Please join us for a stimulating and clinically useful educational program, including a tour of the new Djavad Mowafaghian Centre for Brain Health, a translational neuroscience outpatient facility operated jointly by UBC and Vancouver Coastal Health.

The educational sessions will focus on new research findings that are directly applicable to clinical practice, delivered by clinicians in the Mood Disorders Centre.

We will also hold a session that is open to the public, featuring new online and mobile apps to help guide measurement-based care for people with mood disorders.

Registration fees include a light lunch (12:00noon to 12:30pm) and coffee breaks.

We look forward to seeing you there!

Raymond W. Lam, MD, FRCPC

Director, Mood Disorders Centre,
