II. DESCRIPTIONS OF FORMS

Brief descriptions of the forms contained in your U.S. Legal Forms™ Personal Planning Package are found below.

Last Will and Testament – This form details in writing your parent's wishes regarding who is to receive their property at death and who will administer their estate. It also enables your parent to appoint trustees or guardians, if applicable.

Advance Health Care Directive - This Utah Statutory Advance Health Care Directive allows you to express your wishes and desires regarding whether or not your life is prolonged by artificial means. You may also name another person to make health care decisions for you when you cannot make decisions or speak for yourself, donate anatomical gifts, and other options.

General Power of Attorney – This form allows your parent to give a particular person (the agent) the power to manage your parent's assets and financial affairs while your parent is alive. Your parent (the principal) must sign this document while he or she has the required legal capacity to give his or her agent clear and concise instructions. The appointment may be for a fixed period, and your parent can revoke such appointment at any time providing he or she still has the legal capacity to do so. A power of attorney ceases when your parent dies. The executor named in your parent's will then takes over the responsibilities of your parent's estate.

Estate Planning Questionnaire and Worksheet – This form is used to assist attorneys, estate planners, and other professionals with details regarding your parent's home and other property he or she owns and additional assets including investments, life insurance policies, individual retirement accounts and so forth so that they can best recommend a course of action regarding your parent's estate.

Financial Statement for an Individual – This form, a statement of an individual's assets and liabilities, is used to account for your parent's current financial status. It contains sections that request identification of the following: current assets, current liabilities, deferred assets, and net worth.

Personal Property Inventory – This form is used to keep accurate records of your parent's possessions. It provides a central place for an individual or family to itemize all the personal property that is owned and kept in a home. This form is beneficial for keeping accurate records for insurance companies or estate planners.

Personal Planning Information and Document Inventory Worksheets – This form is used to retain important information on file relevant to your parent's life such as names of relatives, their contact information, your parent's medical information, financial asset inventory, the location of your parent's important legal documents and more.

Agreement for Home Health Care by a Nursing Service – This form is used by your parent to enter into an agreement with a nursing service if your parent is ill, elderly or disabled. Your parent must be competent to sign such an agreement. In this agreement, your parent waives damages for simple negligence of a nursing service, but not gross negligence or misconduct that is intentional or criminal in nature.

III. LEGAL DOCUMENT STORAGE

Once you prepare legal documents and forms in your U.S. Legal Forms[™] Personal Planning Package, it is highly recommended that you keep forms together. An optional USLegal Life Documents Organizer – small or large size is available for purchase from www.uslegalforms.com to help store your legal documents.

Legal documents should also be kept in a very secure place such as a bank safe deposit box or personal home safe. You may wish to tell your attorney or a family member about the location of your Legal Life Documents Package in the event you are unable to communicate it to them when needed.

IV. TIPS ON COMPLETING THE FORMS

The form(s) in this packet may contain "form fields" created using Microsoft Word or Adobe Acrobat (".pdf" format). "Form fields" facilitate completion of the forms using your computer. They do not limit your ability to print the form "in blank" and complete with a typewriter or by hand.

It is also helpful to be able to see the location of the form fields. Go to the View menu, click on Toolbars, and then select Forms. This will open the Forms toolbar. Look for the button on the Forms toolbar that resembles a shaded letter "a". Click this button and the form fields will be visible.

By clicking on the appropriate form field, you will be able to enter the needed information. In some instances, the form field and the line will disappear after information is entered. In other cases, it will not. The form was created to function in this manner.
