

Thank you for asking us to help review your options regarding your financial issues. My name is Diane L. Drain. Since 1985 I have been a lawyer, law professor, mentor to other lawyers and counselor. As such I am committed to educating you about financial issues you are facing, advising you about the best options available and helping you plan for a peaceful future. I know you are scared right now, but we are here to do our best to help you through this very difficult time. Also you should be aware that by filling out this form you are not committing to file bankruptcy at any time, or even to use our office if you need to file bankruptcy. This process is designed to educate you.

I realize this is a lengthy questionnaire. Please understand that I take my obligation to you very seriously. Asking for advice about bankruptcy is similar to asking your doctor to diagnose a serious medical problem. A good doctor will never give you advice without first obtaining a battery of tests: blood, x-rays, nerve conduction, MRI, etc. The following information is my battery of tests. This information is absolutely necessary for any good bankruptcy lawyer to offer competent advice. I want to get you out of trouble, not put you into more trouble. You will only work directly with me or Jay, my paralegal. We never farm any work out to others. You are far too important for that.

The following questions will help us understand your unique situation; which will assist me in giving you good advice about your options. These options could be a workout or, if absolutely necessary, a bankruptcy. If bankruptcy is appropriate, then we will discuss:

- What type of bankruptcy is best in order for you to accomplish what you need or want.
- The best time for filing a bankruptcy.
- How protect your assets and avoid unnecessary claims against you or your family.
- How to deal with your creditors before, during and after bankruptcy.
- What not to do with your bank account and other assets.
- Other steps you need to take before filing a bankruptcy.

We know that you are anxious to talk to me, therefore please be thorough in completing this form. That way we can call you without delay. Pay particular attention to filling out the means test. Once Jay receives your form he will do a little work and then I will call you to schedule your free 30-minute telephonic appointment. If you are married both you and your spouse will need to be on the phone for this discussion. Again, this is all free.

During the telephonic discussion I will review each page of this form, discuss the Arizona exemptions (if applicable, depending on where you lived in the last 2 years) and answer your questions. It is a good idea to print a copy of the Arizona exemptions for your reference during the telephone conference. This list is located at the same place you found this questionnaire. It is also a good idea to make a list of your questions before the meeting. That way you can make certain that all your questions were answered. At the end of the phone call I will give you a quote for my services based on the information in this form and your needs or wants. The quote is limited to the circumstances you disclose and is valid for 3 months following the telephonic discussion.

Make sure you (and your spouse, if married) watch the 9 short videos about the basics of bankruptcy before sending us this form. Send this form by e-mail (jay@dianedrain.com), fax (602-249-1969) or mail: One East Camelback, Suite 550, Phoenix, Arizona 85012. Please use black ink or type the answers so that it is easy to read.

INCOME AND MEAN'S TEST ANALYSIS

NOTES: This test comes from the 2005 changes to the law. Neither you nor I like it, but it is the law. Please read the directions below because this is the most complicated area we will be discussing, but it is the most important. I cannot give you good advice unless you provide us accurate information.

Call if you have any questions. Thanks for your understanding and patience.

Yes No Are you (or your spouse) a disabled vet?

Yes No Are you (or your spouse) currently or within the last 18 months on active duty or performing duties for homeland security?

- All income must be separated by employers and the individual receiving the income.
- All income must be GROSS (before taxes and other deductions).
 - List all income in the month actually received, not the month it was earned or payable.
 - Make sure to include tips and bonuses in the month they were received.
 - List as income any amounts paid by someone else for your expenses, such as car, house, food, utilities, etc. For instance, include as income any amount that Dad pays for your child's day care.
 - If your income is commission-based, then list the exact amount earned in the month it was received.
 - Business income:
 - If earned as a sole proprietor - list all income in the month received.
 - If you are on salary with your LLC, S or C Corporation - include all income you actually received from the business, in the month it was paid to you by the business.
 - Include retirement income
 - Include disability income ; BUT MAKE SURE TO IDENTIFY IF IT IS SOCIAL SECURITY DISABILITY
 - Include Social Security, BUT MAKE SURE TO IDENTIFY THAT IT IS SOCIAL SECURITY
 - Include all monies received from any source, including money from cashing in retirement accounts, sales of large items, tax refunds, etc. Identify the source.
 - RENTS: include money from rents (after deducting amount paid for mortgage/HOA/utilities, etc).
 - If someone is living with you - include their net income even if they never give it to you. To calculate net income deduct their own expenses such as: taxes, insurance, expenses related to vehicles, medical, credit cards, student loans, other housing, business debts, etc.
 - Include all monies regularly received from gifts or loans from friends or relatives.
- The income must be for a full month; therefore use the last full 6 months, do not include the current month.
- It is better to list everything and then we can remove what does not apply to your situation.

The following chart is an example of how to fill out the means test form: Here is an example of a couple filing out this form. John and Mary are filling out this form on the 23rd of the June. They must list gross income received over the last full six months. They have a renter and their mother has been giving them $200.00 a month for the last 5 months.

NOW IT IS YOUR TURN. DO YOUR BEST, BUT PLEASE CALL IF YOU HAVE ANY QUESTIONS:

Name	Employer/Other

NOW STOP. Finish the following page only if your average gross income (income before subtracting taxes and other deductions) exceeds the amount permitted for your family size. Include the income for everyone who lives in your home. Prepare an explanation if your family has unusual income. Do not include anyone's social security.

To determine the amount allowed for your family use the spreadsheet at our web site: CLICK HERE - http://www.dianedrain.com/bankruptcy-law/bankruptcy-case-law/case-law-means-test-statement-of-current-monthly-income/. Please note that this amount is only for Arizona citizens and these amounts change at least twice a year.

Instructions for the following questions:

- 1) These expenses are monthly, not annual and not per pay check
- 2) These questions pertain NOT to what you actually paid or received over the last six months. Instead, these expenses are those that you will expend or should expend in the future (e.g.: what is the correct amount you should be deducting from your paycheck(s). Or, if you want but do not have life insurance, disability insurance, or health savings plan, etc.
- 3) Include all expenses, those deducted from your paychecks AND those that you pay directly in cash or by check.

How to calculate monthly expenses:

- If your income fluctuates then add all taxes for the 6 months above, including anticipated taxes on 1099 income, and divide by 6.
- If you are paid once a week then multiply the taxes from one paycheck by 52 and divide by 12 to come up with your true monthly taxes.
- If you are paid every two weeks then multiply the taxes from one paycheck by 26 and divide by 12 to come up with your true monthly taxes.

- 1) Monthly average taxes (federal, state, FICA, social security, Medicare, self-employment, etc). If you are married add both figures together as one number $
- 2) Monthly mandatory payroll deductions (employer forces you to pay: e.g. union dues, retirement) $
- 3) Monthly life insurance - monthly premium: $
- 4) Monthly Court ordered payments (such as child support/alimony that you pay) $
- 5) Monthly education expenses for employment or physically/mentally challenged child $
- 6) Monthly Childcare costs $
- 7) Monthly health insurance (include dental and all other insurance) $
- 8) Monthly health care such as co-pays, pharmacy, eye-glasses, dental, etc (out-of-pocket, not paid by insurance) $
- 9) Monthly disability Insurance $
- 10) Monthly health Savings account (flex accounts) $
- 11) Monthly expenses for the care of elderly, chronically ill or disabled member of your household who cannot pay their own expenses: $
- 12) Monthly protection against family violence $
- 13) Monthly education expenses for children under 18 $
- 14) Monthly charitable contributions $
- 15) Monthly additional business expenses not reimbursed by your employer(s) $
- 16) Monthly amount withheld to repay loans from retirement accounts $

UNITED STATES BANKRUPTCY COURT

NOTICE TO INDIVIDUAL CONSUMER DEBTOR UNDER § 342(b) OF THE BANKRUPTCY CODE

In accordance with § 342(b) of the Bankruptcy Code, this notice: (1) describes briefly the services available from credit counseling services; (2) describes briefly the purposes, benefits and costs of the four types of bankruptcy proceedings you may commence; and (3) informs you about bankruptcy crimes and notifies you that the Attorney General may examine all information you supply in connection with a bankruptcy case. You are cautioned that bankruptcy law is complicated and not easily described. Thus, you may wish to seek the advice of an attorney to learn of your rights and responsibilities should you decide to file a petition. Court employees cannot give you legal advice.

Chapter 13: Repayment of All or Part of the Debts of an Individual with Regular Income

1. Chapter 13 is designed for individuals with regular income who would like to pay all or part of their debts in installments over a period of time. You are only eligible for chapter 13 if your debts do not exceed certain dollar amounts set forth in the Bankruptcy Code.

1. Services Available from Credit Counseling Agencies

With limited exceptions, § 109(h) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that all individual debtors who file for bankruptcy relief on or after October 17, 2005, receive a briefing that outlines the available opportunities for credit counseling and provides assistance in performing a budget analysis. The briefing must be given within 180 days before the bankruptcy filing. The briefing may be provided individually or in a group (including briefings conducted by telephone or on the Internet) and must be provided by a nonprofit budget and credit counseling agency approved by the United States trustee or bankruptcy administrator. The clerk of the bankruptcy court has a list that you may consult of the approved budget and credit counseling agencies.

In addition, after filing a bankruptcy case, an individual debtor generally must complete a financial management instructional course before he or she can receive a discharge. The clerk also has a list of approved financial management instructional courses.

2. The Four Chapters of the Bankruptcy Code Available to Individual Consumer Debtors

Chapter 7: Liquidation

1. Chapter 7 is designed for debtors in financial difficulty who do not have the ability to pay their existing debts. Debtors whose debts are primarily consumer debts are subject to a “means test” designed to determine whether the case should be permitted to proceed under chapter 7. If your income is greater than the median income for your state of residence and family size, in some cases, creditors have the right to file a motion requesting that the court dismiss your case under § 707(b) of the Code. It is up to the court to decide whether the case should be dismissed.
2. Under chapter 7, you may claim certain of your property as exempt under governing law. A trustee may have the right to take possession of and sell the remaining property that is not exempt and use the sale proceeds to pay your creditors.
3. The purpose of filing a chapter 7 case is to obtain a discharge of your existing debts. If, however, you are found to have committed certain kinds of improper conduct described in the Bankruptcy Code, the court may deny your discharge and, if it does, the purpose for which you filed the bankruptcy petition will be defeated.
4. Even if you receive a general discharge, some particular debts are not discharged under the law. Therefore, you may still be responsible for most taxes and student loans; debts incurred to pay non-dischargeable taxes; domestic support and property settlement obligations; most fines, penalties, forfeitures, and criminal restitution obligations; certain debts which are not properly listed in your bankruptcy papers; and debts for death or personal injury caused by operating a motor vehicle, vessel, or aircraft while intoxicated from alcohol or drugs. Also, if a creditor can prove that a debt arose from fraud, breach of fiduciary duty, or theft, or from a willful and malicious injury, the bankruptcy court may determine that the debt is not discharged.

Chapter 13: Repayment of All or Part of the Debts of an Individual with Regular Income

1. Chapter 13 is designed for individuals with regular income who would like to pay all or part of their debts in installments over a period of time. You are only eligible for chapter 13 if your debts do not exceed certain dollar amounts set forth in the Bankruptcy Code.
2. Under chapter 13, you must file with the court a plan to repay your creditors all or part of the money that you owe them, using your future earnings. The period allowed by the court to repay your debts may be three years or five years, depending upon your income and other factors. The court must approve your plan before it can take effect.
3. After completing the payments under your plan, your debts are generally discharged except for domestic support obligations; most student loans; certain taxes; most criminal fines and restitution obligations; certain debts which are not properly listed in your bankruptcy papers; certain debts for acts that caused death or personal injury; and certain long term secured obligations.

Chapter 11: Reorganization

Chapter 11 is designed for the reorganization of a business but is also available to consumer debtors. Its provisions are quite complicated, and any decision by an individual to file a chapter 11 petition should be reviewed with an attorney.

Chapter 12: Family Farmer or Fisherman

Chapter 12 is designed to permit family farmers and fishermen to repay their debts over a period of time from future earnings and is similar to chapter 13. The eligibility requirements are restrictive, limiting its use to those whose income arises primarily from a family-owned farm or commercial fishing operation.

3. Bankruptcy Crimes and Availability of Bankruptcy Papers to Law Enforcement Officials

A person who knowingly and fraudulently conceals assets or makes a false oath or statement under penalty of perjury, either orally or in writing, in connection with a bankruptcy case is subject to a fine, imprisonment, or both. All information supplied by a debtor in connection with a bankruptcy case is subject to examination by the Attorney General acting through the Office of the United States Trustee, the Office of the United States Attorney, and other components and employees of the Department of Justice.

WARNING: Section 521(a)(1) of the Bankruptcy Code requires that you promptly file detailed information regarding your creditors, assets, liabilities, income, expenses and general financial condition. Your bankruptcy case may be dismissed if this information is not filed with the court within the time deadlines set by the Bankruptcy Code, the Bankruptcy Rules, and the local rules of the court.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BANKRUPTCY ASSISTANCE SERVICES FROM AN ATTORNEY

If you decide to seek bankruptcy relief, you can represent yourself, hire a qualified bankruptcy attorney, or you are able to answer all questions related to bankruptcy – hire a bankruptcy petition preparer that is not an attorney. Under Arizona law the Arizona Supreme Court must license all Bankruptcy Petition Preparer and they may not give any legal advice, including explaining most of the terms contained in the bankruptcy forms. The law requires that any Attorney or Bankruptcy Petition Preparer give you a written contract specifying the work to be done and the fees to be charged.

Before filing any bankruptcy case you and your attorney should analyze your eligibility for different forms of relief available under the bankruptcy code and which type of bankruptcy relief is most beneficial for you. Be sure you understand that relief you can obtain and its limitations. To file a bankruptcy case, documents called a Petition, Schedules, and Statement of Financial Affairs, as well as in some cases a Statement of Intention, must be prepared correctly and filed with the bankruptcy Court. You will have to pay a filing fee to the court. Within a few weeks after your case is filed with the Court you will be required to attend a meeting of creditors where the Trustee assigned to your case will swear you to tell the truth and ask you a few questions. Creditors, should they be present, can also ask questions. In most cases no creditors are ever present.

If you choose a chapter 7 case, you may be asked by a creditor who has a lien on your car, computer, appliances or furniture to reaffirm a debt. You should first obtain legal counsel before making any decision related to reaffirming any debt. A creditor is not permitted to coerce or bully you into signing a reaffirmation agreement.

If you choose to file a chapter 13 in which you repay your creditors what you can afford over 3 to 5 years, you may also want help with preparing your chapter 13 plan and with the confirmation hearing on your plan. A chapter 13 case can be used to pay arrears on your home, back taxes, child support, or your car. Normally you will also need legal assistance in planning for a successful chapter 13 filing and the confirmation process, which is part of every chapter 13 case. It is very rare for anyone to successfully complete a chapter 13 filing without being represented by an attorney.

If you select another type of relief under the Bankruptcy Code other than chapter 7 or 13, you will want to find out what should be done from an attorney familiar with that type of relief.

Your bankruptcy case may also involve litigation. This is usually rare in a chapter 7 case. You can represent yourself - but it is a complicated process and one that you will rarely succeed in without legal counsel. Only an attorney can give you legal advice.
