

2025 Envisioning the Future of Library Services: The Viewpoint from Minnesota Libraries.

Friday, February 15, 2013

9:30 a.m. to Noon

Elmhurst Public Library, 125 South Prospect Avenue, Elmhurst, IL 60126

The Minnesota Library Futures Initiative (MNLFI) has been designed to be a focused conversation that addresses how libraries can prepare for changes occurring in the State of Minnesota now and in the future. To engage the library community in this conversation, a Futures Group of twenty-four participants from all types of libraries across the state were selected by the MNLFI Steering Committee through an open selective application process. After a year of research and deliberation, the MNLFI group has taken its findings on the road to engage the Minnesota library community in a dialogue about future-related challenges. They now bring their findings to Northern Illinois. This dialogue is your opportunity to shape the future.

Featuring the following Speakers Minnesota Futurist Initiative Group Steering Committee:

Jake Odland, Head Librarian, Olivia, Renville and Fairfax Public Libraries

Jenny Turner, Reference/Instruction Librarian, Minnesota State University Mankato
