Getting Started:

When opening the automated Schedule A for the first time, please read the introduction that appears on the Start screen. It describes some of the features of the Automated Schedule A program and contains general instructions. You can return to it at any time by clicking on the Start tab at the bottom of the screen. When you are ready to begin, select your city or town from the City/Town drop-down list by clicking on the down arrow and scrolling until the name appears in the box. Data from Fiscal 2012 will be automatically loaded where needed. You are now ready to begin filling out the forms. Click on the appropriate worksheet tab corresponding to the Part you wish to work on.

Do not use cut, copy or paste functions to move data around the workbook. Using these functions may damage macros or formulas, causing calculations to fail. To make a change to existing data, simply type in a new figure.

The automated Schedule A program also includes "logical edit checks" designed to verify consistency of data. Just click on the Logical Edit tab to see if all logical edit checks have passed. Make corrections where failures occur, as certification of your Schedule A requires that all edits pass.
