Terms and conditions of the competition

1. I enclose two CD ROM copies of the video for the competition with the signed application form.
2. Entry to the competition is free.
3. Educational institutions may submit one or more entries. Each individual entry must be accompanied by a completed and signed application form.
4. Copyright permission, where required, in respect of music, audio and video insert sequences used in this entry have been cleared by the production team prior to submission.
5. I/We agree to the video streaming of the material on the DIVERSE website if the material is judged to be amongst the top six.
6. I/we agree to copies of the material being made for the purposes of judging and for presentation at the DIVERSE conference, present and future.
7. I/we accept the decision of the judging panel as final.
8. The DIVERSE International educational video competition organisers and sponsors, the DIVERSE conference committee and conference organisers, shall not be liable for errors or omissions in the entry form, the online competition detail, nor for the content or any part of entries to the competition.
9. Permission has been obtained from all parents and guardians of actors under 16 for the streaming of the video through the DIVERSE website, for display at DIVERSE conferences and dissemination through conference proceedings.
10. All participants have consented for the video to be used, without charge, in all future not-for-profit conference-related activities, such as video streaming from the DIVERSE website, display at future DIVERSE or related conferences, and for dissemination through conference CDs. Outside of these uses, the copyright of the video, and freedom to use the video in other contexts, resides with the creators of the video.
11. Videos may be in any language, but text transcriptions in English must be provided to the judges.
