

“Get some spark in the old girl...”

When men were men and cars were cars not aided by modern poxy fuel-injection and anti-knock control systems, high-octane leaded fuel was the ticket to guaranteeing that your race engine could run ideal engine timing. Leaded 5-star was available throughout the UK and although not a clean-burning fuel, it ensured that the valves were properly lubricated and that detonation was not an issue.

Nowadays, modern cars are very adaptable, so consistency of pump fuels is not high on the oil companies' agenda. Their focus is to minimising cost and meeting – just – the minimum British Standards for unleaded petrol (BS EN228). Most motorists however, are trying to get the best deal counting their pennies when filling up their petrol tanks. This is perfectly acceptable as modern cars can cope with any fuel that meets the above-mentioned standard.

A race engine, however, and especially an historic race engine with no electronic control gizmos, is much more sensitive to what it is fed.

Sunoco Race Fuels – distributed by Anglo American Oil Company Ltd – are renowned for their quality, consistency and performance. Sunoco is supporting all BRC rounds with a pumped service. We will have a 99-octane oxygenated racing super unleaded on tap at every round (as well as the BRC 102 octane fuel). We invite all historic racers to use this service but please note that only the 99 octane falls within the Historic Rally Regulations – please call for more information.

Yes, we are more expensive than your average forecourt fuel, but then we are supplying higher grade fuels and we take the fuel station to you.

However, the RSUR (99RON, 88MON and 1.8% oxygen) starts at a heavily-discounted price of only £1.28* + VAT per litre, which represents amazing value as it surpasses all pump fuels in quality, consistency and performance.

Kindly give us a call (or just fill in the attached order form below) the week before the rally to make sure that we have enough fuel on the truck.

We look forward to hearing from you!

Rally regards
