

36th Annual Pretreatment, Pollution Prevention and Stormwater Conference & Exhibition

The Many Hats of P³S

March 2-4, 2009
Hyatt Regency, Monterey, CA

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

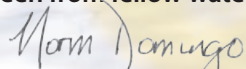

Welcome to the 36th Annual Pretreatment, Pollution Prevention and Stormwater (P³S) Committee Training Conference. For 36 years this conference has provided attendees with great value for their training dollar. It provides training from experienced, knowledgeable leaders in wastewater public education, pollution prevention and sewer use ordinance compliance, the majority of whom are Committee members. You'll leave the conference with the most current information in the field. Plus, in addition to quality training, the conference registration fee includes a ticket to the wonderful Monterey Bay Aquarium.

Being in Monterey is a picturesque reminder of what we as environmental professionals strive to protect. The urban setting reminds us of the importance of protecting our communities and the surrounding rural area reminds us that we must also protect our environment.

My "Top Ten" reasons to attend the 2009 P³S Annual Training Conference are:

1. Nationally recognized, qualified and experienced speakers
2. Pretreatment training that includes:
 - Basic to advanced Industrial User inspection/monitoring/enforcement procedures
 - FOG Food Service Establishment inspection/monitoring/enforcement procedures
 - Speakers from the USEPA and Regional Water Quality Control Board
3. Stormwater Training that includes:
 - Regulation Updates
 - Construction BMP Implementation
4. Pollution Prevention Training that includes:
 - Presentations by USEPA National Award Winners
 - Discussion of Small to Large P2 Programs
 - Specific Pollutant of Concern Projects
 - Emerging Contaminants
5. Networking with professionals from all areas of California, the USEPA and State Regulators about common issues
6. The Monterey Aquarium (need I say more?) included in your conference registration
7. Location, location, location—the beautiful Monterey Peninsula
8. Registration fee includes (except student) continental breakfast, breaks, evening receptions
9. Opportunity to meet and interact with equipment and service exhibitors in the industry
10. Returning to work with the most current information, new ideas, and documented training to renew your certification after the Monterey Experience. Attendees with full conference registration can earn up to 20.4 contact hours.

As a Wastewater Professional for the last twenty years I have realized that we are the frontline environmental protectors of our communities. I want to say thank you for the dedication and professionalism I have seen from fellow water and wastewater colleagues.

CONFERENCE HIGHLIGHTS

OPENING SESSION:

The Opening Session for the 36th P³S Annual Training Conference begins with the topic of global warming as a factor in decision making. The Chief Operating Officer from Santa Clara Valley Water District will share how policy decision has been affected by a current water shortage. After the break, current urgent environmental needs as seen by the Save the Bay Organization will be addressed. The session will round out with Tam Dudoc from the State Water Resources Control Board. Tam will address us with clean water priorities and how to put it all together. Closing the opening session, Bruce Wolfe Executive Officer for the San Francisco Bay Area Regional Water Quality Board, will give us insight into bringing broad water quality goals to the local level.

BREAKOUT SESSIONS:

- Emerging Issues in Pretreatment and Pollution Prevention
- Fats, Oils, and Grease
- Public Education and Outreach
- EPA Stormwater
- Pretreatment Facility Inspection of SIUs and CIUs
- Stormwater Pretreatment Issues
- Environmental Compliance Inspector Training
- Pretreatment Program, Permit, Enforcement, Compliance and USEPA update
- Global Warming and Climate Change

LUNCHEON AWARDS:

MONDAY LUNCHEON

The P³S Awards Committee will present the 2008 Industry of the Year Awards. Businesses in Northern and Southern California will be recognized for their implementation of innovative solutions to wastewater, stormwater, and pollution prevention challenges. The committee will also award the "Order of the Silver Cover" to recognize individual volunteers who by their professional commitment have furthered the committee goals.

LUNCHEON KEYNOTES:

TUESDAY LUNCHEON KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Chris Nihill is a Manager/Trainer responsible for training programs on a variety of issues including leadership, substance abuse, stress management, teambuilding, communication skills and workplace violence. She will bring us her insight on interpersonal working relationships.

WEDNESDAY LUNCHEON KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Alexis Strauss, USEPA Region 9 Director, will share the USEPA priorities for, "Achieving National Water Quality Standards with the Implementation of Programs at the Local Level."

FULL DAY WORKSHOPS ON WEDNESDAY:

EPA PRETREATMENT TRAINING

Keith Silva, USEPA Region 9, will lead the session with basic inspector training and federal program update training for pretreatment streamlining and will keep attendees current with federal requirements.

Always innovative and engaging, Greg Arthur and Anna Yen, USEPA Region 9, will give their insight into the practical side of inspection training. Their sessions promote professionalism and outside the box thinking. Be sure to bring your questions for Keith, Greg, and Anna.

STORMWATER & ENFORCEMENT TREATMENT 101

Jill Bicknell, EOA Consultants, will start the full-day workshop with Stormwater Treatment 101: Selection, Design Considerations, Maintenance, and Inspection of Treatment BMPs. Jill will close the workshop with a session on how to conduct a BMP inspection.

Scott Taylor, RBF Consultants, will also step up to the podium with Treatment Best Management Practice (BMP) Design, O&M, Performance, and Cost Considerations.

POLLUTION PREVENTION

Heather Ottaway, San Francisco Regional Water Quality Control Board, and Melody La Bella, Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, will be the training leads for this first all-day workshop on Pollution Prevention. Pollution Prevention has become an important technique in achieving required water quality permit goals. Sessions will focus on introducing the P2 concept, quantifying measurable results, product stewardship, pollutant prioritization, and large and small agency implementation. It is significant to note that Pollution Prevention is a priority in the Bay Area. The USEPA has recognized these efforts with their annual 2007 Pollution Prevention. Karin North, City of Palo Alto, and Jennifer Jackson, EBMUD, coordinated a region wide effort in the which hundreds of pounds of pharmaceuticals which may have gone to the bay was collected and incinerated. They are also working tirelessly to develop pharmaceutical take-back programs.

EQUIPMENT AND SERVICES EXHIBITION:

After sessions finish, equipment, safety and software manufacturer representatives will be available to demonstrate products and answer questions during exhibit hours Monday afternoon and all day Tuesday.

There will also be a public outreach table where you can acquire outreach literature from various wastewater agencies. Your Conference Chair will also have a sewer science lab set up. Come by and check everything out!

CWEA CONTACT HOURS:

The Annual P³S Training Conference provides 20.4 hours of contact hours for full conference attendance, which fulfills the contact hour requirement for annual certification in these disciplines: Collection Systems Management, Compliance Laboratory Analysis and more!

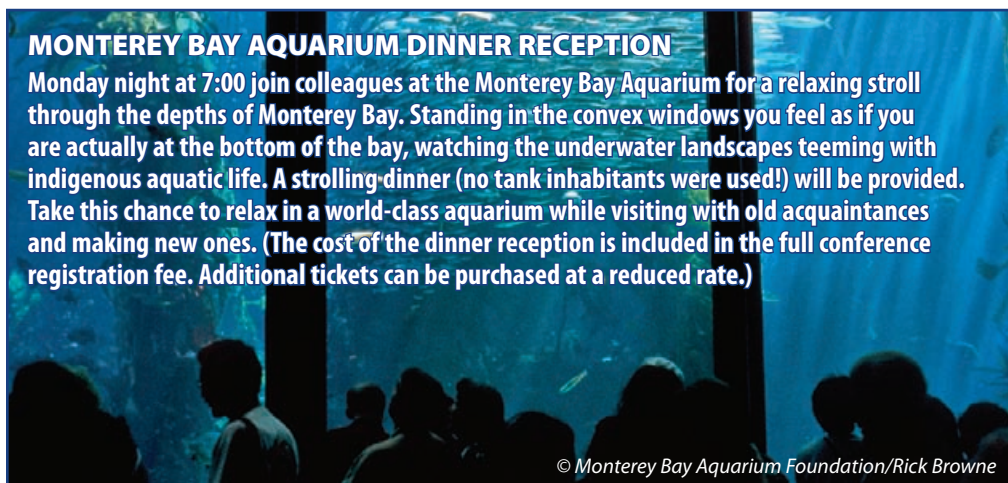

P³S COMMITTEE MEETING:

Join P³S committee volunteers Tuesday morning at 7:30 for an hour-long breakfast meeting where you can:

- Meet the current board
- Learn more about:
 - committee organization
 - current statewide projects
 - available resources (possible project funding)
- Share your ideas about training needs
- Network your public outreach

MONTEREY BAY AQUARIUM DINNER RECEPTION

Monday night at 7:00 join colleagues at the Monterey Bay Aquarium for a relaxing stroll through the depths of Monterey Bay. Standing in the convex windows you feel as if you are actually at the bottom of the bay, watching the underwater landscapes teeming with indigenous aquatic life. A strolling-dinner (no tank inhabitants were used!) will be provided. Take this chance to relax in a world-class aquarium while visiting with old acquaintances and making new ones. (The cost of the dinner reception is included in the full conference registration fee. Additional tickets can be purchased at a reduced rate.)

Panel Discussion on Pollution Prevention Programs including the following topics:

- Making the work matter, for ourselves and our audience, in the face of tight budgets and burnout
- Justifying proactive vs. reactive programs
- With shrinking newspaper staffs, how outreach efforts might change in the future. How do we make the connections count?
