FROM THE PRESIDENT

Greetings everyone. It is that time of year again where we are looking for nominations for upcoming Association Officer positions. This year we will be filling the positions of President, Vice President of Retired Affairs and Secretary. Here is an excerpt from Article IV, Section 2 of the Bylaws on the qualifications for these positions:

“a. Only active duty chief warrant and warrant officers, who are Regular Members in good standing stationed in the Washington-Baltimore areas shall be eligible for nomination to the or hold the office of President and Vice President. If the President or Vice President is promoted to a grade higher than the rank of chief warrant officer, he or she shall be allowed to continue in the term of office to which elected, provide all other conditions of article IV, Section 2. a are met.

b. Any regular member in good standing who is retired shall be eligible for nomination to or hold the office of Vice President of Retired Affairs.

d. Any Regular Member stationed or residing in the Washington-Baltimore areas, in good standing, shall be eligible for nomination to or hold the offices of Secretary or Treasurer.”

I have had the honor of serving the Association as both President and Vice President and it has been a very rewarding experience. For our Association to remain strong, it is important to have motivated members serving on the Board of Directors. I encourage members to contact me or the Association Office if you are interested in one of the positions or would like more information. Nominations need to be delivered to the Nomination Committee by 1 December, 2011.

Women's Center Recognizes Volunteers

On Thursday morning, 6 October, it was my distinct honor & privilege to attend the Annual Meeting and Recognition Breakfast for the Women's Center of Southeast CT. This annual event is a chance to review milestones of the past year and to recognize all of the volunteers who contributed to the betterment of the Women's Center. During the meeting, an Advocate from the Court read a very emotional letter from a mother of four who was directly impacted by domestic violence - and who was assisted by the Women's Center.

Last year, 183 people volunteered at the Women's Center - and CWOPD Class 04-11 and CWOPD Staff is a significant percentage of the 183 people who have volunteered. The emergency shelter, Genesis House, averaged 101% capacity for the entire year. This means that battered women often had to sleep on sofas and small kids had to sleep in pack-n-plays. This 101% capacity represents the highest occupancy level ever in the history of the Center.

CWOPD 04-11, among other things, accomplished a phenomenal "extreme home makeover" at Genesis House by removing old and installing new kitchen cabinets and countertops over a 12-hour period. Additionally, "The Tile Man" - New York State Trooper - oversaw bathroom floor rehabilitation that resulted in rebuilding sub-flooring before a toilet and bathroom vanity could be re-installed over a new deck of tile. Our work, in that single evolution, represented well over 200 hours of Community Service. That same day, after our work was completed, the residents of Genesis House arrived "home" in tears of joy when they saw the finished product. This one single day was recognized by the Women's Shelter as the 2nd most significant community service project of the year!

I humbly accepted a certificate of recognition from the Women's Center, but I accepted it under very clear acknowledgement that it is YOU ALL - CWOPD Class 04-11 - that made this possible! As your former instructor and a Chief Warrant Officer peer, I respect and stand in awe of the great talent that you and every CWOPD Class brings to the LDC. I hope you are as proud of what you accomplished as I am proud of you.

As you reflect back on your accomplishments here in New London, I hope that you will continue to do great work for the communities in which you now serve. Whether you are a single volunteer or you coordinate a group effort through your unit or local Chapter of the CWOA, I challenge you all to share your talent, share your leadership and share your passion.

Your communities and this organization benefit by your actions.

Thank you all.

Proud to Serve,

BOSN4 Troy Riedel

Long Island Sound Chapter Members Assist Local Habitat for Humanity

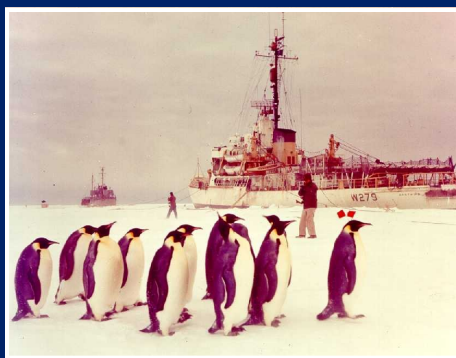

In the morning hours of Wednesday, October 5th, a van-load of Coasties descended upon a vacant lot in downtown New Haven. By the time the day was done, what had been only a bare foundation stood transformed. Chapter members Jim Guerrette, Todd Mann, Randy Rice and Chris Schilling, along with members of the local chapter of the Coast Guard Enlisted Association and Sector Long Island Sound Officer's Association "turned to" and brought home ownership one step closer to reality for a local family. The team installed floor joists, laid the plywood subfloor and put up the cellar access door. As usual, the job supervisor was amazed at the amount of work the group was able to accomplish.

CWOPD Class 09/11 Finds its “Arete”

On 1 Aug., 2011, 15 students gathered at the CG Academy ready to start Chief Warrant Officer Professional Development (CWOPD) Class 09-11. We were a small group, but with a big voice. We came from units all over the country, active duty and reserves, for one common purpose - to achieve a better appreciation of the career paths we had chosen. It may have been a hard lesson to learn, or a difficult concept to comprehend, but it was worth every challenge endured to complete the course united as one.

The CWOPD challenged us to think about and find our arête - that special uniqueness that makes us relevant in an organization committed to honor, respect, and devotion to duty. Whatever the path to finding our arête, the CWOPD was perfectly suited as that vehicle of reflection and impetus for action. We began every morning with a taxing stroll up the hill, where the flow of information and wealth of knowledge abound was constant. To fully embed leadership concepts, we were often heavily laden with homework. And lots of it! Then there was CWO4 Troy Riedel's sizable personality and daily dose of reality wrapped in hours of sea stories. We witnessed the next generation of CG leaders being groomed, sailed, participated in teambuilding, class socials, and the ropes course - THIS is really where we started to find our arête.

The completion of the ropes course became our crowning achievement, and where we galvanized as a unit. Some overcame their fear of heights (walking 50 feet in the air on a thin wire rope) and others attempted the walk but could not stomach the uncertainty. We cheered each other on up various climbing obstacles, and ultimately propelled ourselves over a wall. The uniqueness in each of us helped us realize that we were better together than any one of us could be alone. Two students stood out from the others - MDDS2 Steven Kilgore earned the physical fitness award, and PERS2 Jeneen Satterfield was presented both the Distinguished Officer and Honor Graduate Awards.

Honor, respect, and devotion to duty must be embodied and employed to be effective. Only from this place is our relevance born, because we chose this path and as leaders, we are responsible for the tools in our arsenal. Why not arm yourself?

CWOPD Class 10-11 Mixes Hard Work with Networking

Class 10-11 began its CWOPD journey on September 12, 2011. We were greeted kindly by the staff, namely, LT Vanden Heuvel, CWO4 Riedel and CWO3 Epperson. Among this class of CPOA graduates were BOSN2s, ENG2s, AVI2s, ELC2s, ISM2s, a MED2, a MSSD2 and an INV2. At our first teambuilding exercise, we learned that our range of years-in-service consisted of 13 to over 30, and our sea-service ranged from only a few hours to 14+ years. By the end of the first day, we elected our President, Sean “Sully” Sullivan, and Vice President, Jody “Jack” Hildreth.

“Fired up” and “ready to go,” our class immediately showed a strong willingness to expand our minds, participate widely, and eagerly learn the role of the Chief

Warrant Officer. Meaningful lessons taught by qualified and influential instructors consumed our days, while homework assignments adorned our nights. Days and nights became blurred as we scrambled to learn new concepts, complete tasks, prepare for presentations, tally workout points, and somehow manage to squeeze some sleep into the mix. At the end of week one, we all participated in a collective sigh of relief, and found a chance to relax, eat, drink and talk – the essential ingredients for strong and lasting professional networks.

Week two was a little less hectic. By this time, we had completed the bulk of our assignments, and the only major scuttlebutt was the anticipation of Dr. Robert’s evaluation of the dreaded point papers. To take our minds off that, we chose the elegant Brown Derby to have our class morale event. This “fine dining experience” consisted of $5 super burritos, beer and cocktails, a jukebox playing our favorite songs, and billiards. We sailed through the rest of the course, and before we knew it, we were ready to graduate.

Friday, Sept. 23, was our spirited graduation. AVI2 Mike Wahlers earned the Physical Fitness award, accumulating almost 700 points; MED2 Jesse Walton was voted Distinguished Officer; and ELC2 Jack Hildreth was the Honor Graduate with the highest GPA over the two-week period.

We will forever remember this gathering, and all of the CWOPD staff and adjunct instructors who invested time into our development.

ATTENTION RETIREES

Please take a moment to look at your name and address on the last page of this issue of the CWO News.

If “USCG” or “USCGR” follows your name instead of “USCG (Ret)” or “USCGR (Ret)” we do not know that you have retired. In addition, to keeping your address current, we provide a retirement scroll to all Association members who retire.

Please let us know that you have retired and the date of your retirement. This will help us maintain your correct mailing address as well as maintain an accurate count of the number of members who are on active duty, retired or are members of the Coast Guard Reserve.
