CRYSTAL SERENITY

Ports of call are always an allure, but onboard the spacious and elegant Crystal Serenity, a day at sea is equally captivating. Wake to the sun as a new day begins, roll out of your luxurious bed and slip into your plush slippers and Frette robe. A world of possibilities awaits you.

Perhaps you'll greet the morning from the state-of-the-art health center, featuring a full range of fitness classes as well as cardiovascular and strength-training equipment. You may prefer the fresh sea air and a jog around the Promenade Deck — just over three laps to the mile.

Or begin the day with a gourmet breakfast followed by a massage at the award-winning Crystal Spa. Later, lounge on the teak deck while sipping a specially prepared cappuccino.

By lunch, you'll have worked up an appetite, so sit down to casual alfresco dining at Trident Bar and Grill, a lunch buffet at Lido Café or a mouth-watering selection of rich pâtés, an array of charcuterie, international cheeses and freshly baked desserts at The Bistro.

In the afternoon, perhaps you'll cultivate your hobbies with complimentary lessons in art or dance, Yamaha piano classes, Berlitz foreign language instruction or a session with the PGA golf pro. Cultivate your mind with fascinating lecture series and interactive discussions — different on each journey — with celebrities, journalists, diplomats and destination experts. Update your travel blog or connect with loved ones at Computer University@Sea.

At dinner, feast on the freshest traditional and regionally inspired foods of the season in The Crystal Dining Room. Specialty restaurants offer even more selection: At Prego, savor mouth-watering Italian dishes by legendary Valentino restaurateur Piero Selvaggio. At Silk Road and The Sushi Bar, taste the wisdom of master chef Nobuyuku Matsuhisa. Or spend the night in: complimentary in-stateroom dining is served 24 hours a day.

THE WORLD'S BEST

Known quite simply as the very best cruise ship in the world, Crystal Serenity is consistently awarded the highest accolades by the readers of Condé Nast Traveler.

In the evening, witness award-winning, Broadway-style entertainment, see intimate cabaret performances, dance at the piano bar, watch classic and recent-release films at the Hollywood Theater or try your luck at the Vegas-style casino. Aboard Crystal, no two nights need be the same, and all of your entertainment options are included in the program price.

Throughout the day, enjoy industry-leading service that seems to respond to your wishes almost before they materialize. By the time you return to your deluxe stateroom and lay your head on your specially chosen pillow, you'll realize why Crystal sets the world standard for luxury cruising — and why more people return to Crystal for their next cruise than they do for any other cruise line.

Puerto Vallarta

Dear Graduates, Parents and Friends of Brown,

We invite you to join us for the centennial celebration of one of the greatest engineering feats of the modern era. Traverse one of the world's most important trade routes as you ascend 85 feet above sea level through the incredible Panama Canal locks that raise and lower the spacious and elegant Crystal Serenity. Escape the winter chill and enjoy days of cobalt-blue skies and warm breezes as you explore Grand Cayman, Cartagena, Huatulco and Puerto Vallarta.

Enjoy the worry-free convenience and value of group travel while shaping your dream vacation. Make your 13-night cruise as active or as relaxing as you desire by selecting the excursions and activities that appeal to you.

On Crystal Cruises, "All Inclusive" means that every meal, cup of coffee and snack is complimentary, and open bar service is available throughout the ship. Crystal even takes care of gratuities for housekeeping, dining and bar staff. Learn the true meaning of luxury cruising and see why world-renowned Crystal Cruises has received the ranking of "World's Best" from the readers of Travel + Leisure magazine for 17 consecutive years.

We will share this departure with several other institutions. This program will fill quickly, so make your reservation today!

Sincerely,

Beth Goldman Galer '88

Faculty Lecturer: Patrick Malone '71 Ph.D.

Emeritus Professor of American Civilization and Urban Studies

Patrick Malone graduated from the U.S. Naval Academy and received his Ph.D. in history from Brown. In addition to serving on the Brown faculty, he has taught at the University of Pennsylvania and was director of the Slater Mill Historic Site. His research focuses on the urban built environment, the history of technology and the archaeology of industry. He is the author or co-author of four books, including The Texture of Industry: An Archaeological View of the Industrialization of North America and Waterpower in Lowell: Engineering and Industry in Nineteenth-Century America. Joining him will be his wife, Lyn Malone, a geography education consultant, whose publications include Mapping Our World: GIS Lessons for Educators and Analyzing Our World Using GIS. Professor Malone, who is an expert on canal engineering, has cruised through the Panama Canal on a previous Brown trip. The Malones have also accompanied the Brown Travelers on several other adventures, always receiving rave reviews from the passengers.

Grand Cayman

Discover the allure of the Caribbean during an unforgettable cruise aboard the Six-Star Crystal Serenity. Chart a course for the storied Panama Canal, which celebrates its centennial in 2014. As you transit its locks, marvel at the magnificent feat of engineering and the idyllic landscapes that line its banks. Along the way, visit exciting destinations and be pampered in luxurious accommodations by a skilled staff committed to exceptional service and fastidious attention to detail.

GRAND CAYMAN | BRITISH WEST INDIES

The largest of the three Cayman Islands, Grand Cayman boasts jaw-dropping beaches and stunning coral reefs teeming with marine life. On shore, affluent colonial neighborhoods dominate the West Bay area, while the East End affords natural attractions such as spectacular blowholes and fragrant botanical gardens. Its quaint capital, George Town, offers British charm and tempting duty-free bargains. After shopping and sightseeing, relax on the magnificent Seven Mile Beach.

CARTAGENA | COLOMBIA

Charming Cartagena, a UNESCO World Heritage site, is one of the most fascinating towns in South America. Almost completely surrounded by lagoons, bays and the Caribbean Sea, the old city is still enclosed by the 17th-century fortifications that once guarded the gold and treasures of the New World, bound for Spain. Now they shelter ornate churches and convents, the dramatic Palace of the Inquisition and other historic gems. Spend a day exploring Cartagena's lovely colonial architecture or relaxing in an open-air café.

PUERTO VALLARTA | MEXICO

Friendly Puerto Vallarta has been a celebrated destination since 1963, when an American crew filmed the Tennessee Williams classic “The Night of the Iguana,” starring Richard Burton and Ava Gardner, in the nearby deserted cove of Mismaloya. Entranced by the lively resort town, Burton even bought a home there with Elizabeth Taylor, adding to the town’s reputation of passion and romance. Wander the cobbled streets, visit local markets, browse artisan shops and relax in the shaded eateries along the malecón, a paved walkway along the unforgettable shoreline.

HUATULCO | MEXICO

Located at the base of the Sierra Madre del Sur mountains, Huatulco is a peaceful resort town boasting white sand beaches, picturesque coves and turquoise bays. The area has long been known for its coffee, banana, papaya and coconut plantations, and the resort’s development was carefully undertaken to preserve the region’s ecology. ## THE PANAMA CANAL: THE BRIDGE BETWEEN THE OCEANS

In the 16th century, when European explorers discovered the New World, it wasn't long before they raised hopes of finding a shortcut from the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean to avoid the need to sail all the way around the southern tip of South America. Vasco Núñez de Balboa, who led the first expedition over the Isthmus of Panama, conceived the possibility of a man-made canal in 1513, but the prospect of sculpting such a waterway was preventatively daunting.

A number of explorers, politicians and engineers suggested construction plans throughout the years. Finally, in the 1880s, French developer Ferdinand de Lesseps made the first sustained attempt at sea level, as he had done at Suez. Poor planning, disease, rain, corruption and the jungle took their toll. An estimated 16,000-20,000 workers died, and the project was aborted in 1888.

Only the United States had the resources to take on the huge task. Theodore Roosevelt ordered the purchase of the French equipment, and at the urging of engineer John Frank Stevens he decided to implement a lock system instead of building at sea level.

In 1904, construction began in earnest, but working conditions were devastating; tropical diseases threatened the workers' lives, and temperatures often rose to 130°F. Colonel William Gorgas led a sanitation campaign that wiped out yellow fever in the area and reduced outbreaks of malaria and bubonic plague. The work continued and the world's largest artificial lake at that time, Gatun, was created by damming the Chagras River. To link the lake to the Gulf of Panama, a winding, eight-mile channel called the Culebra Cut was hewed through the continental divide. On each end of the canal, three massive locks were built to raise and lower giant ships to a height of 85 feet above sea level.

The canal opened in 1914. To this day, it remains a remarkable engineering feat; at least 5% of the world's shipping traffic passes through the canal each year, including 70% of all cargo to and from the United States.

Panama gained control of the canal from the United States in 1999, and in 2007 the Panamanian government launched a seven-year project to update and improve the canal, doubling its capacity and adding a third shipping lane.

Traversing the canal — feeling the ship rise and descend as the locks are opened and shut while cruising through the narrow passage — is an unforgettable experience!
