Basic and Advanced Concepts in Musculoskeletal (MSK) Ultrasound in the Podiatric Practice and Patient Healing Using Autogenous Platelet Grafting

6:00 – 8:30 PM

by Nathan Schwartz, DPM; Charley Greiner, DPM and Matt Bauer

Diagnostic musculoskeletal ultrasound is a must for the podiatric practice! It affords the practitioner a noninvasive look into the foot and ankle, allowing a better understanding of the function and increasing diagnostic skills. Additional treatment options that are only available through this technology will be discussed, allowing a more comprehensive practice of podiatric medicine and surgery. This workshop in musculoskeletal ultrasound will first go over the basics and the remainder of the course will be customized to the level of the attendees. Personal questions and techniques will be discussed and applied. At the completion of this course, you will have a good understanding of the application of diagnostic ultrasound in the podiatric practice. You will be able to use this modality in an effective way, imaging the different structures of the foot and ankle.

This session will be presented with a scientific lecture and a hands-on workshop. This workshop will also cover the science of applying Autologous Platelet Concentrate (APC) to body parts in need of healing, the evidence to support its use, and current surgical techniques. An overview of case studies will also be presented. The hands-on portion of the program will consist of a demonstration of how to produce APC and a chance for clinicians to handle equipment and blood. Participants will also have the opportunity to practice applying APC percutaneously via diagnostic ultrasound. 2.5 CE

TRAKnet Beginner and Advanced User Workshops

6:00 – 9:00 PM

In both sessions, we will provide the opportunity to ask your peers about their experience and how to share templates.

Advanced Session

Charting Your Future

8:00 – 9:00 PM

Many people work very hard week after week, month after month, and year after year, only to find that they are still dissatisfied and unfulfilled. There are many reasons for this including the fact that they either haven’t set goals or they’ve set the wrong goals. In this session we will explore the source of this dissatisfaction and frustration and give you the tools you need to get the course of your practice and your life realigned for true fulfillment and happiness by Rem Jackson
