

Scottsdale Charros
Future Teacher
Scholarship

Dear Scholarship Applicant,

Since 1999, The Charro Foundation has been pleased to award in-state scholarships to outstanding Scottsdale Unified School District high school seniors who plan to pursue a career in teaching. The Charros know how very important teachers are to the community and we are glad that you have an interest in becoming an educator. The scholarship in the amount of $20,000 will be awarded at $5,000 per academic year, beginning in 2017-2018. All scholarship recipients must be admitted to a College of Education at one of the three state universities (ASU, U of A or NAU) and meet all of the qualifications outlined in The Charro Foundation Future Teacher Scholarship application. Applications are due February 6, 2017.

Scholarship recipients will be notified in February after the application review and assessment process is complete. Recipients will be honored at our annual Outstanding Students & Educators Awards Banquet on April 28, 2017 and funds will be awarded in July 2017.

If you have any questions, we encourage you to discuss the scholarship and application requirements with your high school guidance counselor.

Once again, we are delighted in your interest in becoming a teacher and look forward to reviewing your application.

Sincerely,

Chris Rivera
2016-2017 Scholarship Chairman
Scottsdale Charros

Future Teacher Scholarship

The Future Teacher Scholarship was established by The Charro Foundation as a means to encourage and support high school seniors in the Scottsdale Unified School District who want to pursue a career as a teacher. The $5,000 scholarships will be awarded to students who can demonstrate outstanding achievement in academic activities, as well as non-academic activities, during their high school years. The scholarship is renewable annually for up to three additional years (awarding $20,000 total per scholarship) as long as the student continues to meet criteria each academic year.)

Questions and Answers About the Future Teacher Scholarship

Q. What qualifications must I meet to apply for the scholarship?

A. You must be a U. S. citizen and legal resident of the State of Arizona, as well as a high school senior in the Scottsdale Unified School District. You must also have no less than a 3.0 cumulative grade point average in your high school academic subjects. You also must submit the results of your SAT or the ACT. The minimum desired scores to apply for the Future Teacher Scholarship are an SAT of 1040 or an ACT of 22.

Q. Is financial need a factor?

A. Yes. Outstanding merit and financial need are the principle factors.

Q. What does the award provide?

A. The Future Teacher Scholarship recipient receives a lump-sum check in the amount of $5,000 per academic year, which may be used for the following:

- Tuition and fees at one of the three Arizona state universities (ASU, U of A or NAU).
- Room and board expenses.
- The cost of books and educational supplies required for a course of study.
- Miscellaneous living and school expenses, such as parking fees, technology, etc.

Q. What do I have to do each year to keep the scholarship?

A. At the end of each academic year, you must submit to The Charro Foundation evidence of performance in the form of a written progress report on courses taken, grades earned, participation in campus community activities and other pertinent experiences. Among the renewal criteria required is proof of a 3.0 overall grade point average at the end of the year and you must maintain full-time student status each semester. If your accomplishments are found to be satisfactory, the scholarship is renewed for an additional academic year.

If your course of study is interrupted for religious missions or extenuating personal circumstances, the scholarship support may be deferred up to two years.

Future Teacher Scholarship

Q. Can I transfer between universities?

A. Yes, you may transfer from one Arizona state university to another during or between academic years within university requirements. The scholarship cannot be transferred to any college or university, other than the three state universities (ASU, U of A or NAU).

Q. Can I change my major?

A. No, you must enroll in and maintain enrollment as an education major. A major in education is a requirement of the scholarship and a change in major will result in disqualification from the scholarship.

About the Scottsdale Charros and The Charro Foundation

Formed in 1961, the Scottsdale Charros are an all-volunteer group of business and civic leaders dedicated to supporting the Scottsdale community. With a history of innovative, year-round fundraising the Charros have leveraged spring training baseball as a chief economic driver for Scottsdale. Each year, the Scottsdale Charros award education grants to schools in the Scottsdale Unified School District, bachelor's in education scholarships to SUSD seniors, a scholarship to Scottsdale Community College, master's in education fellowships to SUSD working teachers, and funds for Project Graduation events in the SUSD. In 2014, the Charros awarded more than $750,000 through scholarship programs, donations and grants to nonprofits and schools who serve the greater Scottsdale area.

APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

Please review the list of credentials you must file to be considered for The Charro Foundation Future Teacher Scholarship. You are responsible for ensuring your credentials are complete; the Foundation cannot assume this responsibility. Please promptly submit the Guidance Counselor Report form to your guidance counselor and Teacher Recommendation form to your teacher. All completed forms should be mailed or delivered to the Scottsdale Charro office.

The scholarship is awarded only in support of study at a fully accredited Arizona state university (ASU, U of A or NAU). The process of admission to an Arizona university is separate from the application for The Charro Foundation Future Teacher Scholarship. It is strongly suggested that you visit the campus and apply to the Arizona university of your choice now. You must have applied and been accepted for admission to one of the three Arizona universities before you can officially receive The Charro Foundation scholarship award.

Applicants should meet the following criteria:

- Be a U.S. citizen, a legal resident of Arizona for at least two consecutive years, and be graduated from a Scottsdale Unified School District high school by June, 2017.

- Attain a cumulative grade-point average of no less than 3.0 in high school academic subjects.

- Provide evidence of leadership experience and significant interest in one or more extracurricular and community activities.

- Submit the results of your SAT or the ACT. The desired scores to apply for the Future Teacher Scholarship are, at minimum, an SAT of 1040 or an ACT of 22.

Your application will consist of the following elements:

- Form 1, Part A -- Student Information, must be signed by the student and a parent or legal guardian.

- Form 1, Part A -- Student Scholarship information

- Form 1, Part A -- Student Essay, 500 words addressing the following: "Why I want to be an Educator, and how this scholarship assistance will help me achieve my goal."

- Form 1, Part B -- Student Information, provides an opportunity to list your accomplishments and tells the selection committee about your interests.

- Form 2 -- Guidance Counselor Report, should be given to your school guidance counselor. A transcript of course work, your class rank and grade-point average, and scores on standardized achievement tests are required as part of this submission.

- Form 3 -- Teacher Recommendation must be completed by one of your high school teachers.

Materials submitted to The Charro Foundation in support of your scholarship application are used by the Foundation's staff with responsibility for the scholarship program and members of the scholarship selection committee, and become the property of The Charro Foundation. The Foundation does not return materials to the applicant, nor provide access to them by applicants or parents.

SELECTION PROCESS

An initial review of applications will be made by the Scottsdale Charros and staff. Completed and qualified applications will then be assessed by a review panel on the basis of the student's overall record of achievements, activities, and financial need; together with an appraisal of the qualities of intellect and character by student-selected references. Candidates will be considered without consideration of race, gender, color, religion, physical handicap, age and national origin.

Scholarship recipients will be notified in January. All of the required credentials must be postmarked or delivered to The Charro Foundation office (10533 E. Lakeview Drive, Scottsdale, AZ 85258) by February 6, 2017.

SELECTION CRITERIA

Essential criteria are considered in selecting Future Teacher Scholarship recipients: 1) academic assessment, 2) essay, 3) personal achievement, 4) financial need, 5) acceptance at a College of Education at ASU, U of A or NAU.

Academic Assessment: A student's high school academic record -- grades, types of courses taken, grade trends -- towers above all other factors in the application review process.

In assessing academic performance, we ask ourselves one overriding question: "How well has this student utilized the academic resources available in the school and community." We examine the high school transcript, paying close attention to the scope and rigor of the academic program and review the composite score received on standardized achievement/ aptitude tests, either SAT or ACT.

In considering test scores, we use the highest score an applicant has received on any given test regardless of the year the test was taken.

Essay: Please submit a unique, typed, 500-word essay on the subject of "Why I want to be an Educator, and how this scholarship assistance will help me achieve my goal." Be sure to include your decision-making process as well as your goals. High consideration is given to this essay when choosing a scholarship recipient.

Personal Achievement: In

we ask for a recommendation from one of your classroom teachers. You will want to select a teacher who best knows your performance and capabilities and can effectively and fairly assess your potential as a scholar. We also consider the list of school and community experiences you submit as part of your application. We look for sustained interest as well as diversity. It is insufficient to "load up" on school organizations in the senior year, for example. The key for us is persistence, and an indication from you as to which activities are most meaningful.

For example, many scholars have well-developed musical talent or other artistic skills, though they may not aspire to be professional musicians or artists. We value knowing of this interest and the level of mastery. Attainment in athletics is similarly valued.

We also look for evidence of leadership in your election or appointment to important school offices, school and community awards received, etc. Initiatives in organizing church or community volunteer projects are also important to us.

Some students have carried a demanding academic load as well as held a part-time job through school. In these instances, we like to learn why the student chose to work and how these demands on time are balanced.

Financial Need: While not an need is a principle factor in the selection criteria. It is our intent that these scholarships assist in easing the financial burden of higher education, thereby allowing each student a more enriched educational experience. As expected however, each applicant will be evaluated on the merits of their achievements, as it is our goal to recognize and reward only the finest students.

Acceptance to a College of Education at ASU, U of A or NAU:

The process of admission to an Arizona university is separate and independent from the application for The Charro Foundation Future Teacher Scholarship.

Investigate the educational opportunities available to you in Arizona as soon as possible so that, should you be chosen as a scholarship recipient, you are certain that an Arizona university education is right for you. Arizona's universities have much to offer and you will want to explore their resources for yourself.
