Cadets attending summer camp are subject to interview and photographing by media and JROTC personnel. Articles and photographs of various cadets may appear in newspapers, magazines, and Internet web sites. Approval must be granted by the parent and cadet prior to the use of interviews and photographs taken at camp.

Each cadet attending camp has the media release form included in their summer camp packet. This form will be completed and signed by a parent/guardian and the cadet giving their release approval. Strike out the form if release approval is not given.

The Senior Army Instructor of each school/unit is responsible for thoroughly familiarizing parents and cadets concerning the purpose of this form. This form must be present in each cadet's packet either giving approval or lined through for none approvals. Senior Army Instructors will review and sign each media release form.
