

KIRKWOOD THEATRE GUILD CALL FOR DIRECTORS 2016-17

Prospective Directors:

The Kirkwood Theatre Guild is now accepting resumes for its 2016-17 season. THIS IS NOT A VOLUNTEER POSITION- KTG PAYS DIRECTORS. Please circle the play(s) you are interested in directing:

Steel Magnolias

by Robert Harling

Opens November 4, 2016

The iconic story about a group of bonded southern ladies in a small town beauty parlor. Events draw on their underlying strength and love, alternately hilarious and touching.

Wake Up, Cameron Dobbs

by Steve Peirick

Opens January 20, 2017

Nothing is easy for Cameron. It's his 30th birthday and all he is looking forward to is a quiet dinner with just his brother and his wife. No such luck, his sister-in-law takes the liberty of inviting a blind date and this brother thought that Mom should be included. Lots of laughs and surprises!

Witness for the Prosecution

by Agatha Christie

Opens March 10, 2017

Only the queen of mysteries could have conceived such a suspenseful thriller. A young married man spends many evenings with a rich, older woman. When she is found murdered, the naïve fellow is the chief suspect.

The 25th Annual Putnam Spelling Bee

Opens April 29, 2016

Book by Rachel Sheinkin, Music & Lyrics by William Finn, Conceived by Rebecca Feldman, and Additional Material by Jay Reiss

An eclectic group of six mid-pubescents vie for the spelling championship of a lifetime. A riotous ride including audience participation. Winner of the Tony and the Drama Desk Awards for Best Book.

Please RETURN THIS FORM by April 6th to insure consideration. Please include a current resume with this form. Send to: Kirkwood Theatre Guild, 844 S. Harrison, Kirkwood, MO 63122

Those interested in directing must schedule an interview to be held Sunday April 10th (afternoon) and Monday April 11th (evening) at the KTG Office. You will receive a call to set up your interview. Please be prepared to discuss your qualifications and to present concepts for the play(s) in which you are interested.
