Dr. and Mrs. John Q. Donor
100 Main Street
Madison, NJ 07940-2725

Dear Dr. and Mrs. Donor:

I would like to thank you personally for your most generous gift toward the Mellon College of Science. I am deeply grateful for your outstanding support and generosity.

In April 2009, Carnegie Mellon University created the Dunfermline Circle, named for the town in Scotland where Andrew Carnegie was born. This giving society recognizes donors who contribute $100,000–$499,999 to the university over the course of their lifetimes or through their estates. Membership currently includes more than 200 individuals and families. We are delighted to include you.

To mark your induction, I am enclosing a commemorative certificate representing your membership and specially designed note cards and sterling silver lapel pins featuring the Dunfermline Circle's symbol. Created by the firm of alumnus John Brady, A'75, the design draws inspiration from the Carnegie family's heritage and is based on the Scottish thistle, the historic flag of Scotland, and the Carnegie family crest.

You also will find a document outlining how we plan to recognize you and offering you the opportunity to decline participation, if that is your preference.

In closing, let me reiterate how meaningful your gift to the university is. Thank you for your dedication to Carnegie Mellon.

Sincerely,

Jared L. Cohon

Dear SALUTATION,

Many thanks for your gift to Loyola University Chicago's SCHOOL MERGE. I am pleased to welcome you to the University's Damen Society at the <Damen Society level>.

The Damen Society is a special group of alumni and friends who support Loyola with annual leadership gifts of $1,000 or more. Your generous support directly benefits the University's students by providing critical resources needed to help them reach their fullest potential.

This is an exciting time for Loyola. We are in the midst of our largest capital campaign, which will support scholarships, research, and excellence in learning and patient care. I am proud to count you as a partner in this historic endeavor.

Once again, thank you for your kind gift.

Sincerely,

Dear:

We learned so much about the human spirit this year. We learned of its tremendous strength in the face of diversity, its ability to both see and be the good in our world, and its seemingly endless wealth of kindness and generosity. We were reminded that these traits are among the defining characteristics of the NIU family.

We experience much the same through the philanthropy of our donors. The gifts of their time, talent and treasure continue to reinforce NIU's noble mission. It is with that in mind and humble gratitude in my heart that I offer my most sincere thanks on behalf of the NIU family and welcome you to the Founders Forum. Through your generosity you provide the greatest gift one can offer another... a chance to succeed.

The Founders Forum is comprised of a select circle of donors whose significant and sustained support profoundly impacts the university. The society recognizes donors who make cumulative lifetime gifts of $50,000 or greater to benefit Northern Illinois University. Your membership in the <LEVEL> of the Founders Forum recognizing your life-time giving total of over <Level> speaks to your dedication to our university and our future.

Your membership in this society is an outward display of your dedication to the thousands of students you impact each year. Your generosity has literally and figuratively changed the face of NIU. Thank you for recognizing the need for giving back and continuing to be part of the NIU family. It is our hope that your membership in the Founders Forum will continue to inspire you to be actively involved in the life of this university and its students.

We look forward to seeing you at future events.

Yours sincerely,

Dear _____:

A few weeks back I wrote to you with a very special request asking you to join the Stroud Hall Club at East Stroudsburg University.

We have received your most recent gift and I would like to personally welcome you to the Stroud Hall Club. I hope you know how much all of us at the University appreciate your contribution.

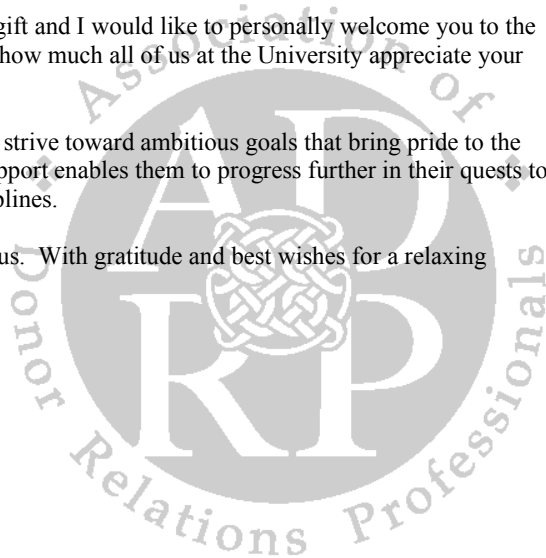

Our students and faculty continue to strive toward ambitious goals that bring pride to the University on many levels. Your support enables them to progress further in their quests to be among the best in their chosen disciplines.

Thank you again for being there for us. With gratitude and best wishes for a relaxing summer.

Sincerely,

NAME NAME

Dear NAME and NAME,

On behalf of Principia, I'm delighted to send along our many thanks for your recent gift in response to our introduction of the Clarence and Minnie Morey Howard Society. Your leadership support impacts the quality of our educational experience in many ways and certainly helps perpetuate the Howards' inspiring legacy of annual giving.

You'll be pleased to know that we're receiving a very encouraging response from alumni and friends to this new initiative and we extend a warm welcome to you as Charter Members! Acknowledging Principia's unique mission, Howard Society members are part of a special community of supporters devoted to sharing a tradition of excellence with generations to come.

Once again, we're most grateful for your membership with the Howard Society and look forward to staying in close touch on our ongoing progress. If you have any questions or would like any additional information, please feel free to contact me at 314.274.3547 or clay.jackson@principia.edu.

Best regards,

Clay Jackson
Director

P.S. An official gift receipt for your records will be sent separately.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Smith:

Welcome to Innovators Network of Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center!

Your recent gift of $1,500.00 enrolls you as a member of Innovators Network (IN) at Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center. Geared toward those under 45, IN is a new generation of leaders who share a commitment to the Hutchinson Center's mission to eliminate cancer and related diseases as causes of human suffering and death.

By aggregating member support, IN is forging new ground in scientific research. Your IN gift will support Center priorities through the Hartwell Innovation Fund, advancing high-risk yet potentially high-reward research projects not yet eligible for federal funding. This pilot funding is critical to allowing Center scientists to pursue the most innovative, outside-the-box research.

In addition to impacting research, IN members have the opportunity to expand their knowledge of scientific advancements through periodic, complimentary social and scientific events. The events provide members unique opportunities to engage with world-renowned scientists and network with fellow members. Visit www.fhcrc.org/getin to learn more.

Enclosed are IN outreach cards that we encourage you to distribute to your personal contacts who may be interested in learning more about the Center's science. More IN members means a larger funding pool to utilize for potentially life-changing research.

Feel free to contact Hutchinson Center staff member Stephanie Henderson at 206.667.4974 or shenders@fhcrc.org with your questions or if you are interested in becoming more involved with the Center or the IN program.

Thank you again for your investment in cutting-edge research at the Hutchinson Center. Please mark your calendar for the next complimentary IN Happy Hour on November 19th at 5:30 p.m. We hope to see you there!
