

DIG3811 UCD Lab #4

Date: 2/13/2014

We've learned the three different types of human attentions.

- Selective
- Divided
- Sustained

In this lab we will investigate and document these 3 attention types and explore which of these apply to your group project.

TASK BREAKDOWN:

Task 1: Find three examples per each of the human attention types.

- List the names of tasks, products, or services
- Provide brief descriptions addressing why it is relevant to the attention type selected
- Include images, photos, or sketches of the tasks, products, or services

Task 2: Discuss what attention type would be required as the primary Attention for your course project.

- Explore each attention type with regards to your group project
- Determine one that would be the primary attention type in your group project
