

The Department of Immigration and Border Protection (the department) acknowledges that Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples are the traditional custodians of the Australian land.

Life in Australia – Australian values

The Australian Government encourages people to gain an understanding of Australia, its people and their way of life, before applying for a visa to live in Australia.

This includes understanding that the English language, as the national language, is an important unifying element of Australian society. Australian society is also united through the following shared values:

- respect for the freedom and dignity of the individual;
- freedom of religion;
- commitment to the rule of law;
- Parliamentary democracy;
- equality of men and women;
- a spirit of egalitarianism that embraces mutual respect, tolerance, fair play and compassion for those in need and pursuit of the public good;
- equality of opportunity for individuals, regardless of their race, religion or ethnic background.

The Life in Australia booklet provides more information on the values that Australians share and their way of life. This booklet is available in a wide range of languages. If you have not already received a copy then it can be obtained from www.immi.gov.au

You must have read the Life in Australia booklet before completing this application form. If you have difficulty, or are unable to read the booklet, you may have the content of it explained to you, for example, by a friend or relative. This form contains a statement, that you must sign, that confirms you understand and will respect the values of Australian society (as explained in the booklet) and will obey the laws of Australia. This includes acknowledging what would be required if you later applied for Australian citizenship.

This statement must also be signed by each person aged 18 years or over, who is included in this form.

Who should use this application?

You should use this form if you are outside Australia and wish to apply for entry to Australia on humanitarian grounds. This class of visa includes the following 5 subclasses:

- Refugee (subclass 200)
- In-country Special Humanitarian (subclass 201)
- Global Special Humanitarian (subclass 202)
- Emergency Rescue (subclass 203)
- Woman at Risk (subclass 204).

You should also use this form if you are applying for one of the above visas in the Community Proposal Pilot Program.

About this form

Important – Please read this information carefully before you complete your application. When you have completed your application we recommend that you keep a copy for your records.

Australia's offshore humanitarian program

There are a limited number of places available each year under the program. In setting the size of the program, the Australian Government considers:

- the views of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR);
- the views of the Australian community; and
- Australia's capacity to settle refugees and people in need.

Requirements for each visa subclass

Your application will be assessed against the 5 visa subclasses of the Refugee and Humanitarian (Class XB) visa class. To be granted a visa, you must be assessed as meeting the requirements for one of these subclasses. These are set out in Australia's Migration Act and Regulations and the main requirements for each subclass are:

Refugee (subclass 200)

- You are living outside your home country; and
- subject to persecution in your home country; and
- in need of resettlement.

The UNHCR provides advice to the Australian Government on the need for resettlement.

In-country Special Humanitarian (subclass 201)

- You are in your home country; and
- subject to persecution.

Only a small number of places are available under this subclass.

Global Special Humanitarian (subclass 202)

- You are living outside your home country; and
- you are subject to substantial discrimination amounting to gross violation of your human rights in your home country; and
- have included a valid form 681 Refugee and Special Humanitarian Proposal with your application.

Form 681 needs to be completed by an Australian citizen or permanent resident, eligible New Zealand citizen, or community organisation in Australia (a 'proposer'), who is willing to support your application.

As the government does not fund travel costs for this visa subclass, your proposer is expected to assist you and any dependants in meeting costs associated with travel to Australia and initial settlement after arrival.

Emergency Rescue (subclass 203)

- You are subject to persecution in your home country; and
- there are urgent and compelling reasons for you to be resettled in Australia.

Requests for urgent assistance under this subclass are usually made on your behalf by the UNHCR.

Woman at Risk (subclass 204)

- You are a woman living outside your home country; and
- subject to persecution in your home country or are registered with the UNHCR as being 'of concern'; and
- without the protection of a male relative; and
- in danger of victimisation, harassment or serious abuse because you are female.

Children under 18

Children under the age of 18 who have no parents, or who have been separated from their parents, may also be granted a visa in one of the subclasses listed above. However, the Australian Government must be satisfied the child's entry to Australia is in the best interest of the child and that the rights of the parents, if any, are properly considered.

If any children under 18 who are members of the family unit and included in this application are not your biological children, you must provide information and documentation as to who their birth parents are/were.

Community Proposal Pilot

The Community Proposal Pilot allows community organisations within Australia to identify and support individuals and families in humanitarian situations outside Australia, to apply for Refugee and Humanitarian (Class XB) visas. Only Approved Proposing Organisations (APOs) may propose people for entry into Australia in the Community Proposal Pilot.

Information about the Community Proposal Pilot is available from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/visas/humanitarian/offshore/community-proposal-pilot.htm

Note: Your APO must complete form 1417 Proposal for refugee and special humanitarian entrants by Approved Proposing Organisation. Your APO must lodge both of these forms (form 842 and form 1417) by post or courier at the department's Victoria Offshore Humanitarian Processing Centre (OHPC).

The department will share your personal information that was collected during the processing of your application with your APO. If a visa is granted, this information may be used by the APO to enable delivery of settlement services and support. Your APO may also share your personal information with other organisations, known as Supporting Community Organisations, so they can provide services to you to help you settle in Australia.

'Split family' provisions for immediate family of permanent Protection (Class XA), permanent humanitarian (Class XB) or Resolution of Status (Class CD) visa holders.

You should use this form if, within the last 5 years a member of your 'immediate family' was granted either a:

- permanent Protection visa (subclass 866); or
- permanent humanitarian visa (subclasses 200, 201, 202, 203 or 204); or
- Resolution of Status (Class CD) visa (subclass 851).

Note: Your proposer must not have been an illegal maritime arrival.

Note: Under the 'split family' provisions, 'Immediate family' means you are the spouse, de facto partner (including same-sex partner), dependent child or in certain circumstances a parent of the person in Australia who is proposing your entry (that is, your proposer has completed form 681).

Note: You can only apply as a parent under these 'split family' provisions if your child in Australia is under 18 years of age.

To be eligible for the grant of a humanitarian visa under the 'split family' provisions for immediate family:

- you must apply within 5 years of the permanent Protection, permanent humanitarian or Resolution of Status visa being granted to your proposer;
- your proposer must complete a form 681 Refugee and Special Humanitarian Proposal (available from offices of the department in Australia or the immigration website) for you to submit together with your own visa application;
- your proposer must have declared you to the department as an immediate family member before the grant of their own visa.

Partner

'Partner' means your spouse or de facto partner (including same-sex partners).

Residential address

You must advise the department where you intend to live while your application is being dealt with, or if you change your residential address after your application has been lodged. Failure to give a residential address will result in your application being invalid. A post office box address will not be accepted as your residential address.

Your application

You should answer the questions in this form truthfully and fully and attach any supporting documents. Forms that are incomplete could delay a decision being made on your application, or your application could be refused.

Not all applicants are interviewed and a decision may be taken on the information provided in your application only. You need to make sure you include all details about your situation in your application.

If you need more space than is provided in this form for any of your answers, attach a separate page, clearly marking the question number the page relates to. Additional pages must be signed and dated by each person aged 18 years or over included in this application.

Who should be included in this application?

You should include in this form ALL members of your family unit. Your family unit includes your spouse, de facto partner (including same-sex partner), dependent children outside Australia and other dependent relatives who usually live with you (eg. a dependent parent). 'Dependent' means wholly or substantially dependent on you or your partner for financial, psychological or physical support.

Details of dependent family members NOT included in your visa application should be included at Question 11. If you fail to declare immediate family members in your application, they may not be able to access the 'split family' provisions for immediate family members (referred to above) if they apply for a visa at a later time.

Non-dependent family members (eg. married children or children over 18 who are independent) should complete their own form 842 if they wish to be considered for entry to Australia on humanitarian grounds.

Integrity of application

The department is committed to maintaining the integrity of the visa and citizenship programs. Please be aware that if you provide us with fraudulent documents or claims, this may result in processing delays or your application being refused.

What documents should you attach to this application?

Eight (8) passport-sized photographs of each person included in the application, that have the name of the person written on the back.

Supporting documents

The documents you must provide are requested throughout this form. There is also a document checklist in Part O of this form and you should carefully check you have provided all the listed documents.

You should also provide all documents necessary to support your humanitarian claims.

Copies of documents must be certified as true copies of the original by a Justice of the Peace, Commissioner for Declarations, or a person before whom a Statutory Declaration may be made under the Statutory Declarations Act 1959.

Outside Australia, a person who is equivalent to a Justice of the Peace or a Commissioner for Declarations must certify copies.

If you do not provide all the necessary documents, a decision may be made on the information you have provided. It is in your interest to support your application with as much information as possible at the time of application.

If you are not able to provide any of the documents listed at Part O, please provide a written explanation why the documents are not available.

Under no circumstances should you submit false documents.

Where can you lodge this application?

Generally, your application for a Class XB visa should be lodged at the nearest office of the department (eg. an Australian processing centre; or an Embassy, High Commission, Consulate or Consulate-General overseas).

Note: Applicants wishing to be considered for a Class XB visa under either the Global Special Humanitarian Program (subclass 202), the 'split family' provisions for immediate family members or the Community Proposal Pilot, must lodge this form in accordance with the addresses specified below:

No – forms 681, 842 and 1417 are free and may be obtained from any office of the department in Australia and overseas or are available free-of-charge from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/

Interviews and requests for more information

Interviews are not always necessary. We will advise you if you are required to attend an interview or if you need to provide more documents or information.

Change of circumstances

If your circumstances change in any way after you have lodged this form (eg. if you or a family member enters into a new relationship, becomes engaged, or marries), you must inform the office where the application was lodged. If a child is born to you (or any other person included in this application) after the application is lodged, the child will be included in your application if details are provided before a final decision is made on your application.

Processing information

You should be aware that there is strong interest in this class of visa and it may take a long time to finalise your application.

You may need to have a medical and an x-ray examination as part of the assessment of your application. You may also be asked to undergo medical treatment as part of the assessment of the visa application. The Australian Government reserves the right to conduct character checks on all adult applicants. Details of your application are not passed on to your home country.

The Australian Government will pay the costs related to medical examinations for all humanitarian visa applicants, except visa applicants in the Community Proposal Pilot. All visa subclasses, except Global Special Humanitarian (subclass 202) visa holders and visa holders in the Community Proposal Pilot, will also have their travel costs paid by the Australian Government.

Note: For applicants in the Community Proposal Pilot, the APO must pay the costs of medical examinations and, if a visa is granted, the cost of airfares to Australia.

Important information about privacy

Your personal information is protected by law, including the Privacy Act 1988. Important information about the collection, use and disclosure (to other agencies and third parties, including overseas entities) of your personal information, including sensitive information, is contained in form 1442i Privacy notice. Form 1442i is available from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/ or offices of the department. You should ensure that you read and understand form 1442i before completing this form.

The department is careful to protect the privacy of all applicants. Care will be taken to make sure that details of your application do not reach your home country.

Review rights

If your application is refused, it is not possible to obtain a review of the decision by the Migration Review Tribunal or the Refugee Review Tribunal.

Settlement services

If you are granted a humanitarian visa (subclasses 200, 201, 202, 203 or 204), information on the personal possessions that you may take with you to Australia is available from the office that granted your visa.

The Australian Government provides a range of services to help refugee and humanitarian entrants settle in Australia. This assistance may include being met on arrival by a service provider and taken to accommodation, help to register for income support, help to arrange medical appointments, information about your new community, and attending English language classes.

Note: If you are granted a humanitarian visa in the Community Proposal Pilot, settlement services will be provided to you by your APO, in conjunction with any Supporting Community Organisation.

Immigration assistance

A person gives immigration assistance to you if he or she uses, or claims to use, his or her knowledge or experience in migration procedure to assist you with your visa application, request for ministerial intervention, cancellation review application, sponsorship or nomination.

In Australia a person may only lawfully give immigration assistance if he or she is a registered migration agent or is exempt from being registered. Only registered migration agents may receive a fee or reward for providing immigration assistance.

If an unregistered person in Australia, who is not exempt from registration, gives you immigration assistance they are committing a criminal offence and may be prosecuted.

Restrictions on giving immigration assistance, charging fees for immigration assistance and restrictions on charging fees for immigration representations apply even where the APO lodges form 842 (this form) on behalf of a client in the Community Proposal Pilot.

Migration agents in Australia

Migration agents in Australia must be registered with the Office of the Migration Agents Registration Authority (Office of the MARA) unless they are exempt from registration.

Migration agents outside Australia

Migration agents who operate outside Australia do not have to be registered. The department may give some overseas agents an ID number. This number does not mean that they are registered.

Note: Some Australian registered migration agents operate overseas.

Migration agent information

A migration agent is someone who can:

- advise you on the visa that may best suit you;
- tell you the documents you need to submit with your application;
- help you fill in the application and submit it; and
- communicate with the department on your behalf.

If you appoint a migration agent, the department will assume that your migration agent will be your authorised recipient, unless you indicate otherwise.

Your migration agent will be the person with whom the department will discuss your application and from whom it will seek further information when required.

You are not required to use a migration agent. However, if you use a migration agent, the department encourages you to use a registered migration agent. Registered agents are bound by the Migration Agents Code of Conduct, which requires them to act professionally in their clients' lawful best interests.

Information on migration agents, including a list of registered migration agents, is available on the Office of the MARA website www.mara.gov.au

You can also access information about migration agents on the department's website www.immi.gov.au

Exempt persons

The following people do not have to be a registered migration agent in order to provide immigration assistance, but they must not charge a fee for their service:

- a close family member (spouse, de facto partner, child, parent, brother or sister);
- a member of parliament or their staff;
- an official whose duties include providing immigration assistance (eg. a Legal Aid provider);
- a member of a diplomatic mission, consular post or international organisation.

Appointing a migration agent/exempt person

To appoint a migration agent/exempt person you should complete Part M – Options for receiving written communications.

Your migration agent/exempt person should complete form 956 Advice by a migration agent/exempt person of providing immigration assistance.

Form 956 is available from the department's website www.immi.gov.au/allforms/

Options for receiving written communications

If you do not appoint a migration agent/exempt person you may still authorise another person, in writing, to receive written communications on your behalf. This person is called the authorised recipient.

Authorised recipient information

All written communication about your application will be sent to your authorised recipient, unless you indicate that you wish to have health and/or character information sent directly to you. If your visa application is subject to proposal form 681 or form 1417 and you wish all written communication to be sent to your proposer, you will need to complete Question 17 and Question 46 on this form.

The department will communicate with the most recently appointed authorised recipient as you may only appoint one authorised recipient at any time for a particular application.

You will be taken to have received any documents sent to that person as if they had been sent to you.

Consent to communicate electronically

The department may use a range of means to communicate with you. However, electronic means such as fax or email will only be used if you indicate your agreement to receiving communication in this way.

To process your application the department may need to communicate with you about sensitive information, for example, health, police checks, financial viability and personal relationships. Electronic communications, unless adequately encrypted, are not secure and may be viewed by others or interfered with.

If you agree to the department communicating with you by electronic means, the details you provide will only be used by the department for the purpose for which you have provided them, unless there is a legal obligation or necessity to use them for another purpose, or you have consented to use for another purpose. They will not be added to any mailing list.

The Australian Government accepts no responsibility for the security or integrity of any information sent to the department over the internet or by other electronic means.

If you authorise another person to receive documents on your behalf and they wish to be contacted electronically, their signature is required on form 956, form 956A, form 681 or form 1417 to indicate their consent to this form of communication.

Note: Electronic communication is the fastest means of communication available and the department prefers to communicate electronically because this results in faster processing.

Part G – Humanitarian claims

- It is important for all applicants (including those proposed by a person or organisation in Australia) to provide all details of your humanitarian claims. An assessment of your humanitarian claims will include consideration against the following four factors:
  - the degree of persecution or discrimination to which you are subject in your home country, and
  - the extent of your connection with Australia, and
  - whether or not there is any suitable country available, other than Australia, that can provide for your settlement and protection from discrimination, and
  - the capacity of the Australian community or (in the case of a Community Proposal Pilot application) any proposers of your application, to provide for the permanent settlement of persons such as you in Australia.
 So that the decision-maker can give full consideration to your application you should include as much information against these factors as possible.
- Not all applicants are interviewed.
- Your answers should pay special attention to what happened to you and your family, not to the general situation in the country you fear returning to.
- When answering, you should tell us everything about why you and your family think you should be considered for entry to Australia under the Humanitarian Program.
- In answering these questions, you should tell us if you think any events/occurrences you refer to are because of:
  - your race
  - your religion
  - your nationality
  - your membership of a particular social group
  - your political opinion
  - other reasons.
- You should, wherever possible, provide as much information relating to dates, locations etc. in respect of any events/occurrences to which you refer.

If it is determined that you have concealed information, such as an offence, your application to enter Australia may be refused. If you have already been granted a visa and it is subsequently discovered that you have concealed information, such as an offence, your visa will be liable to cancellation and you may be refused entry to Australia. In the event that you have already entered Australia your visa will be liable to cancellation and, if cancelled, you may be detained and removed from Australia.

48 This declaration and consent must be signed by you (the main applicant) and ALL persons aged 18 or over included in this application.

- I authorise the Australian Government to make any enquiries necessary to determine my eligibility for entry to Australia, and to use any information supplied in this application for that purpose.
- I understand that unless my qualifications have already been recognised by an Australian assessing authority before my departure, they may not be recognised after my arrival.
- I understand that it is my personal responsibility to assess my own employment prospects in Australia and acknowledge that labour market conditions there can vary significantly from time to time and between regions.
- I understand that grant of a visa provides no guarantee of employment once in Australia.
- I have read the information contained in form 1442i Privacy notice.
- I understand the department may collect, use and disclose my personal information (including biometric information and other sensitive information) as outlined in form 1442i Privacy notice.

For offshore applicants who are required to provide their fingerprints and facial image:
