Conditions of Booking for the 24h Race Nürburgring May 15th – 17th, 2015

1. Subject of the agreement

- a.) The contract regulating ordering terms and conditions for the purchase of event tickets takes place between the package purchaser (subsequently referred to as the "customer") and zet:project. GmbH, Kohlhammerstr. 6, 70771 Leinfelden-Echterdingen (subsequently referred to as "zet:project").
- b.) Only the ordering terms and conditions used by zet:project apply. Conflicting or differing terms and conditions set by the customer will not be recognised by zet:project, unless zet:project has expressly acknowledged their validity in writing.
- c.) For implementation of the event itself, different conditions as defined by the organiser can apply.

2. Conclusion of contract

- a.) The ordering of tickets using the order form is legally binding.
- b.) Depending on availability, the customer will receive an invoice within 5 days of placing the order. The invoice is payable immediately to the zet:project account as specified.
- c.) zet:project will accept the customer's order either via written contract confirmation (by fax or e-mail) or through delivery of the tickets. The tickets will be forwarded to the customer once payment has been received. Should tickets no longer be available by the time payment is received, the customer will be informed promptly. A refund of the ticket purchase price will be made immediately.
- d.) The commercial resale of tickets is prohibited.

3. Delivery and shipping conditions

- a.) The seller's specified prices are end-prices, i.e. they include value-added taxes. Additional delivery and shipping costs (19.00 EUR per shipment) will be stated separately on the invoice.
- b.) The tickets will be delivered by courier to the address specified by the customer.
- c.) The risk of coincidental loss and coincidental impairment of the tickets sold devolves to the customer upon delivery. Should the customer be a company (i.S.d. § 14 BGB), the risk of coincidental loss and coincidental impairment related to the delivery of the tickets devolves to the seller's business headquarters to the person responsible for transportation.

4. Withdrawal

- a.) The event being carrying out in agreement with the contract is the responsibility of the organiser. In the case of breach of delivery in the context of carrying out the event (e.g. postponing or cancellation), the customer should deal with the respective organiser.
- b.) A refund of the purchase price is excluded, as long as zet:project is not responsible for the default in performance.
- c.) A return or an exchange of the ordered tickets is excluded.
- d.) A required condition for the opening of the AMG Lounge is the registration of a minimum number of participants. If this minimum number is not met the Mercedes-AMG GmbH reserves the right to cancel the event.

5. Final provisions

- a.) The contract between the customer and zet:project is governed exclusively by German substantive law.
- b.) The place of jurisdiction for all disputes arising from this agreement is Leinfelden-Echterdingen, as long as the participant deals as a business as defined in the German Commercial Code (HGB), without prejudice to zet:project, or to making a claim at other places of jurisdiction. This also applies to the enforcement of non-contractual claims, as far as these are at least in part identical to the contractual claims (except in the case of deliberate illegal actions)
- c.) Should a condition of the contract be or become legally invalid, the remainder of the contract will not be affected. In such a case, the contractual parties commit themselves to replacing the ineffective condition with one that is valid, and which comes close to fulfilling the invalid condition. A similar approach will be taken in the case of the execution of the contract reveals an omission or shortcoming.
