opportunities. Both leaders and followers have important roles to play, and by studying each role, students receive an enriched view of the process of leadership.

Designed as a 36 credit hour two-year degree program, the MAL begins with a study of leader theories, follower theories, communication theories, and leader and follower development. The curriculum then proceeds toward a practical application of these theories through courses such as strategic planning, team development, conflict resolution, and coaching and mentoring. The Program Coordinator is Dr. Rusty Ricketson, who holds a Ph.D. in Organizational Leadership from Regent University.

The program culminates in a capstone experience with a practicum or thesis option. The practicum affords the student an opportunity to investigate and analyze leadership processes within the context of a selected work environment. The thesis option is completed under the supervision of a thesis supervisor and synthesizes the knowledge and skills acquired during study of the process of leadership. This option is especially useful to those who wish to continue their educational pursuits to the Ph.D.

OCTOBER 2013 EDITION

Take the Lead!

Unique Master's degree in Leadership only at Luther Rice

An ordinary MBA degree can teach you to administer a business... but a Master of Arts in Leadership (MAL) degree from Luther Rice University teaches you how to lead people.

This exclusive degree is available only from Luther Rice — and it differs from other leadership programs in two distinct ways.

First, the MAL focuses specifically on the dynamic relationship between leaders and followers within organizational settings.

Leadership is a process between leaders and followers toward a common goal. The MAL adds a depth of understanding for anyone who is organizationally responsible for other people. The degree provides vital information to help people respond to one another with respect while accomplishing the organizational mission.

Pastors with M.Div. degrees will find the program to be a course of study that adds organizational leadership components often absent from M.Div. curriculum. This is also a good reason to get your M.Div. from LRU — because students are able to take leadership courses as their M.Div. electives. Businessmen and women also find the leadership curriculum to be tremendously helpful in improving their ability to influence others toward greater work satisfaction and productivity.

Secondly, the MAL's focus on followers as a vital part of the leadership process makes this degree program substantively different from any other leadership degree program in the nation. The program's focus is based upon a biblical understanding that human beings were created to be followers, and that Jesus Christ's purpose on earth was to follow and fulfill the Father's purpose.

In short, the program is based upon the biblical truth that when we follow Christ, we are better prepared to assume leadership responsibilities when given those

The Master of Arts in Leadership, coordinated by Dr. Rusty Ricketson, is a degree unique to Luther Rice and will prepare students to connect with and lead people in business, church ... anywhere.

A Personal Word

from DR. FLANAGAN

God has been gracious to us at Luther Rice. For His blessings, we give thanks.

We are grateful for more than 1,000 students this semester — men and women from nearly 50 states and territories, and from every continent.

I'm also grateful for my own chance to return to the classroom: I am the lead teacher in the Doctor of Ministry course "Critical Issues in Ministry" this semester.

We'll be exploring the dangerous worldviews that confront both youth and adults today, and examining how to confront them with God's Word and plan. I'm grateful to be part of an institution that stands on the Word of God and helps our students provide biblical answers for the issues confronting them and those whom they serve.

We unashamedly proclaim that salvation is through faith in Christ alone. There is hope in a hopeless world. The Truth can set us free.

Of course I am grateful for the men and women who serve with me. What a blessing it is to have Christ-like, capable, and committed co-laborers who love the Lord, love one another, and follow Him.

I am also grateful for our Board of Trustees who faithfully guide this ministry of providing biblical education to Christian ministers and leaders around the world. There is a great cooperative and cohesive spirit among our trustees, all of whom genuinely seek the best for Luther Rice.

What's more, I am grateful for you — all our supporters, many of whom are our alumni — who provide the financial means to equip those who are called to the gospel ministry. Without this lifeline, we could not provide scholarships which are needed as never before to help those who could not otherwise go to Luther Rice.

The fruit of our giving and labor is seen in the thousands of alumni serving around the world, spreading the gospel of Jesus Christ. The sun never sets on the ministry of Luther Rice. The investment made in the lives of our students is yielding a great return on investment in Kingdom work.

God is great, and we are grateful. Thank you for your partnership. May the Lord richly bless you.

Plus, in a world where true leadership is lacking no matter where we turn, I know that Dr. Flanagan and the Board of Trustees lead this institution with God's hand firmly on them. I am looking forward to the day that I cross the stage and shake*

2013 Alumnus of the Year: Dr. Eddie Bumpers

Dr. Bumpers received the award during the graduation banquet in May as he celebrated completion of his Doctor of Ministry degree. He also holds Bachelor's, Master of Arts, and Master of Divinity degrees from LRU.

Dr. Bumpers felt privileged to receive the Alumnus of the Year Award — and to be graduating alongside his son Jared, who also earned his Doctor of Ministry degree. (He and Jared also graduated together with their Master of Divinity degrees from LRU in 2010 — and Eddie's father, Harper Bumpers, also earned his Bachelor's, Master of Divinity, and Doctor of Ministry degrees from Luther Rice.)

Dr. Bumpers is pastor of Crossway Baptist Church in Springfield, Missouri, formerly Broadway Baptist Church. He has served as the Senior Pastor for the last 12 years, while son Jared has served as Student Minister for 5 years.

The church built a new facility last year and has already expanded to two services in their new auditorium. Under Eddie's leadership the church has grown from 150 to 1600 members. He gives God all the glory for this success.

Eddie was chosen for the Alumnus of the Year award because of his steadfast commitment to God, his work reaching the Springfield community with the Good News of Christ, and his significant, long-standing support of Luther Rice.

The Bumpers family story is an inspiring and God-honoring story. It is a blessing to see how God can completely transform a family line for His Kingdom when one father comes to Christ. This is good example of how Luther Rice students reach out with the Gospel to the world in need.

In August one of Mr. Quillen's schools was threatened by a mentally ill, armed gunman who entered the building and holed-up in the front office. The gunman had with him an AK 47-style assault rifle, along with 500 rounds of extra ammunition. When he heard gunfire, Mr. Quillen ran toward it and directly confronted the shooter in an attempt to safeguard the students. Through the efforts of a female office worker, Mr. Quillen, and another staff member, all of the 870 students reached safety and without injury. The attack ended peacefully when the gunman finally surrendered to police.
