Include the essay with this application.

ADDITIONAL ESSAY REQUIREMENT FOR THE HONORS GREAT BOOKS PROGRAM

Honors Great Books Applicants are required to submit a second essay. In this essay you will respond to the following section of Rivendell's Educational Philosophy:

Christian Worldview. At Rivendell we believe that truth is one integrated whole, without internal divisions or boundaries, regardless of the methods by which knowledge is gained. In our Christian vision of the world all truth is united under God and all knowledge finds its ultimate significance in relation to God. We believe that truth (that which is worthy of our belief), beauty (that which is worthy of our admiration) and goodness (that which is worthy of our choice) are interrelated, that they have a single Source and transcendent Standard, and that the pursuit of these ideals is essential to a well-lived life. In this quest we acknowledge and embrace the Mystery that will always confront us in the pursuit of understanding and knowledge. Because of these convictions, the starting point for all education at Rivendell is the Christian worldview and its intellectual heritage which the college both embraces and critically evaluates.

In 500-1000 words, explain how your understanding of the Christian worldview addresses one or more of the issues raised in this excerpt. Include the essay with this application.

MISSION

A learning community rooted in the rich intellectual heritage of the Christian tradition, Rivendell College exists to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to fashion a well-reasoned vision of life and become people of character and influence who are prepared for meaningful, productive service to the world.

CORE VALUES

Liberal Arts. We believe that a liberal arts education is the best way to instill habits of mind, heart and body that contribute to personal wellbeing, professional success, and a lifetime of influence. We believe that the heart of a liberal arts education is equipping students to understand the natural world, human cultures and the factors that shape them. Because of the expanding influence of western civilization around the globe, we believe that it is imperative to understand the western tradition and its Greco-Roman and Judeo-Christian backgrounds. Further, we believe that to flourish in life students must be trained in the skills that will enable them to think and communicate well.

Christian Tradition. Rivendell's commitments are strong, but not sectarian. We welcome a mutually enriching discussion between Orthodox, Roman Catholic and Protestant traditions. We embrace the breadth, depth, and diversity of the historic Christian faith as expressed, for instance, in the ecumenical creeds of the early church, the confessions of the Protestant Reformation, and the spirit of vitality and renewal in evangelical awakenings around the world today. Rivendell's salaried faculty and staff share this faith commitment; however, admission to the College is based upon academic qualifications, and interests and aspirations that align with the mission and core values of the College.

Learning Community. Rivendell is committed to providing a supportive environment for living and learning. Because learning in community is essential to our vision of preparing students to be successful in their relationships, professions and service to the world, full-time degree students are required live in Rivendell facilities, where they interact with fellow students and Rivendell faculty and staff in a variety of ways.

Constructive Engagement. Rivendell is committed to rigorous and thoughtful interaction with the brightest and best minds within and outside the Christian tradition. We strive to model a positive and constructive engagement with culture in a diverse academic environment through our intentional location next to a major research university and our commitment to a mutually beneficial relationship.

Academic Excellence. Rivendell's faculty seeks to model, nurture and recognize high standards and distinguished academic achievement.

Student Development. Committed to the academic and personal development of its students, Rivendell College offers an atmosphere in which students are cared for, encouraged, and assisted in becoming mature and whole persons. Through a variety of assessment, advising, and mentoring programs, the college helps students discover and develop academic and life skills, ethical values, vocational expertise, and a clear direction for their life's work.

Vision of Life. All human endeavors take place within the larger context of a vision of life that informs and inspires them. A well-reasoned vision of life is clear, consistent, coherent, critically informed and comprehensive. Rivendell seeks to acquaint students with the distinctive features of a Christian worldview alongside other worldviews in the contemporary world, and to equip them with the knowledge and skills to craft and live out their own.

Character and Influence. At Rivendell College we are committed to helping students become certain kinds of people. Our goal is to help them become men and women of character and integrity, with habits and skills that will contribute to a life-long pattern of moral excellence, or what the ancient world referred to as virtue. We are committed to training a generation of men and women whose character, words and actions influence others in healthy ways.

Service to the World. At Rivendell College we seek to harness all of these things to the task of serving the world. We believe that the world should be a better place because Rivendell students have passed through it.

LIFESTYLE COVENANT

All Rivendell College faculty, staff and degree students are required to affirm and commit themselves to the following covenant: As members of the Rivendell community, we will seek to maintain high standards of integrity in all areas of life. We will treat others with dignity and respect, and respond to those who differ with us with civility and consideration. We will seek to live an exemplary life and cultivate habits of moral excellence. We will refrain from explicit immodesty, use of pornography, all sexual relations outside the bounds of marriage between a man and woman, illegal or immoderate consumption of any alcoholic beverage, and any use of an illegal non-prescription drug.
