Editor: Mrs. Domyancic

Week of: January 10th-14th

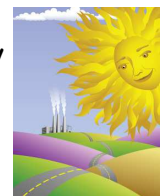

Monday

We reread Dear Mr. Blueberry and wrote our own letter to Mrs. Domyancic about an animal we see in our backyard. Mrs. D. will write back to us. In writing, we are working on our persuasive paragraph. "Working World" for SS was a discussion of producers and consumers.

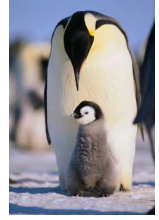

Tuesday

In social studies we learned about needs and wants in our "Working World" unit. Ask me to name 4 basic needs...water, clean air, healthy food, and shelter. In reading we took a test to check for comprehension on our reading story. Ask me to name and show you 3 diagrams for math story problems...part/part total, start/change/end, and quantity/difference/quantity.

Wednesday

Our new reading story is Emperor's Egg. This is a nonfiction piece about Emperor Penguins. Ask me to tell you about their unique life. In math we are learning how to do trade first for 2 digit subtraction using base ten blocks. In computer lab, we continued our work on our power point slide about ourselves.

Thursday

Today we took a lot of "show me what you know and I still need to teach you" papers (assessments). In spelling we took a pre/post test, math 2nd skills test, and we did our fluency reading in the LMC. Everyone worked hard and is making progress! We discussed MLK day and its importance.
