

Income Certification Form - 2014 Filing Period

New York State's rent regulatory laws permit an owner to make an annual application to exempt from rent regulation housing accommodations having a "maximum rent" (rent controlled) or "legal regulated rent" (rent stabilized) equal to or in excess of the deregulation rent threshold. For proceedings commenced on or after July 1, 2012 "deregulation rent threshold" is $2,500.00 per month. If the tenant(s) timely respond to a separate notice of the deregulation application from the NYS Division of Housing and Community Renewal (DHCR), the NYS Department of Taxation and Finance will review whether the housing accommodation is occupied by persons who have a total annual income in excess of the deregulation income threshold. For proceedings commenced after July 1, 2012 "deregulation income threshold" is $200,000.00 in each of the two preceding calendar years. Annual income means federal adjusted gross income as reported on the New York State income tax return. For housing accommodations subject to rent stabilization, total annual income means the sum of the annual incomes of all persons whose names are recited as the tenant or co-tenant on a lease who occupy the housing accommodation, whether or not as a primary residence, and of all other persons who occupy the housing accommodation as their primary residence on other than a temporary basis. For housing accommodations subject to rent control, total annual income means the sum of the annual incomes of all persons who occupy the housing accommodation as their primary residence on other than a temporary basis. For both rent-stabilized and rent-controlled housing accommodations, the incomes of bona fide employees of such tenants, co-tenants, and occupants residing in the housing accommodation in connection with their employment are not included. In addition, where a housing accommodation is sublet, the annual income of a bona fide subtenant is not included. In all cases, the operative date for determining the nature of any person's status or occupancy is the date that this form is served upon the tenant. The incomes of otherwise qualifying tenants or occupants who temporarily vacated the housing accommodation during the 2012, 2013 or 2014 calendar years will be included in total annual income. This form, when served upon a tenant, initiates the process of determining whether this housing accommodation qualifies for deregulation based upon the above criteria. This housing accommodation can only be deregulated pursuant to a separate order issued by the DHCR in response to an owner's filing of a petition for deregulation based on the tenant's (s') income. No order of deregulation will be issued if the owner is receiving J-51 or 421-a tax benefits.
