CGL's Competencies:

CGL's Competency Framework articulates underlying characteristics that all staff are required to demonstrate and can be used for identifying strengths, development opportunities and performance management.

There are 5 main skills-based competencies and a set of behavioural competencies that underpin them:

- Protecting People
- Ways of Working
- Team and partnership Working
- Empowering Service Users
- Behaviours and values

The CGL Skills- based competencies reflect the requirements of the National Occupational Standards (NOS) that form the mandatory units of the Level 3 Diploma in Health and Social Care

Newly appointed staff who do not hold the Care Certificate will be expected to complete the CGL Induction Modules, within a specific time frame from their start date. Newly appointed staff who hold the Care Certificate will be expected to complete the CGL 3 Mandatory Induction Modules.

All CGL Induction Modules are available for staff to use to update, refresh and review their competence, and are available from the Learning and Development Team.

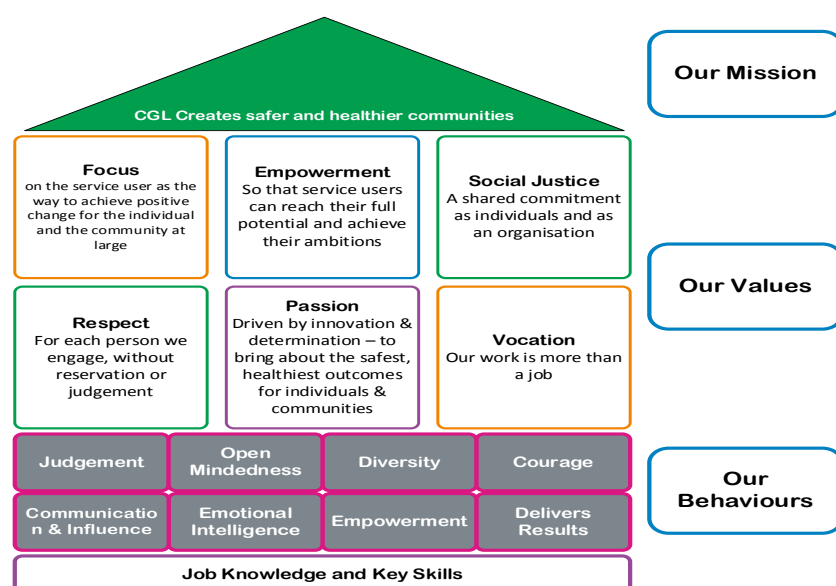

The CGL Induction Modules are referenced to the Care Certificate Standards

The Care Certificate was developed, as part of the Cavendish Review, jointly by Skills for Care, Health Education England and Skills for Health. It:

- applies across health and social care;
- links to National Occupational Standards and units in qualifications;
- covers what is required to be caring, giving workers a good basis from which they can further develop their knowledge and skills.

More information on the Care Certificate is available on the Skills for Care Website.
