SALES AND EXCHANGES WORKSHEET

Provide information about sales of stock, real estate, or other property, along with Forms 1099-B, 1099-S, or other supporting statements

Description of property	Purchase date	Cost/Basis	Sell Date	Sale price
		$		$
		$		$
		$		$

Notes:

- When stock is sold, you will usually receive Form 1099-B, Proceeds from Broker and Barter Exchange Transactions, reporting the proceeds of the sale. However, your statement will not always provide the cost (basis) information necessary to compute the gain or loss. If the statement does not contain the cost/basis information, you must provide it. You may need to contact your broker for questions about cost/basis of your stock accounts.
- Often, "transfers" of stock or mutual funds within a brokerage account are actually sales of one type of stock or fund and purchases of another. Even if you did not receive any cash from the transaction, you may have a taxable gain or loss.
- If your stock dividends are automatically reinvested, the dividends are taxable even though you did not receive any cash. The transaction is treated as if you had received cash and purchased additional stock. When the stock is sold, the amount reinvested over the years is taken into account. You may need to contact your broker for questions about the amount of reinvested dividends.
- If you sold property other than stock, your taxable gain or loss is determined by your basis. The basis is usually the original purchase price plus the cost of any improvements. The cost of repairs and maintenance are not taken into account for determining basis.
