

Preparation and Revision for AS and A2 examinations

Dear Parents/Guardians and Students,

We all know that success in examinations requires good quality preparation and revision. Many teachers are running revision sessions during lunchtimes and after school in the weeks running up to the examinations. We would encourage all students to attend these. Information is provided on the revision notice board in the Sixth Form Centre.

As you will be aware Year 12 study leave runs from Monday 14th May to Friday 25th May inclusive. Year 13 study leave begins on Wednesday 30th May. During study leave students are very welcome to come in and use the facilities for their preparation and revision. All that we ask is that students sign in and out of school in the sixth form centre.

Some teachers are intending to run revision sessions during school hours once study leave has started. In most cases attendance is voluntary however if a teacher considers that it is essential that a student attends the session they can make it compulsory. In this situation teachers will give students and parents advance notice.

For the first time this year we are trialling a system to make the library an exclusive revision zone for Sixth Form. We have initially chosen 8 dates where there are afternoon sessions with large numbers of students in exams. If the feedback from these sessions is positive we will look at rolling out the programme further in the future.
