Our distinguished panel will present an exciting look into the mysterious realm of real estate valuation and taxation within Chicago. We will focus on the 2015 City of Chicago reassessment period, how to protest those values, and its effects on real estate taxes. In addition, we will address the changing market values in Chicago, how these changing values will affect real estate taxes for the next triennial period and procedures for appealing property values including a discussion on the Cook County Board of Review’s new paperless filing system. We hope you will join us for this very informative discussion.

Moderator: Dan Pikarski, Partner, Gordon and Pikarski, and REIA Director

Panelists: Joe Berrios, Cook County Assessor

Tom Jaconetty, Chief of Valuation, Cook County Assessor’s Office
