Would you like to see Princeton become a more bicycle-friendly community?

The Princeton Park Board would! The Park Board recently received a grant from the Statewide Health Improvement Program (SHIP) to add bicycle racks throughout the community, as well as wayfinding signage. What is wayfinding signage you ask? It is destination signs located throughout the community to provide direction and destination information for bicycle travel (to places such as schools, downtown, riverfront, historical society, etc.). Look for the new bike racks and signs throughout the community this summer!

FINANCIAL FOCUS: Help Yourself Reduce Investment Stress

Article 7 — April 1, 2013

You probably aren't too worried about it, but April is Stress Awareness Month. Each year, the Health Resource Network sponsors this "month" to inform people about the dangers of stress and to share successful coping strategies. Obviously, it's important to reduce stress in all walks of life — including your investment activities. How can you cut down on the various stresses associated with investing?

Here are a few possible "stress-busters":

- Know your risk tolerance. If you're constantly worrying about the value of your investments, your portfolio may simply be too volatile for your individual risk tolerance. Conversely, if you're always feeling that your investments will never provide you with the growth you need to achieve your long-term goals, you might be investing too conservatively.

- Know what to expect from your investments. Uncertainty is often a leading cause of stress. So when you purchase investments that are mysterious to you, you shouldn't be surprised if they perform in ways that raise your stress levels. Never invest in something unless you fully understand its characteristics and risk potential.

- Be prepared for market volatility. Over the long term, the financial markets have trended upward, though their past performance can't guarantee future results. Yet for periods of months, and even years, these same markets can sputter and decline. So when you invest, be aware of this volatility; if you're prepared for it, you won't be shocked when it happens, and you should be able to better keep stress at bay.

- Maintain realistic expectations. If you think your investments are going to earn a very high rate of return, year after year, you are more than likely going to be disappointed — and you could easily get "stressed out." You're much better off, from a stress standpoint, not to expect eye-popping results.

- Diversify your portfolio. If you were only to own one asset class, such as growth stocks, and that particular segment took a big hit during a market drop, your whole portfolio could suffer, and it could take years to recover — causing you no end of stress. But if you spread your investment dollars among a range of vehicles — stocks, bonds, government securities and so on — your portfolio has a better chance of weathering the ups and downs of the market. (Keep in mind, though, that while diversification may help you reduce the effects of volatility, it can't prevent losses or guarantee profits.)

- Think long term. If you only measure your investment success by short-term results, you can feel frustrated and stressed. But when you stop to consider your objectives, you may find that the most important ones, such as a comfortable retirement, are all long-term in nature. Consequently, it makes more sense to measure the progress you're making with your investments in periods of years, or even decades, rather than days or months. Instead of fretting over your monthly investment statements, compare where you are today versus where you were 10 or 15 years ago. The results may well surprise and help "de-stress" you.

Stress Awareness Month will come and go. But by making the right moves, you can help take some of the stress out of investing for a long time to come.

Civic Betterment Club

The snowy weather did not keep donors from attending the American Red Cross Blood Bank at Trinity Crossing last month. They always support this needy cause & the Red Cross team appreciates all of them. We extend thanks to the following members of the American Legion Auxiliary & the Civic Betterment Club for helping last month: Bonni Belair, Mardy Butterfield, Dianne Dobe, Jan Gerth, Maureen Gould, Wilma Heinks, Marlene Hellman, Jean Jackson, Betty Jensen, Marion Kruschke, June Kunkel, Joy Mulhern, and Pam Schlagel. Special thanks to Marlene Hellman and Pam Schlagel for filling in for Erma Deglmann.

At a recent meeting, Bonni Belair suggested that our club do some volunteering at the DAC. Our President and Craft Lady, Judy Barnes, started a new project with DAC members last month by setting up a Craft Day for them. Judy hopes to continue with this project and encourages anyone interested in helping to call her (763-389-5855).

Judy also wants to remind the community that we would like any stories, items, articles, photos, etc. about our club from past years. We are gathering this information in preparation of our 100th Anniversary Celebration. Please call her with any questions or come to our next meeting on April 16th at 9:00 a.m. in the back room of K-Bob.

Thanks to the Princeton Union Eagle associates for putting together such a great 2013 Community Guide. It not only contained community information, it had lots of very interesting historical articles about our area.

Also, thanks to the Princeton Area Chamber of Commerce for the 28th annual Business & Community Expo last month. It's one of the best community events!!

Bremer Investments: Plan Ahead for Active and Happy Retirement Years

You may have excelled in planning a secure financial foundation for your ideal retirement, but you may still have some work to do if you haven't planned what you'll be doing in the wake of your career. Financial security is necessary, to be sure, but it's not the equivalent of achieving real satisfaction in your later years.

Surveys of retirement happiness show that those who are physically and socially active are the happiest – far more satisfied with life than those who wake up on Monday following the retirement party wondering what to do. Sitting around watching television or lounging on the porch or at the beach may be pleasant for your first few days or weeks, but, for most people, this kind of uninvolved, too-much-time-on-your-hands existence quickly leads to loneliness, boredom and depression, according to studies done by the AARP.

The Value of a List

You can plan ahead to avoid this. A list of your retirement plans and hopes can help you gain focus. Sketch out the kinds of regular physical activities that will keep you mentally and physically healthy. Note what social plans you'll have with friends and relatives, get in touch with organizations for which you would like to volunteer. Decide whether you want to further your education.

If extensive travel is on your agenda, make a priority list. Do you plan to keep a hand in the workforce? What about getting a pet, if circumstances allow and your health is up to it? Studies show pets can help keep you active and are even credited with lowering blood pressure and cholesterol levels.

If you're retired, you already know this and undoubtedly have taken action to make sure you remain active and involved with the world. If you're not yet retired, now may be the ideal time to plan ahead by staying physically active and socially involved in ways that can be continued into retirement.

ROBYN COOK BENEFIT

SATURDAY, April 27th @ Steven's Restaurant & Catering

(202 N. Rum River Drive, Princeton, MN)

6:00 p.m. dinner (advance tickets); 7:15 p.m. open to all with entertainment, raffle & auction

Robyn Cook's active, healthy lifestyle was turned upside down in September 2012 when she was diagnosed with Stage IV Malignant Melanoma. After having 2 tumors removed and continuing to work with her doctors on appropriate treatment options, another tumor was discovered on the rear left side of her brain on February 18th. She underwent neurosurgery on February 22 and the tumor was fully removed. However, it was then discovered that she has a small tumor on the top of her brain and is currently pursuing further treatment options. Melanoma in the tumor form is very rare, difficult to treat, and grows fast.

Robyn lives in the Princeton area with her 14 year old daughter Hannah, who is a busy freshman at Princeton High School, and husband Keith. Robyn has managed Princeton Health & Fitness for the last 9 years and is a very active member of the Princeton Community – including 3 years as a Chamber of Commerce Board Member; assisting with local fundraisers; Kinship Youth Mentoring events and many other activities.

Please help us help Robyn & her family!

If you would like to donate raffle or auction items to the benefit, they can be dropped off at Crystal Cabinets or please call Jennifer Erickson @ 763-286-1391, Regina Heitschmidt @ 763-498-1045, or Carey Steele @ 763-238-9546

SOCIAL DANCE WORKSHOP

Tuesdays, May 14 & 21 • 7:30-9:00 pm

Preparing for a big event like a wedding? Always planned on learning to dance? Convinced that you have 2-left feet? Then this is the course for you! Whether you are a “2-left footer” or not, learn fun moves and simple tips from a pro! A little bit of Swing, a touch Foxtrot, a smattering of Waltz, a tweak of Rumba and a jazzed up “high school prom Swing & Sway” are all it takes! And you'll be out on the dance floor! Couples and individual's welcome! If you have special music, feel free to bring it to class!
