

A Walmart Distribution Center in Merced isn't just about creating 1,200 quality jobs...

To learn how you can bring jobs to Merced, visit
www.MercedCAN.com

What Walmart Means for Merced

Job Opportunities:

At a time of high unemployment, the project could mean approximately 1,200 quality jobs at full build out, and over 600 temporary construction jobs.

Competitive Pay:

The average pay for full-time hourly associates at our current operating California Distribution Centers is over $17.50 per hour. Medical and dental benefits, 401(k), stock ownership, profit sharing, life insurance, disability insurance and other benefits are offered to both full- and part-time associates.

Benefits to Local Economy:

Over the past four years, Walmart has purchased over $330 million from Merced County farmers and suppliers, supporting over 14,000 jobs.

Energy Efficient Facility:

Walmart's newest distribution centers are among the industry's most energy efficient facilities, built with environmentally friendly construction materials.

Green Truck Fleet:

Truck fleet has been certified by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency as a "Superior Environmental Performer" for being among the nation's most elite, clean and green fleets.

Superior Infrastructure:

The facility will be served by the 4-lane Campus Parkway currently under construction, providing easy and efficient truck access to the facility, bypassing residential neighborhoods.

Charitable Donations:

Last year, your Merced Walmart store along with the Walmart Foundation raised and contributed over $200,000 to local causes and non-profit organizations.

Proposed design for your new Walmart Distribution Center
subject to the approval of the City of Merced

...it's about serving the community with an environmentally friendly truck fleet.