SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

INSTRUCTIONS FOR DISSOLUTION OF MARRIAGE, LEGAL SEPARATION, OR NULLITY

Note: The way you mark the boxes on these forms, and the information you provide, may permanently determine your rights, now and in the future. You may also be limiting the court's ability to make orders on your behalf. You should consult an attorney regarding your rights and obligations. Family Law Facilitators hold workshops to help you complete the forms in this packet. See additional information on the other side of this sheet.

1. Before you begin, read the forms and this instruction sheet completely. Remember to type or print clearly.
2. To start your case you must fill out the following forms:
 - FAMILY LAW CERTIFICATE OF ASSIGNMENT (SDSC Form #D-049)
 - SUMMONS (Family Law) (JC Form #FL-110)
 - PETITION-MARRIAGE (Family Law) (JC Form #FL-100)
 - PROPERTY DECLARATION (Family Law) (JC Form #FL-160)
 - INCOME AND EXPENSE DECLARATION (JC Form #FL-150)

If you have minor children from this marriage, you must also fill out a DECLARATION UNDER UNIFORM CHILD CUSTODY JURISDICTION AND ENFORCEMENT ACT (UCCJEA) (JC Form #FL-105). In addition, fill out and exchange with your spouse a DECLARATION OF DISCLOSURE (Family Law) (JC Form #FL-140) and a SCHEDULE OF ASSETS AND DEBTS (Family Law) (JC Form #FL-142).

3. You must mark the box selecting the type of case you are filing. A dissolution of marriage and a legal separation are similar. The court will divide your property and issue orders on child custody, visitation, child support and/or spousal support in either type of case.
 - File for dissolution of marriage if you want the court to make you a single person again. You must have been a resident of California for the last 6 months and of the County of San Diego for the last 3 months, immediately before you file.
 - File for legal separation if you want to remain married but want to live separately from your spouse.
 - Before requesting a nullity of marriage (annulment) read the categories listed on page 2 of the petition. The length of your marriage does not automatically qualify you for a nullity. You must qualify under one of the listed categories.
4. The packet also contains forms for your spouse. Do not write on the forms after the page marked "Respondent." These forms are for your spouse to complete. You will have these forms served on your spouse along with copies of your completed forms.
5. Remember to write your name as the "petitioner." Write the name of your spouse as the "respondent."
6. Once you complete the forms, make two copies of each form. Go to the business office of the court closest to your home and present the original and both copies to the clerk.
7. The clerk will use the original of each form to open the court file and will return two file-stamped copies of each form to you. Keep one set of copies for yourself. The other set of copies must be served on your spouse. It is your responsibility to have one copy of each of the forms filed with the court, and the blank forms marked for "Respondent," served on your spouse. Anyone over the age of 18, other than you, may personally serve the forms.
8. If your spouse lives in California, he/she must be personally served. If your spouse lives outside California, he/she may be served by certified mail, restricted delivery, return receipt.

9. The person who served your spouse must complete a PROOF OF SERVICE OF SUMMONS (JC Form #FL-115). Make two copies of the completed form. Take the original and the two copies to the business office of the same court where you filed the papers to start the case.
10. Even though you have filed and asked for a dissolution of marriage or a nullity of marriage, you will remain married to your spouse until a judgment has been entered by the court.
11. A legal separation will not become effective until a judgment has been entered by the court. Remember, a judgment of legal separation does NOT end your marriage.
12. Entry of a judgment is not automatic. A judgment will not be entered unless you follow the proper procedures and not until you obtain and file the additional forms contained in the Dissolution Judgment packet.

- FAMILY LAW MEDIATION PROJECT

Mediation assistance is available to resolve contested issues between you and your spouse. Note: In this program, mediation is not provided for child custody or visitation issues. Both you and your spouse must be willing to attend mediation. Often, when parties are able to reach an agreement, no court appearance is necessary.

In the southern part of San Diego County, this program is operated by the National Conflict Resolution Center* located at 625 Broadway, Suite 1221, San Diego, CA 92101 (619) 238-2400. In the northern part of San Diego County, LIFELINE* (760) 940-6676 or (760) 726-4900 provides similar services. LIFELINE mediation is located in the North County Courthouse.

These programs are not affiliated with the court, and each program is independently responsible for compliance with any and all applicable legal requirements. The court does not endorse, evaluate, supervise, or monitor these programs.*

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION INFORMATION NOTICE

Mediation, arbitration, collaborative family law, and the use of a privately compensated temporary judge are methods of Alternative Dispute Resolution which are available to you at any stage of the proceedings in an action for the dissolution or annulment of your marriage or domestic partnership, or in an action for legal separation. The costs associated with any of these Alternative Dispute Resolution methods must be determined directly between you and the professionals you choose to use.

Mediation is a voluntary settlement process in which the parties meet with an impartial mediator. The mediator assists the parties to clarify issues, facilitate communication and consider options for settlement in their attempt to reach a mutually acceptable agreement. This process is different from the court-controlled litigation process because, in mediation, the parties make the decisions instead of a judge. In mediation, the parties control the division of their assets, the provisions for child and spousal support, and the sharing of their children. Discussions take place in the privacy of the mediator's office and no court appearances are necessary. When mediation is completed and an agreement reached, the agreement is put into writing, signed by the parties, filed with the court, and a judgment entered.

Arbitration is a voluntary process in which the parties select an independent, qualified, third party to hear and consider the facts and evidence in their case and make decisions on their contested issues. These decisions may be final and binding or they may be nonbinding, as determined by the agreement of the parties. Parties can submit all or some of the contested issues in their case for decision by their arbitrator. If binding, the arbitrator's decisions are included in the judgment entered by the court.

Collaborative Family Law is a voluntary process in which both parties commit themselves to resolving their issues through a cooperative approach rather than adversarial litigation. This process relies on the commitment of the parties to exercise honesty, cooperation, and integrity in working toward the future well-being of each of the parties, and, if there are children, the family. A team of experts assists the parties in solving problems, developing options, and creating a positive context for settlement. Each party works with a collaborative family law attorney and a communication coach. The parties jointly hire a financial expert and, where appropriate, a child specialist to give the children a voice in the process. All information and documentation is voluntarily shared. The essence of the process is a series of face-to-face meetings between the parties and the relevant members of the professional team. When the process is completed, a written settlement agreement is prepared, signed, and filed, and a judgment is entered by the court.

Using a Privately Compensated Temporary Judge (PCTJ) is a voluntary process in which, with the court's authorization, the parties may agree to use a qualified individual (often a retired judge or an experienced family law attorney) to resolve some or all of the substantive or procedural issues in their case. The decisions made by the PCTJ in your case will have the same force and effect as decisions made by a trial court judge. Parties wishing to use a PCTJ must advise the court as soon as possible by submitting a written stipulation signed by both parties and their attorneys (if they are represented).

These Alternative Dispute Resolution methods may or may not be appropriate for every case or individual. You should seek the advice of counsel regarding the best way to resolve your issues. If you decide to use one of these Alternative Dispute Resolution methods, it is suggested that you use the services of qualified professionals. If you need emergency restraining orders, Alternative Dispute Resolution may not be appropriate at this time.

You are encouraged to serve a copy of this fact sheet on the other party when you serve your family law action.

NOTICE: Dissolution or legal separation may automatically cancel the rights of a spouse under the other spouse's will, trust, retirement plan, power of attorney, pay on death bank account, survivorship rights to any property owned in joint tenancy, and any other similar thing. It does not automatically cancel the right of a spouse as beneficiary of the other spouse's life insurance policy. You should review these matters, as well as any credit cards, other credit accounts, insurance policies, retirement plans, and credit reports to determine whether they should be changed or whether you should take any other actions. However, some changes may require the agreement of your spouse or a court order (see Family Code sections 231–235).

WARNING—IMPORTANT INFORMATION

WARNING: California law provides that, for purposes of division of property upon dissolution of a marriage or domestic partnership or upon legal separation, property acquired by the parties during marriage or domestic partnership in joint form is presumed to be community property. If either party to this action should die before the jointly held community property is divided, the language in the deed that characterizes how title is held (i.e., joint tenancy, tenants in common, or community property) will be controlling, and not the community property presumption. You should consult your attorney if you want the community property presumption to be written into the recorded title to the property.

STANDARD FAMILY LAW RESTRAINING ORDERS

Starting immediately, you and your spouse or domestic partner are restrained from

1. Removing the minor child or children of the parties, if any, from the state without the prior written consent of the other party or an order of the court;
2. Cashing, borrowing against, canceling, transferring, disposing of, or changing the beneficiaries of any insurance or other coverage, including life, health, automobile, and disability, held for the benefit of the parties and their minor child or children;
3. Transferring, encumbering, hypothecating, concealing, or in any way disposing of any property, real or personal, whether community, quasi-community, or separate, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court, except in the usual course of business or for the necessities of life; and
4. Creating a nonprobate transfer or modifying a nonprobate transfer in a manner that affects the disposition of property subject to the transfer, without the written consent of the other party or an order of the court. Before revocation of a nonprobate transfer can take effect or a right of survivorship to property can be eliminated, notice of the change must be filed and served on the other party.

You must notify each other of any proposed extraordinary expenditures at least five business days prior to incurring these extraordinary expenditures and account to the court for all extraordinary expenditures made after these restraining orders are effective. However, you may use community property, quasi-community property, or your own separate property to pay an attorney to help you or to pay court costs.

ADVERTENCIA – INFORMACIÓN IMPORTANTE

ADVERTENCIA: De acuerdo a la ley de California, las propiedades adquiridas por las partes durante su matrimonio o pareja de hecho en forma conjunta se consideran propiedad comunitaria para los fines de la división de bienes que ocurre cuando se produce una disolución o separación legal del matrimonio o pareja de hecho. Si cualquiera de las partes de este caso llega a fallecer antes de que se divida la propiedad comunitaria de tenencia conjunta, el destino de la misma quedará determinado por las cláusulas de la escritura correspondiente que describen su tenencia (por ej., tenencia conjunta, tenencia en común o propiedad comunitaria) y no por la presunción de propiedad comunitaria. Si quiere que la presunción comunitaria quede registrada en la escritura de la propiedad, debería consultar con un abogado.

ÓRDENES DE RESTRICCIÓN NORMALES DE DERECHO FAMILIAR

En forma inmediata, usted y su cónyuge o pareja de hecho tienen prohibido:

1. Llevarse del estado de California a los hijos menores de las partes, si los hubiera, sin el consentimiento previo por escrito de la otra parte o una orden de la corte;
2. Cobrar, pedir prestado, cancelar, transferir, deshacerse o cambiar el nombre de los beneficiarios de cualquier seguro u otro tipo de cobertura, tal como de vida, salud, vehículo y discapacidad, que tenga como beneficiario(s) a las partes y su(s) hijo(s) menor(es);
3. Transferir, gravar, hipotecar, ocultar o deshacerse de cualquier manera de cualquier propiedad, inmueble o personal, ya sea comunitaria, cuasicomunitaria o separada, sin el consentimiento escrito de la otra parte o una orden de la corte, con excepción las operaciones realizadas en el curso normal de actividades o para satisfacer las necesidades de la vida; y
4. Crear o modificar una transferencia no testamentaria de manera que afecte el destino de una propiedad sujeta a transferencia, sin el consentimiento por escrito de la otra parte o una orden de la corte. Antes de que se pueda eliminar la revocación de una transferencia no testamentaria, se debe presentar ante la corte un aviso del cambio y hacer una entrega legal de dicho aviso a la otra parte.

Cada parte tiene que notificar a la otra sobre cualquier gasto extraordinario propuesto, por lo menos cinco días laborales antes de realizarlo, y rendir cuenta a la corte de todos los gastos extraordinarios realizados después de que estas órdenes de restricción hayan entrado en vigencia. No obstante, puede usar propiedad comunitaria, cuasicomunitaria o suya separada para pagar a un abogado o para ayudarlo a pagar los costos de la corte.

NOTICE OF RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES

Health-Care Costs and Reimbursement Procedures

IF YOU HAVE A CHILD SUPPORT ORDER THAT INCLUDES A PROVISION FOR THE REIMBURSEMENT OF A PORTION OF THE CHILD'S OR CHILDREN'S HEALTH-CARE COSTS AND THOSE COSTS ARE NOT PAID BY INSURANCE, THE LAW SAYS:

1. Notice. You must give the other parent an itemized statement of the charges that have been billed for any health-care costs not paid by insurance. You must give this statement to the other parent within a reasonable time, but no more than 30 days after those costs were given to you.

2. Proof of full payment. If you have already paid all of the uninsured costs, you must (1) give the other parent proof that you paid them and (2) ask for reimbursement for the other parent's court-ordered share of those costs.

3. Proof of partial payment. If you have paid only your share of the uninsured costs, you must (1) give the other parent proof that you paid your share, (2) ask that the other parent pay his or her share of the costs directly to the health-care provider, and (3) give the other parent the information necessary for that parent to be able to pay the bill.

4. Payment by notified parent. If you receive notice from a parent that an uninsured health-care cost has been incurred, you must pay your share of that cost within the time the court orders; or if the court has not specified a period of time, you must make payment (1) within 30 days from the time you were given notice of the amount due, (2) according to any payment schedule set by the health-care provider, (3) according to a schedule agreed to in writing by you and the other parent, or (4) according to a schedule adopted by the court.

5. Disputed charges. If you dispute a charge, you may file a motion in court to resolve the dispute, but only if you pay that charge before filing your motion.

If you claim that the other party has failed to reimburse you for a payment, or the other party has failed to make a payment to the provider after proper notice has been given, you may file a motion in court to resolve the dispute. The court will presume that if uninsured costs have been paid, those costs were reasonable. The court may award attorney fees and costs against a party who has been unreasonable.

6. Court-ordered insurance coverage. If a parent provides health-care insurance as ordered by the court, that insurance must be used at all times to the extent that it is available for health-care costs.

- a. Burden to prove. The party claiming that the coverage is inadequate to meet the child's needs has the burden of proving that to the court.
- b. Cost of additional coverage. If a parent purchases health-care insurance in addition to that ordered by the court, that parent must pay all the costs of the additional coverage. In addition, if a parent uses alternative coverage that costs more than the coverage provided by court order, that parent must pay the difference.

7. Preferred health providers. If the court-ordered coverage designates a preferred health-care provider, that provider must be used at all times consistent with the terms of the health insurance policy. When any party uses a health-care provider other than the preferred provider, any health-care costs that would have been paid by the preferred health provider if that provider had been used must be the sole responsibility of the party incurring those costs.

INFORMATION SHEET ON CHANGING A CHILD SUPPORT ORDER

General Information

The court has just made a child support order in your case. This order will remain the same unless a party to the action requests that the support be changed (modified). An order for child support can be modified only by filing a motion to change child support and serving each party involved in your case. If both parents and the local child support agency (if it is involved) agree on a new child support amount, you can complete, have all parties sign, and file with the court a Stipulation to Establish or Modify Child Support and Order (form FL-350) or Stipulation and Order (Governmental) (form FL-625).

When a Child Support Order May Be Modified

The court takes several things into account when ordering the payment of child support. First, the number of children is considered. Next, the net incomes of both parents are determined, along with the percentage of time each parent has physical custody of the children. The court considers both parties' tax filing status and may consider hardships, such as a child of another relationship. An existing order for child support may be modified when the net income of one of the parents changes significantly, the parenting schedule changes significantly, or a new child is born.

Examples

- You have been ordered to pay $500 per month in child support. You lose your job. You will continue to owe $500 per month, plus 10 percent interest on any unpaid support, unless you file a motion to modify your child support to a lower amount and the court orders a reduction.
- You are currently receiving $300 per month in child support from the other parent, whose net income has just increased substantially. You will continue to receive $300 per month unless you file a motion to modify your child support to a higher amount and the court orders an increase.
- You are paying child support based upon having physical custody of your children 30 percent of the time. After several months it turns out that you actually have physical custody of the children 50 percent of the time. You may file a motion to modify child support to a lower amount.

How to Change a Child Support Order

To change a child support order, you must file papers with the court. Remember: You must follow the order you have now.

What forms do I need?

If you are asking to change a child support order open with the local child support agency, you must fill out one of these forms:

- FL-680, Notice of Motion (Governmental) or FL-683 Order to Show Cause (Governmental) and
- FL-684, Request for Order and Supporting Declaration (Governmental)

If you are asking to change a child support order that is not open with the local child support agency, you must fill out one of these forms:

- FL-301, Notice of Motion or FL-300, Order to Show Cause and
- FL-310, Application for Order and Supporting Declaration or
- FL-390, Notice of Motion and Motion for Simplified Modification of Order for Child, Spousal, or Family Support

You must also fill out one of these forms:

- FL-150, Income and Expense Declaration or FL-155, Financial Statement (Simplified)

What if I am not sure which forms to fill out?

Talk to the family law facilitator at your court.

After you fill out the forms, file them with the court clerk and ask for a hearing date. Write the hearing date on the form.

The clerk will ask you to pay a filing fee. If you cannot afford the fee, fill out these forms, too:

- Form FW-001, Application for Waiver of Court Fees and Costs
- Form FW-003, Order on Application for Waiver of Court Fees and Costs

You must serve the other parent. If the local child support agency is involved, serve it too.

This means someone 18 or over—not you—must serve the other parent copies of your filed court forms at least 16 court days before the hearing. Add 5 calendar days if you serve by mail within California (see Code of Civil Procedure section 1005 for other situations).

Court days are weekdays when the court is open for business (Monday through Friday except court holidays). Calendar days include all days of the month, including weekends and holidays. To determine court and calendar days, go to www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp/courtcalendars/.

The server must also serve blank copies of these forms:

- FL-320, Responsive Declaration to Order to Show Cause or Notice of Motion and FL-150, Income and Expense Declaration, or
- FL-155, Financial Statement (Simplified)

Then the server fills out and signs a Proof of Service (form FL-330 or FL-335). Take this form to the clerk and file it.

Go to your hearing and ask the judge to change the support. Bring your tax returns from the last two years and your last two months' pay stubs. The judge will look at your information, listen to both parents, and make an order. After the hearing, fill out:

- FL-340, Findings and Order After Hearing and
- FL-342, Child Support Information and Order Attachment

Contact the family law facilitator in your county or call your county's bar association and ask for an experienced family lawyer.

Parties who come to court about child custody and visitation face decisions about parenting plans for their children. This information sheet provides general information about child custody and visitation matters, how to get help resolving a custody dispute or making a parenting plan, where to find an attorney, and where to find other resources.

What is a parenting plan?

A parenting plan describes how the parties will divide their responsibilities for taking care of their child.

The plan may include a general or specific schedule of days, times, weekends, holidays, vacations, transportation, pick-up/drop-off, limits on travel, and other details.

What are legal and physical custody?

A parenting plan usually includes:

- Legal custody: who makes major decisions about the child's health, education, and welfare;
- Physical custody: who the child lives with;
- Time-share or visitation: when the child spends time with each party.

Legal custody and physical custody may each be specified as joint (both parties have certain responsibilities) or sole (one party has the responsibility alone).

Can we make our own parenting plan?

Yes. You have a right to make a parenting plan agreement on your own. This agreement may be called a stipulation, time-share plan, or parenting plan.

If both parties can agree on a parenting plan, the judge will probably approve it. The agreement becomes a court order after it is signed by both parties, signed by the judge, and filed with the court.

What if there is domestic violence or a protective order?

If there is domestic violence or a protective order, talk with a lawyer, counselor, or mediator before making a parenting plan.

For domestic violence help, call the National Domestic Violence Hotline:
1-800-799-7233, TDD:1-800-787-3224, or call 211 (if available in your area).

What if we don't have a parenting plan?

If you can't reach an agreement, the court will refer you to mediation with family court services to try to work out a parenting plan.

What is mediation with family court services?

Family court services (FCS) provides mediation to help parties resolve disagreements about the care of their child. The mediator will meet with you and the other party to try to help you make a parenting plan. This is a free service provided by the court.

If you are concerned about meeting with the other party in mediation, or there is domestic violence or a protective order involving the other party, you may ask to meet alone with the mediator without the other party. You may also have a support person with you at mediation. The support person may not speak for you.

Do we have to agree to a parenting plan in mediation?

No. You do not have to come to an agreement in mediation. When the parties can't agree, the judge will decide.

In some courts, the judge will consider the mediator's recommendations about the parenting plan. Ask family court services about how the process works in your court.

Are there other ways to resolve our dispute?

Yes. There are other Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) options you may try, including:

1. Meet and Confer: Parties and their lawyers (if any) may meet at any time and as often as necessary to work out a parenting plan without a court hearing. If there is a protective order limiting the contact between the parties, then the “meet and confer” can be through lawyers or a mediator in separate sessions.

2. Settlement Conference: In some courts, parties may meet with a judge, neutral evaluators, or family law lawyers not involved in your case to discuss settlement. Check with your local court to find out if this is an option. If there is a protective order, the settlement discussion can be through lawyers or a mediator in separate sessions.

3. Private Mediation: Parties may hire a private mediator to help them resolve their dispute.

4. Collaborative Law Process: Each party hires a lawyer and agrees to resolve the dispute without going to court. The parties may also hire other experts.

Court Hearing

When the parties cannot agree to a parenting plan on their own, in mediation, or in any other ADR process, the judge will decide.

If there is domestic violence or a protective order, you may bring a support person with you to the court hearing, but the support person may not speak for you.

Where can I get help?

This information sheet gives only basic information on the child custody process and is not legal advice. If you want legal advice, ask a lawyer for assistance. You may also:

1. Contact family court services.
2. Contact the family law facilitator or self-help center for information, court forms, and referrals to local legal services providers.
3. Find a lawyer through your local bar association, the State Bar of California at <http://calbar.ca.gov>, or call the Lawyer Referral Service at 1-866-442-2529 or 415-538-2250.
4. Hire a private mediator for help with your parenting agreement. A mediator may be a lawyer or counselor. Contact your local bar association, court ADR program, or family court services for a referral to local resources.
5. Find information on the Online Self-Help Center Web site: www.courtinfo.ca.gov/selfhelp.
6. For free and low-cost legal help (if you qualify), go to: www.lawhelpcalifornia.org.
7. Find information at your local law library or ask at your public library.
8. Ask for a court hearing and let the judge decide what is best for your child.

Requests for Accommodations

Assistive listening systems, computer-assisted real-time captioning, or sign language interpreter services are available if you ask at least five days before the proceeding. Contact the clerk's office or go to www.courtinfo.ca.gov/forms for Request for Accommodations by Persons With Disabilities and Response (form MC-410). (Civil Code, § 54.8.)

SUPERIOR COURT OF CALIFORNIA, COUNTY OF SAN DIEGO

ALTERNATIVE DISPUTE RESOLUTION INFORMATION NOTICE

Mediation, arbitration, collaborative family law, and the use of a privately compensated temporary judge are methods of Alternative Dispute Resolution which are available to you at any stage of the proceedings in an action for the dissolution or annulment of your marriage or domestic partnership, or in an action for legal separation. The costs associated with any of these Alternative Dispute Resolution methods must be determined directly between you and the professionals you choose to use.

Mediation is a voluntary settlement process in which the parties meet with an impartial mediator. The mediator assists the parties to clarify issues, facilitate communication and consider options for settlement in their attempt to reach a mutually acceptable agreement. This process is different from the court-controlled litigation process because, in mediation, the parties make the decisions instead of a judge. In mediation, the parties control the division of their assets, the provisions for child and spousal support, and the sharing of their children. Discussions take place in the privacy of the mediator's office and no court appearances are necessary. When mediation is completed and an agreement reached, the agreement is put into writing, signed by the parties, filed with the court, and a judgment entered.

Arbitration is a voluntary process in which the parties select an independent, qualified, third party to hear and consider the facts and evidence in their case and make decisions on their contested issues. These decisions may be final and binding or they may be nonbinding, as determined by the agreement of the parties. Parties can submit all or some of the contested issues in their case for decision by their arbitrator. If binding, the arbitrator's decisions are included in the judgment entered by the court.

Collaborative Family Law is a voluntary process in which both parties commit themselves to resolving their issues through a cooperative approach rather than adversarial litigation. This process relies on the commitment of the parties to exercise honesty, cooperation, and integrity in working toward the future well-being of each of the parties, and, if there are children, the family. A team of experts assists the parties in solving problems, developing options, and creating a positive context for settlement. Each party works with a collaborative family law attorney and a communication coach. The parties jointly hire a financial expert and, where appropriate, a child specialist to give the children a voice in the process. All information and documentation is voluntarily shared. The essence of the process is a series of face-to-face meetings between the parties and the relevant members of the professional team. When the process is completed, a written settlement agreement is prepared, signed, and filed, and a judgment is entered by the court.

Using a Privately Compensated Temporary Judge (PCTJ) is a voluntary process in which, with the court's authorization, the parties may agree to use a qualified individual (often a retired judge or an experienced family law attorney) to resolve some or all of the substantive or procedural issues in their case. The decisions made by the PCTJ in your case will have the same force and effect as decisions made by a trial court judge. Parties wishing to use a PCTJ must advise the court as soon as possible by submitting a written stipulation signed by both parties and their attorneys (if they are represented).

These Alternative Dispute Resolution methods may or may not be appropriate for every case or individual. You should seek the advice of counsel regarding the best way to resolve your issues. If you decide to use one of these Alternative Dispute Resolution methods, it is suggested that you use the services of qualified professionals. If you need emergency restraining orders, Alternative Dispute Resolution may not be appropriate at this time.

You are encouraged to serve a copy of this fact sheet on the other party when you serve your family law action.

- NOTICE: You may redact (black out) social security numbers from any written material filed with the court in this case other than a form used to collect child or spousal support.
