Letter from the Chairman

I want to extend my thanks to each of you for your generosity and commitment to West Texas A&M University during its Share Your Pride comprehensive campaign. More than 9,500 individuals from across the country supported the University to help raise more than $50 million during the five-year fund-raising effort. That is well above our original goal of $35 million, and I hope each of you takes great pride in knowing that your gifts will impact WTAMU for many years to come.

Achieving and surpassing such an ambitious goal wouldn’t have been possible without each of you. It took some hard work, but it also required the generosity from a community of people who believe in and are passionate about WTAMU. Your gifts are providing the best in educational experiences for current and future students who in turn will become productive and contributing members of communities here and around the world.

I am so proud to be part of this remarkable campaign. It’s been an interesting and productive journey, and I thank each of you for sharing your pride in WTAMU.

Bain Athletic Center

A lead gift from one of the Panhandle's most prominent families has established a $4 million athletic center at West Texas A&M University, and it's been funded entirely through private donations to provide the best athletic training facilities for years to come.

Thanks to a lead gift from Ray and Barbara Bain and the entire Bain family, the facility, located on the west side of Buffalo Sports Park, currently houses a 6,700 square foot football locker room complete with lockers, showers, laundry facilities, equipment storage space and video screen for game-film reviews. When completed, the Bain Athletic Center will house an athletic training room, weight room, coaches' offices, meeting space, team study hall and a Championship Atrium to honor WTAMU's rich athletic history.

"The University thanks the Bain family for their leadership role in making the Buffalo Athletic Center a reality," Dr. J. Patrick O'Brien, University president, said.

"Their leadership and involvement in this project provides a first-class home for West Texas A&M student-athletes."

The training center will provide WTAMU athletes with the latest in strength and conditioning equipment. The athletes will receive the best when it comes to the prevention and care with treatment stations, taping stations, a rehab area and hydrotherapy room. The study hall and meeting rooms will be equipped with the latest in multimedia equipment and wireless access, and the Championship Atrium will feature trophy displays and memorabilia in a comfortable reception/seating area.

"We are very grateful for the generosity of Ray and Barbara. Their gift has had an enormous impact on our athletic program," Michael McBroom, director of athletics, said. "The athletic center will be the central facility serving our student-athletes for decades to come."

The Williams Children's Literature Collection and Reading Room

The Williams Children's Literature Collection and Reading Room was established in 2011 by Rob and Judy Williams, instructor of education and director of the collection and reading room. The Reading Room, located in Old Main, Room 214, houses a collection of contemporary and historical children's and adolescent literature with an emphasis on national and international award-winning selections. It is designed to provide an environment for individual and group study of children's literature and research in the field of literacy.

Schaeffer Field

The Texas A&M University System Board of Regents approved the renaming of WTAMU's varsity softball field in May of 2012. Stanley and Geneva Schaeffer are longtime supporters of WTAMU, and their gift of $200,000 to rename Lady Buff Yard to Schaeffer Field is just one of many gifts they have given to the University. The softball facility was completed in December of 2010 and houses ticket and concession buildings as well as a spacious press box with radio/television booths. The lighted field with its synthetic turf offers year-round play for the 2014 NCAA DII National Champion Lady Buffs, and fans have plenty of seating options—150 chair-back seats for season ticket holders and another 340 general admission seats.

Sigman Family Gift

A West Texas A&M University alumnus and his family provided a $1 million gift to the University's Share Your Pride campaign to establish a new residence hall scholarship fund for WTAMU students.

The Stan Sigman family presented the gift to the University in memory of their grandmother, Oma Sigman, for the establishment of a Sigman Family Scholarship Fund. Oma Sigman, a widow with nine children, owned and operated a boarding house across the street from the Joseph A. Hill Memorial Chapel on campus. She provided a home for many WT students through the years, and the gift reflects her giving spirit by supporting nine scholarships representative of each of her nine children. The scholarships will help WTAMU students in specific areas with room and board expenses at an annual maximum of $5,555 each.

"Our family established this scholarship in memory of our grandmother and in her spirit of supporting students going to WT," Stan Sigman, retired CEO of AT&T Mobility and WT alumnus, said. "There is so much support for academic scholarships, but so little for room and board. That is why we set this scholarship up in her name and each of her nine children to provide a place for students to eat and sleep just like she did years ago in her stucco boarding house."

Lily Jack "Jackie" Mercer

Lily Jack "Jackie" Mercer's lifetime collection of furnishings, shoes, jewelry, handbags proved to be a very generous planned-giving gift for West Texas A&M University. Mercer, who died in August 2012 at the age of 90, gave her entire estate to WTAMU and designated that all proceeds go toward scholarships in the Sybil B. Harrington College of Fine Arts and Humanities. All told, the Mercer estate's final total came to $1,093,125.

"The gift from the trust of Jackie Mercer allows us to create a number of very substantial scholarships to attract really outstanding students to the arts," Dr. Robert Hansen, director of the School of Music, said. "It's a perfect example of planned giving."

Dyke and Terry Rogers LEAD WT Program

West Texas A&M University is committed to making leadership development a major component of its educational experience, and those efforts have been bolstered by a $1 million gift to endow the LEAD WT program as the Dyke and Terry Rogers Leadership Education and Development Program.

WTAMU alumni Dyke and Terry Rogers are longtime supporters of the University and represent the epitome of leadership through their professional, personal and community commitments. Their gift and their example are going a long way toward helping WTAMU become a leadership institution, where leadership theory, practice and service will play a major role in the life of the campus.

The gift will expand the program's orientation and team-building opportunities while increasing the scope of its student-led projects. The endowment also will provide funds for the program to host leadership experts on campus along with the establishment of a professional development fund for travel opportunities to professional conferences. The Rogers LEAD WT program will become part of a soon-to-be-established Center for Leadership and Service, where students will develop leadership skills that will benefit their professions and their communities.

"West Texas A&M University is committed to embedding leadership and service into the fabric of the campus community," Dr. J. Patrick O'Brien, WTAMU president, said. "We are so thankful that Dyke and Terry Rogers are going to help make that possible. Their generosity will enhance our ability to develop our students' leadership skills to help them become more active and effective servant leaders on our campus and in their communities."

Supporting the leadership program is a perfect fit for the Rogers. Dyke graduated in 1970 with a degree in general business and economics. Terry earned a master's in education administration in 1988. They are recognized leaders in their community of Dalhart, and their work has provided life-changing opportunities well beyond the Panhandle of Texas. Their spirit of giving will impact the vision of leadership and service at WTAMU for years to come.

"We are so excited to be a part of this moment for WT," Dyke Rogers said. "For Terry and I, WTAMU has been a part of our lives in so many ways, and we are proud to have the opportunity to help students achieve everything they are capable of. Our communities desperately need strong leaders to help guide us into the future. With this program and the University's commitment to leadership, we will help insure a strong Panhandle, region and state for generations."

Faculty and Staff Raise More Than $1 Million Through Internal Campaign

I am WT, the West Texas A&M University internal giving campaign for faculty and staff, reached a major milestone in 2013 when the $1 million mark was surpassed. In order to celebrate the generosity that propelled the I am WT campaign to such great success, WTAMU employees were surprised with Million Dollar Monday.

Million Dollar Monday was a day of pampering and luxury in the Alumni Banquet Facility on campus. Massages, manicures and decadent treats were just a fraction of what WT employees were given to enjoy as thanks.

WT faculty and staff have committed more than $1.3 million to the University since Sept. 2010 through the I am WT campaign. One hundred percent of employee contributions go to the WT area of the employee's choice.

"Together we can do so much," a phrase associated with the Share Your Pride comprehensive campaign at West Texas A&M University, proved itself true when the fund-raising effort ended in August with more than $50 million raised during the five-year campaign. That total represents almost a 40 percent increase over the original goal of $35 million. As a graduate of this great University, I am so proud to be part of the effort that helped to build a stronger West Texas A&M University.

The University has always been a viable force in the Texas Panhandle and has always had a significant impact on the local and regional work force. As I'm sure you know, a large percentage of people working across the Texas Panhandle—be it a teacher, farmer, nurse, banker or engineer—earned their degrees right here at WTAMU. And now because we have all worked together to make the Share Your Pride fund-raising effort so successful, you can expect to see an even greater impact.

More than 9,500 individuals contributed to the campaign, and those gifts are helping build brighter futures for students, our communities and our quality of life. Since the campaign, four endowed chairs and 18 professorships have been established at the University. What does that mean to you? It means that tomorrow's work force and future leaders are receiving a higher quality education through exceptional faculty and teaching. Endowed positions not only help WTAMU recruit and retain outstanding professors, but the endowments support and encourage research and continued development in academic growth.

Today's students also are building brighter futures for all of us through better learning environments at the University. You would be amazed at the technology and upgraded features found in classrooms across the WTAMU campus, especially in the 20 endowed classrooms created as part of the Share Your Pride campaign. The classrooms and other new facilities—Bain Athletic Center, the Charles K. and Barbara Kerr Vaughan Pedestrian Mall, the Hayward Spirit Tower and the future permanent campus of the WTAMU Amarillo Center—all contribute to the quality of life on campus and to the improvement of learning for the entire WTAMU community.

WTAMU also is enhancing the learning environment by making leadership development a major component of the University's educational experience. My wife Terry and I recognized the importance of this and supported the University's leadership initiative by donating to the LEAD WT program through the Share Your Pride campaign. We are proud that the Dyke and Terry Rogers LEAD WT program is helping students achieve their dreams while developing their leadership skills as effective leaders on campus and in the community.

Thanks to the generosity of so many, WTAMU's successful campaign is providing exceptional faculty, technology-rich learning environments and leadership-driven educational experiences that are building future leaders for the Panhandle, the region, the state and beyond for years to come. It's a win-win situation for all of us.

"Together we can do so much," and as president of the WT Foundation, I thank you for doing just that. Your support is important not only for the students but also for building stronger communities for all of us.

Dyke Rogers
President, WT Foundation

The West Texas A&M University Foundation Board is invaluable to the success of WTAMU. Prominent members of the local business community, board members find time in their busy schedules to support higher education in the Panhandle. They have also made their commitment to the University even more evident by contributing $3.2 million to the Share Your Pride Comprehensive Campaign.
