1. Choose one of the careers you have interest in, along with the city you would like to live in, and find your average annual salary. Use www.salary.com or <http://www.bls.gov> as your source for this information.

For Salary.Com: From the home page, select the 'Salary' tab at the top left, and select 'US Salary Wizard'. Search by your chosen job and your city. If your job is not found, you will see the option to browse by jobs. Use the median salary.

For BLS.gov: From the home page, search for your career using the search box at the top right. Select a career from the list presented after searching. Use the national estimates for your career and find the annual median salary for the 25th percentile.
