Plan on attending the CUTC Poster Session, or better still, submit a poster!

For more information please go to www.corntechconf.org or email Sandra Wright at events@ncga.com.

Sponsorship Program

The sponsorship program is an exceptional promotional vehicle for leaders and supporters of the corn processing and ethanol industry. It provides an opportunity to demonstrate your commitment to corn as the leading agricultural commodity.

The 2014 CUTC invites interested companies, agencies and organizations to participate in these sponsorship opportunities. Sponsorships provide enhanced conference programming, registration fee waivers and recognition at the hosted event.

Four levels of sponsorship are available – Platinum, Gold, Silver and Bronze – each with different levels of recognition. To learn more about sponsorship benefits, please go to www.corntechconf.org for more details.

Poster Session

The 2014 CUTC Poster Session will feature posters on enzymatic technology, advanced biofuels, new uses for starch and aflatoxin/mycotoxin research to name a few.

To support and to encourage new researchers, the National Corn Growers Association (NCGA) is pleased to present the Gary Lamie Graduate Student Poster Competition. Posters will be judged throughout the conference by a committee composed of personnel from various corn processing industries, academics and government scientists. Awards will be made to the top three student presenters.

The poster session provides researchers a chance to interact with peers and exchange ideas. It also offers the opportunity to showcase your research to a broad range of the corn industry—from producers to end users. Additionally, there are a number of representatives of organizations that fund research at the conference.
