LISTING of Items included in the next 17 pages. All are Wills unless otherwise stated. They are not necessarily of Copes in our Branch - or family even - as I haven't been able to prove links with any except those starred below. They are nearly all of the ones available in the Gloucester & Bristol Records Offices.

JOHN COPE of DYRHAM, GLOS. – 1549.

In The name of God Amen etc. the 20th day of May in the year of our Lord God 1549, I John Cope of the Parish of Dyrham within the Diocese of Gloucester, being whole of mind and sick in body make my Testament and Last Will in manner and form following:

First: I bequeath my soul to Almighty God and my body to be buried in the Churchyard of Dyrham aforesaid.

Also I bequeath to my five daughters, that is to say to Joan, Margaret, Agnes, Isabel, and Christian to every one of them, one cow, to be delivered unto them after the death of Agnes Cope, my Wife and their Mother.

Also I bequeath to John my son a plough string, my gretteste panne and 10 sheep.

Also to every one interlined of my childers childer, one sheep. (Presumably Grandchildren)

Also to the poore mens boxe 4d.

Also I will that after the decease of Agnes, my wife, that my 2 greatest crokes and all my plough harness shall remain to William, my son.

Also I bequeath to my servant Joan Steven, one sheep.

Also to every one of my god children, I bequeath 4d.

Also I will that Agnes Cope, my wife, and William Cope, my son, shall be my holle executors and to enjoy the residue of my goods, both movable and unmovable, to their use, and to dispose of them for my Soul health as they think convenient.

Notes by the Palaeographer.

1. Clerks of this period often put raised letters after cardinal numbers, rather like the “th” written after most ordinal ones. Thus this Clerk wrote “ti” at end of XX (XX^{ti}) = 20th and “d” at the end of “M” or “D” e.g. M^d = one thousand and D^d = five hundred.
2. The Clerk gave the title “Sir” to clergymen as well as knights, in medieval fashion.
3. The words I understand have been spelt in the current fashion. Those words I do not know the proper old meaning of I have left as spelt originally.
4. “Crokes” are almost certainly the cast iron pots that hang over the kitchen stove

Note by Michael.

5. I thought a Plough String most probably was a pair of horses or oxen, though the Oxford English Dictionary says it was an obsolete word for one of the traces of a plough (rope, chain or leather straps.)

The WILL of WILLIAM COPE of HINTON in the PARISH of DYRHAM – 1573.

In the name of God Amen, the 16th day of April in the year of our lord god 1573, I, William Cope of Hinton within the Parish of Dyrham and within the county of Gloucestershire, husbandman, sick in body but of perfect memory doth make this my last will and testament in manner and form following:

First, I bequeath my soul to almighty god, the maker and redeemer thereto, and my body to be buried within the Churchyard of Dyrham aforesaid.

Item, I give to Christopher Cope, my son, my 2 greate croces and 20 shillings of money, to be delivered him after the death of his mother.

Item, I give to my son, John Cope, a bullock or Heiffer and second best pane and 2 platters, and my second best waynebed and a bolted plow strenge, and a pair of plough irons with all their tines.

Item, I give to Alice Cope, my daughter £20 of current money of England.

Item, I give more to Alice Cope, my daughter, 3 platter and 3 pottengers and my best cansticke and me best panne and my best flocke bed, a pair of sheets and a pair of blankets and a bolster and a coverlet, all this to be delivered her at the day of her marriage.

Item, I give to every one of my children, a sheep – all the rest of my goods moveable and unmoveable not bequeathed, I give to Joan, my wife, whom I do ordain, constitute and make my sole executrix to see my last will performed and to see me honestly brought in the earth and to receive my debts and to pay my debts.

Debts owing unto me, William Cope:

Robert Brayne of Dyrham oweth me 20 shillings.

James Hollister of Westerleigh oweth me £5 –13 sh. - 4d (Originally the £ sign was Li for Libri)

John Truman oweth me £8 -13 sh. - 4d

John Joachim of Westerleigh oweth me 5 sh. - 4d.

As far as I can discover, the equivalent money value in 2003 is about 200 times what it was in 1570.

The Will of William Cope of Dyrham proved at Chipping Sodbury on 21st July in the year 1573. The Noncupative WILL of JOAN COPE of DYRHAM - 1594.

(Note: a nuncupative Will was one made "by word of mouth" and only written down after the Testator's death.)

Memorandum that Joane Cope, late of Dyrham in the County of Gloucester, did, about the last day of April in year of our Lord God 1594, being of good and perfect memory, declare and utter her last will in manner and form following:

First, being put in memory by (...) Hall, the Minister there, that in respect of her great sickness and weakness wherein she then was, she would dispose of her worldly affairs to the intent she might with more quietness of her conscience prepare herself unto God and give herself wholly to the meditation of that holy life. And likewise to take away occasion of controversy among her children.

And thereupon, being particularly motioned by the said Minister what her Will was to bestow upon her son Christopher Cope and his children, who had been a dutifull and laudable child unto her, She, the said Joan, did answer that she had nothing to bestow but the bedding whereon she then did lie and a presse, and that they should have it all amongst them.

And afterward, the same demands being reiterated unto her by the said Minister, she answered that Margaret should have some kerchief or neckingers, and her share of the linen, and that the rest they should have all amongst them.

NOTES. 1. A press was usually a cupboard with shelves in which to store clothes and linen.

2. A neckinger was an article of clothing worn around the neck.

3. It is not clear who Margaret is. Could be Joan's daughter, Christopher's wife or even one of Christopher's daughters.

WILL of NATHANIEL COAPE of MAYES HILL in the Parish of WESTERLEIGH - 1631.

In the name of God Amen, the 6th June in the year of our Lord 1631, I, Nathaniel Coape of Mayes Hill w... the parish of Westerleigh in the Diocese of Gloucester, Tanner, being sick and diseased in body but of sound mind and good remembrance, thanks to Almighty God does make this my last Will and Testament in the manner and form following:

Firstly I commend my soul into the hands of Almighty God our Saviour and Redeemer, and my body to be buried in the Church Yard of Westerleigh aforesaid.

And ... as god of mercy hath lent me, I give and bequeath the following:

Item, I give and bequeath unto Edith Coape, my daughter, the sum of forty shillings, to be paid by my Executrix, hereafter named, on the third day of May next after my decease, and one bed with his appurtenance, which she lieth upon, ... cow hide in my tanpits, which I bought off William Prigge and one horse hide which I bought? ... widow Skidmore and one yearling skin which I bought off John Peckard, and my best bed with his appurtenance, And the one half of my pewter and brass, all my linen after the decease of my wife, excepting one canvas pair of sheets.

Now my will is that the Implements of household stuff, before given to my said daughter, that Joane, my wife shall have the use of so long as she liveth unmarried. But if she happen to marry, then the same implements afore given to her use ... presently delivered after her contract or marriage. (Note. I think this should mean that it goes to his daughter Edith in the event of his wife getting remarried.)

Item, I give and bequeath unto John Coape, my son, the sum of forty shillings, to be paid on the third day of May next after my decease, by my Executrix, hereafter named, and also the bed which I lieth upon, with his appurtenance, and one pair of canvas sheets and one cow hide which is in my Tanpit, which I bought off John Wickham, and all my wearing apparel and best Cloak.

I do further give and bequeath unto John Coape, my son, my best standing bedstead and one press and one table board with iron frame, one chair, to Formes, half a dozen of joined stooles, but my will is that Joane, my wife, shall have the use of them implements of householdstuff given to my said son so long as she liveth unmarried.

And further, my will is that John Coape, my said son, shall give unto my daughter Edith, twenty shillings, when he do enjoy the said implements afore named, which are all standing in the chamber where I lie.

Also further, I do give and bequeath unto my son John, my dwelling house with all out houses and with all the appurtenances thereunto belonging, after the decease of Joane Coape, my wife.

And lastly, I give to my said son, my Tanpits and vats, and my bark mill, after the decease of Joane, my wife.

Also my will is that either of son or daughter happen to depart this life before they accomplish the age of one and twenty years, or married, that then all the legacies and bequeaths to me given and bequeathed shall remain to her or to him which shall be then living.

Item. I give to my brother, Thomas Coape, three shillings.

The rest of all my goods, Cattles, Chattel and Credits, not heretofore given nor bequeathed, I do give and bequeath unto Joane Coape, my wife whom I make my sole Executrix of this my last Will and Testament, paying my debts and legacies, and taking what is owed to me and I do appoint my trusty and well beloved friends William Crome and John Robins, to be my overseers, to see this my last will and testament performed.

Debts owing to me:

John Estbury of Berkeley oweth me ..	Eleven Shillings
Strange of Bristol, shoemaker, oweth me ..	Fifteen Shillings
James Parker of Sodbury,	Two Shillings
Richard Trewman of Porbury oweth me	Nine Shillings and Six pence

This Will was proved at Chipping Sodbury on the 2nd day of August in the year of our Lord 1631 before Francis Baker, Dr. of Laws, the Chancellor etc. And it is approved by him.

And the Administration was and is granted etc to the Executrix etc. she having been previously duly sworn, Saving the right of any other person etc.

NOTE. A. This Will was VERY faint and it is a miracle to me that the Palaeographer (Dr. Peter Franklin) was able to make anything of it at all.

AN INVENTORY OF ALL THE GOODS & CHATTELS OF JOHN COAPE of WESTERLEIGH who died on 1st August, 1664/5.

I have been unsuccessful in finding a Will for this man who died 38 years before the John Cope, Yeoman of Westerleigh who farmed on Leigh Farm. It does seem quite possible that the subject of this Inventory is the Father (or even grandfather at a pinch) of Yeoman John, but we still lack any proof or information that gives any clues to that possibility. I am of course hoping that I can prove he was my 8 times Great Grandfather

This Inventory was transcribed by me (with Gill's help) and therefore may not be 100% accurate.

A true and perfect inventorie of all the goods and chattels of John Coape of the Parish of Westerleigh within the Diocese of Gloucester who deceased the first day of August Anno Dom 1664 taken and prized the sixth day of August by George Edmunds John Edmonds and others as followeth -

Sum all ????		£ 50	0.	0.

According to calculations on the Website "Measuring Worth", £50 in 1664 would be valued (using the RPI) at about £ 6,230 in 2008. Using the average earnings index however, the figure would be £79,300!

- NOTES.
1. The word prized means priced or appraised
 2. A posnet is a small metal pot for boiling, with 3 feet and a handle
 3. A cheyre is of course a chair.
 4. Boutestow - no clue what this is. Somewhere to stow one's boots perhaps?
 5. Iron doggs or Dog-irons are a pair of utensils placed at each side of a fireplace to support burning wood etc.
 6. Three hundred is probably short for 3 hundredweight = 3 x 112 lbs (150 Kg)
 7. There are several other words that puzzle me:-
e.g. Horsebeasts and heysows and I wonder if these are specialised Gloucestershire farming terms

NOTE 1. I find the virtually indiscriminate spelling of COPE or COAP quite extraordinary.

NOTE 2. The sums of money mentioned above total £375.00. At present day values (2008) this Works out well in excess of £30,000. (See Chapter 4 Page 19 for Graphs of equivalents)

(What do modern women think of the penultimate item on page 1 - monstrously chauvinistic - but that was the legal position that women had to put up with in those days. Very considerate of him to give them back legally!)

(In Latin) This Inventory was shown at Glouc^o on the 10th day of the month of March in the year of our Lord 1702/3 (See Note 8), by John Coap, Joseph Coap, Thomas Coap and William Coap the natural and lawful (or legitimate) sons of the deceased and the Executors etc. for a true and full inventory etc. Under protestation, nevertheless, of adding etc. and if etc. (See Note 9)

NOTE 1. £108 was a LOT of money in those days (probably equivalent to about £10,000 at today's rates) and to have that in the house seems very strange and asking for theft. Goldsmith-bankers were in existence in the 17th century, but I suppose they were only in major towns and not convenient for day-to-day business transactions - no cheques or credit cards in those days - that would have been essential for a farmer. There were such things as very heavy metal bound chests with locking arrangements, fore-runners of safes, and I expect wealthy people had these. However, there was no mention of one in John's Inventory.

The other comment I want to make is that there is still NO MENTION of Buildings or Land - nor any indication of the location of his farm and I find this immensely disappointing.

NOTE 2. In this context Fifty Hundred would have been 50 Hundredweight and assuming this was 112 lbs in 1700, there was two and a half tons of cheese! This must have required quite a large area for storage apart from anything else.

NOTE 3. A Bushell was a Dry Measure equivalent to 8 gallons. I've tried imagining what 8 gallons was like and I suppose that was about a sack full. John therefore had 100 sacks of Wheat in stock.

NOTE 4. From this it also looks as though John was lending money, or at least letting someone have long-term credit!

NOTE 5. The term "7 young Beasts" looks a bit vague when other types of animals are listed. Dr. Franklin says this term was usually used to describe larger livestock but thinks the clerk may have used it specifically to mean "heifers" and Calves in descending order of age and value. These 7 animals would have been the previous year's calves, now worth £2 each, and been added to the herd of cows in a year or two's time. The clerk used the old fashioned "kine" - here "Kyne" - for cows. It was still sometimes used in the 18th and 19th centuries.

NOTE 6. This note relates to Hay, Sheep and Piggs. I don't know how many Hay stacks would have been represented in the value of £40 but it surprised me that his Hay Store was worth considerably more than 80 Sheep and 8 Pigs. Obviously the winter feed was considered very valuable.

NOTE 7. A Dung Pott was a low-wheeled dung-cart. Plow harness means plough tackle or gear.

NOTE 8. The use of "double-dating" was popular at the time. The year A.D. still officially began on 25th March, the Feast of the Annunciation of St. Mary. 1st January was sometimes celebrated as New Year's Day, but did NOT become the Official start of the year until 1752.

Hence when the note was written it was officially still 1702 but some people would have regarded 1703 as already having begun!

NOTE 9. The etceteras used here all refer back to phrases in the Will and in particular that final sentence should read: "Under protestation, nevertheless, of adding any other goods, and if any such should come to their knowledge or possession, they will add them to the Inventory."

We have a copy of an Indenture in which this John Cope leased 136 acres at Leigh Farm for 7 years from 1669. The lease may well have been renewed thereafter. Leigh Farm still exists and pictures are included on Page 18 of this document.

NOTES

- 1) This document is a hand-written form. A standard text was written out already and the details of personal names, place-names and dates added as required.
- 2) One of those bound was indeed called "Beloved Wilkes". (The clerk made no attempt to turn his forename into Latin, though "Amadeus" or "Theophilus" might have done, taking the meaning to be Beloved of God.)
- 3) Edward Fowler was Bishop of Gloucester from 1691 to his death in 1714.
- 4) Notice that although Sarah Parker was named as an Administrator in the English section, she had not been bound in the Latin section. I do not know if this is an error or if it was not necessary to bind both Administrators.
- 5) The clerk has used the archaic letter "thorn", looking very like "y" but sounding as "th". I have rendered it as "th" without further comment.
- 6) All "etc"s appear in the original text.
