LISTEN Gets Top Billing With Clough

Clark Clough, Boise, Idaho, is not a Seventh-day Adventist. However, he is a dedicated committed Christian who gives a minimum of 300 hours a month to temperance education in the Gem State.

One of his favorite tools in his regular contacts with Idaho youth is Listen. At this present time he is contacting junior, senior high school and college students in Boise, Nampa, and Meridian using primarily two issues of Listen.

"Those who edit Listen are people of God," he says, "and it shows in the magazine. I particularly like the issue on "Sex, Drugs, and You." I buy this issue by the 1000's because it is so well done."

"I know of no other magazine that lays it on the line as does Listen," he continues. "It is straightforward in its approach and I appreciate its modern terminology."

There are many others like Clark Clough who use and appreciate Listen. What about you?

During the next two Sabbaths you will be hearing about Listen during the Lay Activities period. An opportunity will be provided for you to make use of this top-rated journal. You can use Listen in your personal witnessing, and make it available to schools and others by your gift subscriptions.

Clark Clough will be using Listen. Will you?

Small Book Has Runaway Sales

A thin little volume printed by the Review and Herald Publishing Association is refusing to conform to normal sales patterns, according to Hugh Forquer, book department

"Getting It All Together, by Don Hawley, is one of the most popular books we've produced lately," says Forquer. "Ordinarily the sales life of a book is quite predictable. If it is going to be a well-accepted volume, sales build rather rapidly and then fall off abruptly as the market becomes saturated.

"But with Getting It All Together," continues the book department manager, "things are working somewhat in reverse. The original 20,000 copies of this book began to move quite well as soon as they hit the market, about the middle of 1974. By the end of the year a little more than three-fourths of the printing were sold. Then, instead of the usual drop-off, the remaining 4,000 copies disappeared during the first 30 days of 1975.

"We had already realized a second printing was indicated, but unfortunately didn't anticipate the increasing demand for this particular volume. It is a good thing as we now have more than a thousand back orders with more coming in daily." The new printing will be available very soon.

Forquer's associate, Bob Kinney, believes he knows the reason why Getting It All Together has been so successful. He cites six basic factors:

- The book deals with a subject many church members are particularly interested in today; living a daily life of victory in Jesus Christ.
- 2. The very heart of the gospel is presented in simple terms, using an easy-to-read style.
- 3. Young people relate to the straight-forward approach. An Andrews University professor writes that the message is having a real impact with students.

SPECIAL 20 PER CENT DISCOUNT

During the month of March, 1975, there will be a special 20 per cent discount on all Chapel / Bridge Records and tapes at your Adventist Book Center. Available are albums so full of the joy, the hope, the love, and the miracle of the Christian experience it will bring beauty and richness into your home and into your life this year, and for many years to come.

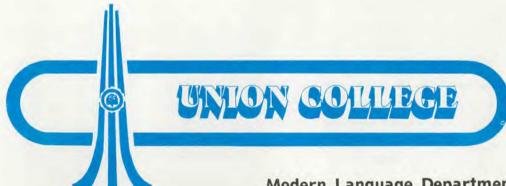

Your Adventist Book Center wants you to have many of these records and tapes in your personal library. This is their way of saying "thank you" for your support and patronage of the ABC.

- 4. Only 79 pages in length, the book can be read quite easily in one sitting. This gives the reader an overview of the subject that might not be apparent with a much larger volume.
- Because of its brevity, and because Spirit of Prophecy quotations are printed in a second color, readers find it an easy book to refer back to. Some report having read certain sections of the work several times.
 - 6. The inexpensiveness of the volume encourages readers to purchase copies for loved ones and friends. One layman reports having given away over 200 copies.

Forquer predicts Getting It All Together will continued to be in demand for some time. "We have a whole drawer full of letters praising the message contained in this small book. Many indicate their entire life has been changed by its challenge and encouragement. Each reader tends to become a salesperson, and nothing is more effective than word-of-mouth promotion stemming from personal conviction."

Director of Admissions, Union College Lincoln, NE 68506 location of the Worlds Fair, and a French-speaking Seventhday Adventist church are only a few highlights of the three days in Montreal, the largest city in Canada," says Andre Rebsomen, instructor in Modern Languages.

Quebec, the only walled city north of Mexico, offers such interesting sights as the Citadel, a huge walled fortress of 25 buildings surrounded by a moat; the Ursuline Convent founded in 1639, the first girls' school of North America; and the Parliament Buildings, built in Seventeenth Century French Renaissance style.

The tour will consist of about a dozen students. The primary purpose of the trip is for the students to practice the French language in its natural setting.

Tour guide, Mr. Rebsomen, is a native of Casablanca in French Morocco. He is a graduate of Union College and received his M.A. at the University of Nebraska. He is a member of the American Association of Teachers of French, member of the Modern Language Association, and The American Academy of Political and Social Science.

Half-way Mark Reached in Campaign

Union College students have reached the halfway mark in a campaign towards the $12,000 needed to send 14 students on one-year overseas assignments as volunteers to work in Seventh-day Adventist churches, hospitals and schools in foreign countries.

Several different fund-raising projects have been conducted by the students. Over $5,000 of the goal was raised by bake sales held in the College View area and a work-a-thon held in November. Alumni of Union College and local businessmen donated funds to help in this project. The students of the college worked in homes of people here in Lincoln repairing and cleaning them.

The members of the College View Seventh-day Adventist Church have contributed nearly $1,000, the largest amount to be given to the fund at any one time this year.

"Our fund raising projects so far have been very successful. The people of the college and the community are showing great interest in the program," says Gary Wagner, student coordinator. "Their continued support will help us to be ready to send the volunteers to their assignments by the first of June."

Anyone interested in contributing to the goal should contact Gary Wagner, Union College, Prescott Hall, Lincoln, NE 68506, Phone (402) 488-2334.

NEBRASKA

Special Sabbath in Grand Island Church

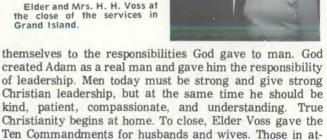

Sabbath, February 8, Elder Howard Voss, president of the Nebraska Conference, spoke to the Grand Island church members. His message came from John 1, the "finders" chapter. When Andrew found Jesus, the Lamb of God, verses 41, 42 says "He first findeth his own brother Simon, and saith unto him. We have found the Messiah, which is, being interpreted, the Christ, And he brought him to Jesus." Here is something each one of us can do, we can find a loved one, friend, or neighbor and bring him to Jesus.

After the service, everyone went to the church basement for a delicious fellowship dinner. Topics for discussion were assigned to each table with a moderator leading out in the conversation. After dinner, the moderators gave the whole group a brief report on their discussions.

In the afternoon, Elder and Mrs. Voss showed pictures and gave a report on the mission activities of their daughter, Mary Sue, and their son-in-law, Dale Woods, who are student missionaries in Seoul, Korea. The program was enjoyed by all, and especially two ladies, Mrs. Douglas Eszler and Mrs. Larry Cook, who come from Korea. After this, Elder and Mrs. Voss talked on the Christian home. Satan centers his activities on the home. The results of his efforts can be seen by the many problems found in the homes today. Mrs. Voss addressed her remarks to the ladies. Many women today are losing their identity. God created Eve to be a woman; giving her an important role to play in the home. God's instructions have not changed, but many women have tried to change God's plans. Elder Voss challenged the men to rededicate

Elder and Mrs. H. H. Voss at the close of the services in Grand Island.

Elder V. L. Heglund, Pastor

Youthful Missionaries

by Elder and Mrs. H. H. Voss.

Mrs. Ted Dunston, church school teacher in the Broken Bow district, has a special burden to involve her students in activities unique to our church and to the times in which we are living. Because of this conviction that the children need to develop a missionary and service outlook, she tries to relate all their activities to this end. As a result, there is no time for "busy work" to occupy time only.

tendance appreciated very much the beneficial counsel given

The possibilities for this kind of thing are endless-here are a few examples. The children used a portion of their free time in February to prepare one of four mailings to a town where evangelistic meetings were scheduled in the district. As they stuffed, stapled, counted, and licked-the teacher explained the purpose for the mailings to every home and what the Gift Bible offers were for. Besides performing a job that needed doing, the children had a part in a valuable missionary activity.

One of their most recent projects has been to make a quilt for the community center in Broken Bow, which had already given away all its good quilts this winter. The children brought discarded clothing, ripped the seams, cut the material into squares, and arranged the blocks. With a little adult assistance on the sewing end, they presented a new quilt to the welfare director — with understandable pride and excitement.

The latest request is for a snow shovel so that the boys and girls can spend their free time offering to clean walks for neighboring elderly residents.

The contagious enthusiasm and feeling of accomplishment displayed by Mrs. Dunston and her students illustrate the unique potential we have in following the principles of education set forth by Ellen G. White.

Lincoln SDA Schools in Fruit Business

The Home and School Association of the Lincoln Adventist Schools went into the citrus fruit business this year. In the past many things have been sold—candy being the foremost—but this year the group felt that we should not only raise money, but render a service. So, we joined sister organizations who sponsor wholesome, delicious, fresh-fromthe-tree citrus fruit. The response has been very good, and the orders are increasing month by month.

The purpose of the fund drives each year is to provide the schools with equipment to improve the educational environment for the students. The drive this year is to provide a bus so the schools can plan field trips more freely. The officers and their helpers have worked hard to build up the citrus business. Many have spent hours each month helping distribute the fruit. All feel the time and effort worthwhile in view of the blessings to accrue to the students, as well as to those who enjoy the fruit.

If any readers in the Lincoln area have been overlooked in our campaign, feel free to call the school, and we will see that you get on our list to receive fruit each month.

HAVE YOU STARTED FOLLOWING THE DAILY LESSON STUDY PLAN?

"The Bible is our rule of faith and doctrine. There is nothing more calculated to energize the mind and strengthen the intellect than the study of the word of God. No other book is so potent to elevate the thoughts or give vigor to the faculties, as the broad, ennobling truths of the Bible."—Gospel Workers, p. 249.

The great lack of systematized study is provided for in the lessons prepared by the Sabbath school department. Each lesson has a daily lesson study outline, and the lessons are arranged conveniently for the study of a small portion of the Bible each day. Our minds need the influence of the divine Word regularly. ". . . it is not possible prayerfully to study its sacred pages without having the intellect disciplined, ennobled, purified, and refined."—Fundamentals of Christian Education, p. 171. Discipline and refinement do not come by irregular reading, but by daily habits of contact with God's revelation.

COLORADO

A Letter, A Car, Church Friendships Lead to Baptism

A letter and a car, rightly used, can be just as much an evangelistic tool as a Bible and a series of Bible studies. The members of the Las Animas church are convinced of this.

The letter was from Gertrude Hagerty, a Seventh-day Adventist living in Miles City, Montana. She wrote the letter to the pastor of the Las Animas church stating that her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson, living in the little town of Hasty, near Las Animas, would like to attend church. Since neither of them were able to drive a car, they needed transportation. Jerry Oster, pastor of the Las Animas church, visited the Thompsons and arranged transportation so they could attend church. This is where the car comes into the story. Clark Dominy, a deacon in the church used his car faithfully to bring the Thompsons to the services every Sabbath. Whenever Clark was unable to do this, other members used their cars.

Pastor Oster continued regular visits to the Thompson home and gave Bible studies to them. All the church members rejoiced when on Sabbath afternoon, January 4, 1975, the Thompsons were baptized by Elder William Bassham, Colorado Conference Lay Activities director.

Without the letter the pastor would not have known of the Thompsons' desire to attend church. Without the church members' willingness to use their cars to bring them to church, the Thompsons would not have enjoyed the spiritual fellowship with the members of the Las Animas church, and without the spiritual fellowship they may have never desired to unite with the church.

Pastor Jerry Oster

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson were baptized and became members in the Las Animas Church because of a letter, car, and the willingness of God's people.

Successful Investment Ingredients Not a Secret in Campion Sabbath School

A tasty dish for the Campion Sabbath School at the close of 1974 — $8,147.94 for Investment, $19.63 per capita. The ingredients are not a secret: a generous amount of interest, early planning, a little ingenuity, spirited leadership in all

Top left: Kindergartners from the Campion Sabbath school sing for the Investment program—they raised $500. Top right: Georgie Lane, 4, sold gift tags door to door and brought in $25. departments, support of members-all spiced with faith and a degree of perspiration. Little projects and big projects, from penny labels to substantial percentage of income swelled Campion's offering this year.

At the December Investment program, Terri Benson reported $223.66 from the cradle roll, including 4,287 labels. The primary division exceeded its goal, raising $592. The 15 kindergartners had to increase their goal twice as money poured in. Judy Olson and her helpers made greeting and Christmas gift tags from used cards, packaged them and issued them to the children to sell at 50 cents a bag. Georgie Lane, four years old, took two packages and rang door bells, explaining he was selling tags for Jesus. One lady asked, "Do you want me to buy one?" "No," answered Georgie, "I want you to buy two!" This little salesman kept the leaders busy making tags and sold 50 packages, or $25 worth. He and two little girls, Michelle Paulien, and Phyllis Albertson brought over $20 each.

Shervin Marsh, who gardened for his Investment, read a poem depicting the junior participants, who contributed $527. They started early in the year when David Schneider brought $5 the first Sabbath of 1974; $80 was raised from a bake sale and candles were sold. Rhonda Frakes brought 50 cents weekly, Sherri Hoeler sold potatoes for $15, and Desi Wheeler helped in apartment work for $15. Dan and Kenny Kittrell helped their father get a jeep in shape for sale. Mrs. Kittrell, junior leader, was offered $10 a pound for every pound she would lose up to 20. She decided the only way she could lose 20 pounds was to make it an Investment project and it worked! The family total Investment was $400.

Eleanor Joyner represented the adults at the program. She is an avid gardener and this year raised a special yellow tomato for Investment.

Nature's Foods sent a check for $219.24, Mr. and Mrs. George Cheney turned in $194. The Loveland Broom Company, giving a percent of new business, swelled the total by over $900.

Just imagine what would happen if the whole church were as Investment-minded as leader Warren Beardsley, the largest investor of all. He is already busy urging and gently prodding all to get in on the fun of Investment for '75.

Special Academy Church Appeal

On Sabbath, March 8, a special offering will be received for the new Sunnydale Academy church. The new church, now under construction, will provide an adequate and representative house of worship for the students, staff, and area residents. It will seat about 400 in the sanctuary and also has a classroom section for the various children's divisions.

This appeal for generous giving is being made because the Sunnydale church serves the entire constituency of the Missouri Conference. The youth of academy age will have a church which is more conducive to worship than meeting in the chapel.

The members of the Sunnydale church have been meeting the challenge of building through a sacrificial program of systematic giving. For several years they have been accumulating funds preparing plans. The accompanying pictures show the progress thus far.

Your prayers and generosity on March 8 will mean much to the youth of Missouri. May God bless as we at Sunnydale Academy.

What a wonderful service Steve and others like him have rendered to the cause of God, and we can be sure that this faithfulness will be rewarded by the Lord when we meet Him at the time of His coming. CONGRATULATIONS, Steve, for a good work.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS TOGETHER-

Mr. and Mrs. Hockstettler

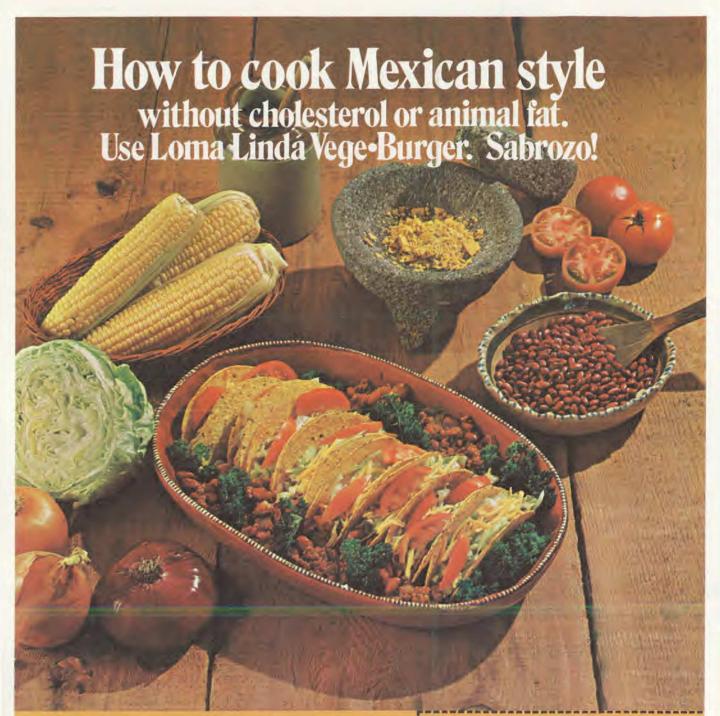

One of the finest assets a camping program can have is a good cook, and Broken Arrow Ranch has been fortunate in this respect for the past four years. The chief cook during the summer time and on a number of special weekends has been Mrs. Evelyn Hockstettler of Horton, Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hockstettler of Horton celebrated their Twenty-fifth Wedding Anniversary a few weeks ago and the staff at Broken Arrow Ranch hosted them. We were delighted that almost the entire staff could come and it was a real joy for us to honor Mr. and Mrs. Hockstettler. We appreciate so much the work that Mrs. Hockstettler has done in cooking for us during the past four summers and we also appreciate Brother Ivan allowing her to do this since he only sees her on weekends when he comes to visit.

Many of the students from Enterprise Academy and Union College who are on the staff, as well as other adults, attended, including their son, Gary, from Enterprise Academy. It was a thrill for us to be there and enjoy the light lunch prepared by Mrs. Brenton Bullock, known as Joyce, our specialty cook for the banquets at Broken Arrow Ranch.

Altogether we had a wonderful time in honor of the Twenty-fifth Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Hockstettler. We wish them God's abundant blessing and many more happy years as they continue to go forward until Jesus comes. They are faithful workers in our Horton Church and God has blessed them.
