PARKDALE COMMUNITY HEALTH CENTRE IS SEEKING A
FULL-TIME PHYSICIAN

Parkdale Community Health Centre (PCHC) is situated in a vibrant, multicultural inner-city neighbourhood. We work with the community, in all its diversity, to address its health-related needs through community development and action, the delivery of primary health care, counselling, advocacy and health promotion. We give priority to individuals and groups who traditionally encounter barriers to high quality health care services, including refugees and immigrants, marginalized LGBTQ, people who live in poverty, individuals living with mental health and/or substance use, women, seniors, and people who struggle with homelessness.

For more information about Parkdale Community Health Centre, including our mission and values statements, please visit our website at www.pchc.on.ca.

We are looking for a primary health care physician to work 35 hours per week. The ideal candidate will enjoy being part of an inter-professional team and demonstrate a commitment to community-based health services. A license to practice in Ontario and CMPA coverage are required. Experience working from an anti-oppression framework, with an understanding of the social determinants of health and principles of harm reduction are also required. Fluency in a language relevant to the Parkdale community, in addition to English, is a definite asset.

This is a full-time permanent position. Start date: March 31st, 2014
