

ECHOES OF WAR

Litigating Combat Veterans' Mental Impairment Issues in Criminal Court

Includes Written Materials & PowerPoints

CONTENTS

This DVD program provides an overview of the unique problems facing veterans with service-related disorders who are arrested and charged in the criminal justice system and how attorneys can effectively defend these veterans. Mr. Hunter explores the history of PTSD and its ties to criminal behavior. He provides insight on how a criminal charge and certain outcomes can serve as an opportunity to aid troubled veterans and get them help while enhancing public safety.

Brockton D. Hunter (Minneapolis, MN)

Brock Hunter is a criminal defense attorney who handles all types of criminal cases in state and federal courts. Brock has served as the President and Legislative Chair for the Minnesota Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (MACDL) and received its Special Achievement Award in 2009. Brock also received the 2011 Professional Excellence Award, the Minnesota State Bar Association's "most prestigious award, in recognition of outstanding efforts to advance the legal profession and the administration of justice." Brock has been selected by his peers as a "Rising Star" (2006 – 2009) and a "Superlawyer" (2011 – 2014). Brock is also a former U.S. Army Recon Scout who focuses his practice on defending psychologically injured veterans in the criminal courts and advocating for reforms in the way the justice system deals with them. Brock helped draft and lead passage of Minnesota's Veterans Sentencing Mitigation Act, Minn. Stat. 609.115, Subd. 10., which was subsequently cited in Porter v. McCollum, 130 S. Ct. 447, at 455, n.9 (2009), the landmark decision that was the first U.S. Supreme Court opinion to address combat trauma in criminal sentencing. Brock has since helped pass similar veteran sentencing legislation in other states, has briefed the Obama Presidential Transition Team, and has spoken to leadership of the Department of Defense and the Department of Veterans Affairs on more effective ways to address troubled veterans who commit crimes. Brock has also trained thousands of attorneys, judges, law enforcement officers, and mental health professionals across the country on these issues. Brock is the lead editor and co-author of the just-released book The Attorney's Guide to Defending Veterans in Criminal Court. He is also the co-founder and President of the Veterans Defense Project — a nonprofit dedicated to educating and advocating for veterans in the justice system.
