Continuing Education

DIA meetings and training courses are generally approved by the Commission for Professional Development (CPD) of the Swiss Association of Pharmaceutical Professionals (SwAPP) and the Swiss Society of Pharmaceutical Medicine (SGPM) and will be honoured with credits for pharmaceutical medicine. All participants are eligible for these credits and certificates are available.

Overview

This two day conference will focus on the impact of the new pharmacovigilance legislation on regulatory affairs, from various perspectives. The changes in legislation will affect the way product assessment is carried out in both pre- and post-authorisation phases, introduce new obligations to Marketing Authorisation Holders (MAH), and bring in continuous benefit risk assessment. This important conference will also be looking at the impact of the newly founded Pharmacovigilance Risk Assessment Committee (PRAC) on the life-cycle management of products and the PRAC's interactions with other committees.

Key Topics

The conference will provide

- An update on the implementation of the new pharmacovigilance legislation with a particular emphasis on the regulatory aspects. Information will be provided on the operation of the PRAC and the new Periodic Safety Update Report/Periodic Benefit-Risk Evaluation Report (PSUR/PBRER) and Risk Management Plan (RMP) requirements will be explored including how assessments will be handled by PRAC
- An overview of the key elements for Post-authorisation Safety Studies (PASS) and Post-authorisation Efficacy Studies (PAES) and sessions will review how the new pharmacovigilance legislation is impacting regulatory affairs and drug development more broadly.

Sessions will include

- Overview of PRAC and new pharmacovigilance requirements
- New pharmacovigilance legislation and how it is impacting drug development
- Involvement of two sets of rapporteurs in the procedures and impact on regulatory affairs
- Referrals, opinions and conditions
- New pharmacovigilance legislation and the opportunities for regulatory affairs
- Panel discussion on impact on drug development and approval

Objectives

- To provide insight into the regulatory requirements, scientific and operational challenges associated with the implementation of the new pharmacovigilance legislation
- Attendance will offer opportunities to exchange experiences and hear from the regulators directly about how different aspects of the new legislation will be implemented

Who Will Attend

This conference is aimed at intermediate and experienced professionals from

- Regulatory agencies
- The pharmaceutical industry and service providers
- Academic institutions including

- Regulatory affairs personnel
- Pharmacovigilance staff
- Quality assurance personnel for pharmacovigilance and pharmacovigilance inspectors
