congress on Psychosomatic Medicine
Queen's Office of CME, Harkness 117
1301 Punchbowl Street, Honolulu, Hawaii 96813, USA
Fax: 1-808-585-5040

Acknowledgement and Notification

Receipt of abstracts will be acknowledged by email, fax, or post. Notification of acceptance or rejection of abstracts will be done by April 15, 2003. Abstracts will not be returned.

Ground Transportation

The Hilton Waikoloa Village is approximately 30 minutes from the Kona Airport. Taxis cost approximately $43. Additionally, there are a variety of shuttle buses that transport delegates to and from the hotel. Approximate cost for one-way shuttle to or from hotel to airport is $40. For large parties, of 10 or more, traveling to the conference, we recommend you contact the American Express Tours and Activities at 808-886-7958 or toll free from the mainland US at 800-424-1059, directly for group rates.

The 17th World Congress on Psychosomatic Medicine has arranged rental car services with Budget and Dollar at a special rate for congress delegates. Contact AEXP or see the Rental Car information above for more information.

Currency

US Dollar ($). Foreign currency may be exchanged at the Congress Hotel.

Weather

Local newspaper weather reports begin with the phrase "Lucky you live Hawaii." August in Hawaii is much the same as the other months. Moderate temperatures range from 75 in the evening to 85 in the day, with cooling ocean breezes and trade winds. Rain is unusual along the Kohala Coast. However, since conference rooms are air conditioned, and evening breezes can be a little cool, it is advised to bring a sweater or light jacket to the sessions. If you plan on stargazing from the summit of Mauna Kea (nearly 14,000 feet), temperatures can drop to near freezing. Snow, however, is unlikely in August. The summit is accessible with a rented 4-wheel drive, or by joining a small tour group.

Dress Code

Casual resort wear. Colorful aloha attire is fashionable. Footwear is required in most restaurants. Jackets for comfort only. Ties are not necessary.

Other Tours, Excursions, and Activities

Many other tours and activities can be arranged prior to your arrival or while you are in Hawaii, through the American Express office at the Hilton Waikoloa Village. A few suggestions include a sunset sail, a snorkeling excursion, deep-sea fishing, surfing lessons, Waipio Valley, horseback riding, kayaking, rafting, and stargazing at the top of Mauna Kea. At the time of printing this brochure, new black sand beaches are being created by spectacular fiery lava flows into the ocean, visible from easily reachable viewing sites. Pre- and post-Congress tours to other islands are quite reasonable and easily arranged through American Express.

Golf

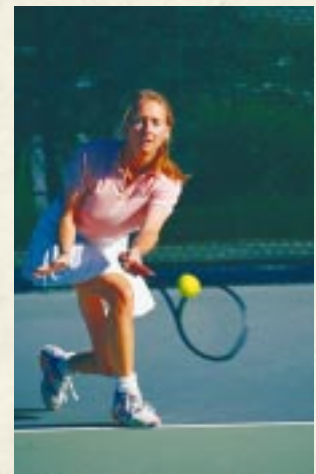

If you enjoy golf, the Hilton Waikoloa Village makes it easy for you. Titleist rental clubs and shoes are readily available, so you don't have to bring yours with you and you can decide at the last minute if you want to play. Be assured the courses are well maintained and beautifully designed with magnificent views.

Physicians Golf Association Worldwide will be presenting a golf tournament package in conjunction with the Congress, including Congress registration, deluxe hotel room, 3 days of tournament golf, over $3000 in prizes, and much more. Visit www.docgolf.com or call 888-757-8131 for information and registration.

Tennis

Meet the tennis playing members of the Congress at a Tennis Round Robin, Sunday, August 24th from 3PM to 5PM. Please see the registration form to receive more information.
