Finding Your College

Your search for the college that's right for you starts here.

Dear Students and Families:

As the president of the state's association of 100+ private independent colleges and universities, in recent months, I've crisscrossed the state, visiting, touring and talking with the colleges' staff and students.

I've discovered that these colleges and universities are vibrant, caring – transforming – places that engage their communities, bolster their local economies, and contribute to strengthening our state's and our national well-being.

When you begin to investigate which college to attend, I urge you to explore them, too. With more than 100 private independent colleges and universities to choose from you'll find campuses close to home, and in every corner of the state. Each has a unique community, academic focus and "feel." They truly are all special places where students can find expression for their unique talents and goals. Opportunities abound to explore your interests and talents – from study abroad to internships, to participation in clubs, sports and special interest groups.

Of course, paying for college is a big concern for most families. Please keep in mind that the colleges, the state and the federal government have many programs to help families meet college costs. I encourage all families to apply for these programs, particularly since recent changes could make meeting college expenses easier for many families. For example, Pell Grants for the neediest students will be $5,550 for the 2010-2011 academic year and the amount of college-funded grants the private independent colleges and universities provide to their students exceeds $2.85 billion annually, nearly double the amount available in 1998.

This booklet, Your College Search, and our Web site for families, www.nycolleges.org, will help you explore your options to discover the college that may be right for you.

I wish you the best as you take the steps and make the choices that will guide your future path in life.

With best wishes,

How to Begin Your College Search

There are many things to consider as you look at different colleges: academic programs, the quality of the college, the sense of community and campus life, geographic location, and, of course, college costs and financial aid.

This booklet guides you through the college selection process by providing the information you need to make an informed decision.

So where do you begin your college search?

- Start with this guide. If you have an idea about what you want to study, go to the Academic Programs section (pages 12-24) where you'll find bachelor's and associate degree programs offered by private colleges and universities in New York State.
- Use the College Search Worksheet on page 3 to compile a list of colleges that match your interests. Find out more about them. The Campus Locator Map (pages 4-7) will help you locate the campuses and the Campus Profiles section (pages 25-43) will give you basic information about the colleges on your list.
- Attend college fairs. You can meet and talk with college representatives and pick up brochures. Finding, evaluating, and choosing a college requires thought, planning, and information. Keep an open mind. You'll discover a college that suits you.
- To receive more information about any college in this booklet, write or call the colleges directly.
- If you are able, visit colleges that interest you. Before you visit, make an appointment to meet with faculty in areas that match your academic interests. While you're there, take the official tour, then walk around and talk with students.
- Early on, begin to investigate sources of financial aid. Refer to pages 8-11 in this guide for ways to get started.
- By fall of your senior year, shorten your college list to five to eight choices.
- If possible, talk with current students or graduates of the colleges on your "short list." Ask your school counselor and the colleges' admission counselors for the contact names of current students or alumni and get in touch with them.
- Obtain admission and financial aid forms. Fill out the forms carefully and be sure to meet all deadlines.

These steps will help you get started. It may seem challenging, but the time you put into the process will help you find the college that fits your needs.

Exceptional quality, diverse academic offerings, and personal attention are attracting record numbers of students to the state's private independent colleges and universities. In Fall 2008, more than 467,000 students – including almost 300,000 New Yorkers – were studying at independent colleges and universities in the state.

New York's private independent colleges and universities offer students a wide range of educational settings: 84 independent colleges (58%) enroll fewer than 2,000 students; 36 serve between 2,000 and 5,000; 25 educate more than 5,000.

See page 2 for more tips on what to look for in a college and what a college looks for in its students.

What to Look for in a College

What a college looks for in its students.

When you're searching for the right college, there are at least two things to consider: what you want in a college, and what the college is looking for in its applicants.

By starting early, you'll have time to make the best match. Think about your strengths, and the qualities you will bring to the college.

Here are some qualities colleges often look for in their applicants:

- Academic preparation.
- Challenging coursework.
- Good grades in a range of courses.
- Ranking among high school peers, including senior year ranking.
- SAT or ACT scores (not required at many colleges - check with the college).
- Extracurricular activities (commitment, rather than quantity, is the key).
- Recommendations from teachers and others.
- Written self-expression, often judged by your application essay or other writing sample.
- Verbal expression and presentation.
- Leadership ability and positions.
- Level of interest in and enthusiasm for the college.

Colleges are as individual as people. Campus environments differ. Each college or university has a distinct personality. The private colleges and universities found in every region of New York State offer you some wonderful choices. Some are urban. Others are rural. Some are large, some small. But they share common ground: they all provide quality and excellent value for your investment.

Quality, Value. They're important concepts, but what do they mean in practical terms?

Quality.

Higher education represents a commitment of time and resources – one worth the investment. According to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, the unemployment rate for full-time wage earners was double (5.7%) for individuals with only a high school diploma compared to individuals with a bachelor's degree (2.8%) in 2008.*

The quality of your college degree will matter to you and your learning experience, and it will matter in the job market. Because the college you choose will help shape your future, you will want to choose carefully.

While New York's private colleges and universities offer different programs and features, all are uniquely qualified to provide students with important benefits including dedicated, world-class faculty. They also offer low student-to-instructor ratios and myriad opportunities for intensive, experiential study.

Independent (also known as private, not-for-profit) higher education is as old as the nation. New York's independent colleges and universities number well over 100 and offer students a wide variety of locations, sizes, academic programs and institutional missions.

When you begin to consider which college to attend, look carefully at these features:

- Academic departments.
- Class size.
- Student-to-teacher ratios.
- Faculty.
- Opportunity for activities outside the classroom.
- Teaching that inspires critical thinking.
- For certain academic majors, look for research opportunities, internship programs or study abroad.
- Career placement services.
- Campus setting and campus life.

With grants, scholarships and other aid money, private colleges are often no more expensive – and sometimes less costly – than state colleges.

Value.

When you choose your college, think about the kind of learning environment you want, and the value of your future degree. At New York's private colleges and universities, you'll benefit from your contacts with well-known faculty and alumni; you'll have opportunities to gain real-life experience; and you'll enjoy the pleasure of forming personal relationships with professors who come to know you, your interests and your talents.

One more thing: never exclude colleges because of the "sticker price." You may be surprised at how much financial aid is available and, with aid packages, you may find that private colleges are no more expensive – and sometimes less costly – than state colleges.

A College Search Worksheet

As you begin to think about college, you should collect information, look at college literature, visit campuses, and research financial aid. Use this worksheet to guide and record your college search process.

1. List 3 subjects that interest you.

1. _____
 2. _____
 3. _____

2. Do you want a 2- or 4-year degree?

3. Now match your answers from Questions 1 and 2 with colleges. Using the Academic Programs section in this guide or on-line at www.nycolleges.org/programs.php, list 8 of the colleges and universities that offer the programs that interest you.

1. _____
 2. _____
 3. _____
 4. _____
 5. _____
 6. _____
 7. _____
 8. _____

4. Gather information on your college choices. Look at the Campus Profiles on pages 25-43, then “tour” the colleges’ Web sites and send for viewbooks and catalogues. For more college contact information, see the Campus Locator Map on pages 4-7, or visit www.nycolleges.org.

5. Now, note what’s important to you.

- Distance from home?
 - A short drive
 - A day’s drive
 - More than a day’s drive
- Campus size?
 - Small (fewer than 2,000 students)
 - Medium (up to 5,000 students)
 - Large (more than 5,000)
- Campus location?
 - Urban Suburban Rural

- Type of college?
 - Coed
 - Single-sex college
 - Specific religious affiliation
 - Not important
- Sports? Activities?
 - Important (which ones?) _____
 - Not important

Keep track of what you’ve learned by filling in the table below with the colleges you listed in Question 3.

6. Visit as many colleges and universities as you can to get a sense of the campus atmosphere. Does it feel right? Talk with students who are attending the colleges now or who recently graduated. Begin to shorten your list.

Table for Question 5

Colleges/Universities	Distance	Size	Location	Type	Sports/Activities
1.
2.
3.
4.
5.
6.
7.
8.

Information to keep on hand.

- Make a file for each college that interests you. Include brochures plus important names, deadlines for admission and financial aid forms, and contact numbers.
- Many colleges require one or more letters of recommendation from teachers or other key adults. Make a list of people you could ask to write references for you.

Give them direction and enough time to write the letters. Remember to thank them.

- To make answering application questions easier, keep a record of your awards or achievements, standardized test information and scores. Keep track of your work history and extracurricular and/or community activities with dates and locations, too.

Paying for College

When you've found the college you really want to attend, how do you pay for it?

Never give up on the college of your choice because you think you can't afford the "sticker price." Your first concern should be to apply to the colleges that fit your criteria for academics, distance, size, location, type, and campus life. While your decision to go to college is an investment of time and money, it can cost far less than you think it might. And, the return – for the rest of your life – will be immense.

Private colleges and universities are committed to helping students and their families. In New York, in addition to state and federal aid, students attending private independent colleges and universities annually receive more than $2.85 billion in grants and scholarships. Some of that money could be for you.

Most students attending college receive some form of financial assistance. The major sources of financial aid available to families include:

- grants and scholarships from colleges, and from federal and state governments;
- loans from the federal government;
- job programs on- or off-campus.

Typically, a student's financial aid package or award includes a combination of grants, scholarships, federally-guaranteed loans, and work-study. In addition, families should investigate other sources of aid such as:

- benefits offered by employers;
- competitive scholarships from civic and religious organizations; and
- scholarships for study in specific academic subjects or toward certain professions.

The bottom line is this: money is available for your college education. It's important to explore and weigh your options, stay determined, and be aware of deadlines. The result? Attending the college of your choice.

Exploring financial aid options.

To learn more about financial aid, talk with college admission and financial aid counselors. Check your guidance or college office for scholarship announcements and use the Internet to check out the sites below. Watch the deadlines – there may be scholarships with deadlines that are due before your college applications are due. Ask lots of questions and start your research early!

The Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) provides up to $5,000 a year for eligible students from New York State who plan to attend a college or university in the state.

Nationally, more than 8 in 10 full-time students receive financial assistance. In New York, each year, private not-for-profit colleges and universities provide more than $2.85 billion in financial aid to students.

Financial Aid Programs

Grants and Scholarships

Grants and scholarships are funds you do not have to repay. They are available from colleges, your state, the federal government, professional and service organizations, private foundations and many employers. Some grants are based on your financial need while others are awarded for academic merit, a specific career goal, special talent or group affiliation.

Grants and scholarships from NYS private colleges and universities: To be considered for grants and scholarships from many private colleges and universities, you'll be asked to file the FAFSA. Check with each financial aid office to determine which forms you need to complete to be considered for all need-based and merit-based aid.

Federal Pell Grants at NYS private colleges and universities: Awards will range up to $5,550 per year in 2010-11. To apply, file the FAFSA.

Federal Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG): For more information: www.studentaid.ed.gov and type "ACG grant" in the search field.

Federal National Science & Mathematics Access to Retain Talent Grant (SMART Grant): For more information and to view a complete list of majors, visit www.studentaid.ed.gov and type "SMART Grant" in the search field.

Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (FSEOG): To apply, file the FAFSA.

The Teacher Education Assistance for College and Higher Education (TEACH) Grant: For more information, visit www.studentaid.ed.gov and type "TEACH Grant" in the search field.

NYS Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) grants at private colleges and universities: Awards will range up to $5,000 per year in 2010-11. For more information, visit www.hesc.org, or call 1.888.NYSHESC.

Part-time TAP: Visit www.hesc.org, or call 1-888-NYSHESC.

Scholarships from private sources: Grants and scholarships are available from many community organizations, businesses, corporations, unions and churches. Check with your school counselor, public library, employer, chamber of commerce, union, church, community and special-interest organizations.

All programs as of 2009-10 academic year. Subject to change in 2010-11 academic year pending NYS and Federal budget appropriations.

Work-Study

Work-study programs provide opportunities to earn money while you're in college by working part time on campus or in the community.

Federal Work-Study Program (FWS): Students usually work 10 to 15 hours per week during the academic year. Eligibility is based on financial need. Funding for the program was recently increased. To apply, file the FAFSA.

Job programs from private colleges and universities: Check with the college's financial aid office for on-campus job availability. Community service jobs are also available for work-study students.

Student Loans

Educational loans for college costs may be available for you and/or your parents. This aid must be repaid, usually with interest. Some loans are based on financial need. Federally-guaranteed loans often provide the lowest interest rates. These include: Direct loans, federal Perkins loans, and federal PLUS loans.

Federal Direct loans: To apply, file the FAFSA.

Federal Perkins loans: To apply, file the FAFSA.

Alternatives for Parents and Students

Alternatives for parents and students may include interest-free monthly tuition payment plans, federal PLUS loans, lines of credit, tuition tax deductions and credits.

Federal PLUS loans: Check with the college for loan application procedures.

Interest-free monthly payment plans: Check with the college.

AmeriCorps: For more information call 1-800-942-2677, or visit www.americorps.org.

Veterans Education Benefits

The Post-9/11 GI Bill provides students attending colleges and universities in New York State up to $1,010 per credit hour for tuition assistance and $12,697 per term for fees. (This amount varies by state and will change each year.) In some cases, this benefit can be transferred to other family members. For program overviews, see: www.gibill.va.gov.

In addition, many private, not-for-profit colleges and universities in New York State are participating in the Yellow Ribbon Program. For additional information, visit www.gibill.va.gov/GI_Bill_info/ch33/yellow_ribbon.htm.

ROTC Programs

The Army, Marine Corps, Navy, and Air Force offer financial assistance to qualified students. Scholarships may range up to full tuition plus fees, books and uniform; a monthly stipend may also be awarded. Students incur a service obligation (generally for a total of eight years) in return for a four-year scholarship (some three-, two- and even one-year scholarships are available). The application deadline is usually in December of the high school senior year. Contact your high school counselor or the colleges listed below for details.

Six Steps to Financial Aid

Step 1

Check with each college's financial aid office to determine which forms you need to file to be considered for all types of financial aid.

Every college is different. Get your PIN: if you intend to file your Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) on-line (it's quicker), you and your parent(s) (if you are a dependent student) must apply for your Personal Identification Numbers (PIN), which serve as your electronic signature for the FAFSA on the Web. For more information, visit www.pin.ed.gov. Don't wait to be accepted to a college before filing an application for financial aid. File as early as possible.

The most important financial aid application forms are:

- FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) – Everyone applying for federal and most other financial aid must complete this free form. File on-line at www.fafsa.ed.gov or by mail.
- NYS TAP Application – NYS residents attending a college in NYS use this free form with the FAFSA to apply for a NYS TAP grant and to request payment of NYS scholarship awards. Complete the on-line TAP application by linking to it directly from your FAFSA Confirmation Page. Even if you use a paper FAFSA, you can still do your TAP application on-line. You will be prompted to get a NYS HESC PIN (Personal Identification Number) to "sign" your on-line TAP application. If you don't apply for TAP on-line you can request an Express TAP Application (ETA) by contacting the New York State Higher Education Services Corporation (HESC) at www.hesc.org or by calling 1.888.NYSHESC. HESC is the state agency that processes the TAP application. The ETA will be pre-filled with information from your FAFSA. If you provide your e-mail address on your FAFSA, HESC will be able to process your TAP application faster. If no e-mail is provided you will be notified by letter.
- PROFILE – Some colleges may ask you to file the CSS PROFILE form to be considered for college-funded aid (the college's own grants and scholarships). There is a fee for filing this form.

- College-specific financial aid application – Some colleges may ask you to complete the college's own financial aid application to be considered for their college-funded grants, scholarships and loans.

To obtain these forms: The FAFSA form is available on-line at www.fafsa.ed.gov. To request a paper FAFSA, call 1.800.4.FED.AID. The PROFILE form is available on-line only at <https://profileonline.collegeboard.com>. Request the college's own financial aid application from the college itself, if required. Follow each college's filing requirements and deadlines.

Step 2

Complete and mail the FAFSA as soon as possible after January 1 (of your senior year in high school) to ensure that you're considered for all available funding. If your family hasn't yet completed its income tax returns, estimate your family's income as accurately as possible (from end-of-year pay stubs or W-2 forms). You'll have the opportunity to make corrections later in the process. If you're a NYS resident applying to colleges in the state, make sure you include a New York college on your FAFSA to begin application for a NYS TAP grant. Complete any other financial aid forms required by the colleges. It is very important to meet all deadlines and to keep a copy of all the forms you file.

By filing the FAFSA, you will be considered for*:

- Grants and scholarships from private colleges and universities (some colleges may require an additional form)
- Federal Pell Grant
- Academic Competitiveness Grant (ACG)
- National SMART Grant
- Federal Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)
- Federal Work-Study (FWS)
- Job programs from private colleges and universities
- Federal Perkins Loan
- Federal Direct Stafford Loan

Step 3

You will receive your Federal Student Aid Report (SAR) approximately 30 days after submitting your FAFSA by mail. If you file the FAFSA on the Web (recommended) and provide a valid e-mail, your SAR will be sent via e-mail. A paper SAR acknowledgment will be sent if a valid e-mail address is not provided. Review your SAR's information carefully. Follow the directions to correct any errors.

Step 4

In the spring (usually March or April), you'll receive financial aid "awards" or "packages" from the colleges that have offered you admission, each with a different combination of grants, scholarships, work-study and loans to help you meet college expenses.

Determine your "net cost" by subtracting from tuition and fees and room and board (if you're living on campus) all grants and scholarships plus the total amount of your federally-guaranteed loans.

Be sure you meet the deadlines for admission and financial aid applications. Apply as early as possible!

Step 5

Review your financial aid award letters and compare your net costs. Decide which college to attend and let the college know by the deadline they have indicated - usually by May 1. Then, review your financial aid with your chosen college. In particular:

- If federal student loans are part of your financial aid package, the college will send instructions about the loan application process. You will need to complete and sign a form called the Master Promissory Note (MPN) in order to receive federally-guaranteed student loans (e.g., Direct Stafford Loan funds). Make sure you know how much you are borrowing and the loan repayment terms and conditions.
- NYS students attending college in the state: Follow up on your NYS Tuition Assistance Program (TAP) grant. Visit www.hesc.org to review, and if necessary, correct the data on your TAP application.

Step 6

Be informed about the requirements to maintain your aid, such as required grades and course work. And, you must apply to renew your financial aid each year – on time – or risk losing it! Check your college's deadlines.

*Subject to change pending Federal budget appropriations.

Academic Programs

How to use the Academic Programs Listing

Scan the areas of study at right to locate those that interest you. Each is followed by page numbers where you'll find bachelor's (B) and/or associate (A) degree program listings. For example, let's say you're interested in a bachelor's degree in Physics. Programs in Physical Sciences/Chemistry/Physics are listed on pages 13-14. The programs are numbered and cross-referenced to the colleges and universities. Look for Physics, number P16. Next, look down the list of colleges. Highlight or circle all the colleges with number P16. You should find 43 colleges that offer a degree program, a minor, or major area of concentration in Physics.

The Academic Programs section is a general listing. It includes a broad range of the undergraduate degree programs, minors and major areas of concentration offered by New York's private colleges and universities.

Always consult individual campus catalogues to distinguish registered degree programs from minors and major areas of concentration offered within larger programs.

Enrollment:

Enroll. UG: Total fall 2009 undergraduate (UG) full-time plus part-time enrollment. In parentheses is the number of full-time (FT) UG men and women, followed by the number of part-time (PT) UG men and women; "n/a" means not applicable, i.e., the college does not admit part-time students.) G/FP: Total fall 2009 enrollment of graduate (G) and first professional (FP) students, if applicable.

Tuition & Fees (09-10 T&F):

Academic year, full-time typical undergraduate 2009-2010 T&F, unless specified otherwise. Note that fees often vary depending on the program of study you choose.

Room & Board (09-10 R&B) or Room Only (09-10 R-only):

Academic year, full-time typical 2009-2010 R&B or 2009-2010 R-only, unless specified otherwise; "n/a" means not applicable, i.e., room and board is not offered on these campuses.

App. Dates:

Date(s) by which the college must receive your application for undergraduate admission. Deadlines listed may be labeled FR (for freshmen) and TR (for transfer students). Deadlines to be considered for fall admission are listed first, followed by deadlines for spring admission, if applicable.

Fin. Aid Dates:

Date(s) by which the college must receive your financial aid application(s) for fall undergraduate admission, unless specified otherwise. Deadlines listed may be labeled FR (for freshmen) and TR (for transfer students).

App. Req.:

Application requirements are the general specifications that you must meet to be considered for undergraduate admission. Requirements may be labeled FR (for freshmen) and TR (for transfer students).

The information listed is intended as a general profile of each campus - check with an admission counselor for further detailed information. Campus profile information was current as of April 2010. While we make every effort to ensure accuracy, always verify information with the colleges directly.

College Terminology

Annual College Costs - includes tuition, fees, room, board, books, transportation, and personal expenses. These costs vary from college to college.

Associate - degree awarded on completion of a 2-year (usually) program of study.

Bachelor's - (baccalaureate) degree awarded on completion of a 4-year (usually) program of study.

Common Application - a number of colleges accept the same application, called the Common Application. Check with the college.

Early Action - a non-binding early application process allowing students to learn the admission decision before the official candidate notification date.

Early Decision - a binding early commitment process where students are notified of acceptance and are expected to commit to enrollment before regular applicants.

Financial Aid - aid to assist in meeting college costs which may be in the form of grants, scholarships, loans, or work-study. Always meet these application deadlines. See pages 8-11 for more information about financial aid.

First Professional - a course of study culminating in a degree and license in a profession such as law, medicine, etc.

Graduate and Professional Students - those working toward a master's, doctorate, post-graduate certificate, or professional license.

Interview - a conversation with a college admission or faculty representative, or with alumni.

Master's and Doctorates - advanced degrees awarded for completion of additional study beyond a bachelor's (4-year) degree.

Recommendation - a written assessment of the student's aptitudes, abilities and interests written by a teacher, counselor, coach, etc.

Rolling Admission - an institution reviews applications as they are received and offers a decision to students as applications are reviewed.

Room and Board - college housing and meal plans (often several options are available).

SAT and the ACT - standardized tests that measure verbal and math proficiency that colleges use to predict the likelihood of a student's success in a college.

SAT Subject Tests - subject-specific exams required for admission by many colleges [e.g., English (literature), history and social studies (U.S. History and World History), math (Level 1 or Level 2), science (Biology E/M, Chemistry, Physics), languages (Chinese, French, German, Spanish, Modern Hebrew, Italian, Latin, Japanese and Korean)].

Undergraduate Student - one working toward a 2-year (associate) or a 4-year (bachelor's) degree.

There's one for you!

The best way to learn more about a college is to ask questions. Call, write, or e-mail the campus admission staff, then plan a visit. See the Campus Profiles or contact information on pages 4-7 to request information and applications from the colleges. Or, visit New York's independent (private, not-for-profit) colleges and universities' admission and financial aid Web site, www.nycolleges.org.

Maybe you have a very specific academic interest. Perhaps you're still searching. Either way, there's a New York State private college or university that's right for you.

- How will outside scholarships affect my financial aid package?
- Do you have a monthly payment plan?

Calendar

For students entering college in the 2011-2012 academic year

Summer-Fall

- Colleges encourage visits from students and their parents/guardians. It's your chance to "try on" a campus. Use the map on pages 4-7 to plan your trips. Also ask your school counselor about college fairs in your area. College fairs offer good opportunities to talk with college representatives and start to build relationships.
- Collect admission applications from colleges. Contact the admission offices directly by phone or e-mail.
- Ask your teachers and others for the letters of recommendation you need for your admission applications. Make a list of all admission and financial aid application deadlines!
 - Aug. 6: Registration deadline for Sept. 11 ACT.
 - Sep. 10: Registration deadline for Oct. 9 SAT & Subject Tests.
 - Sep. 17: Registration deadline for Oct. 23 ACT.
 - Sep. 11: ACT test date.
 - Oct. 8: Registration deadline for Nov. 6 SAT & Subject Tests.
 - Oct. 9: SAT & Subject Tests date.
 - Oct. 13: PSAT/NMSQT test date.
 - Oct. 16: PSAT/NMSQT test date.
 - Oct. 23: ACT test date.

November and December

- Explore all financial aid sources, including scholarships from local businesses, organizations, employers, churches, etc. Ask for help at your public library and guidance/college office. Attend financial aid workshops and college fairs. See page 44 for helpful Web addresses.
- Continue completing your college applications. Pay careful attention to the deadlines!
- If you plan on completing the FAFSA on-line (recommended), get a federal student aid PIN for you and your parents at www.pin.ed.gov. Obtain the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) worksheet from your school counselor or on-line at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Check with all the colleges to which you are applying to determine if there are other financial aid forms you must complete to qualify for all types of aid. Obtain all required forms.

- Nov. 5: Registration deadline for Dec. 4 SAT & Subject Tests.
- Nov. 6: SAT & Subject Tests date.
- Nov. 5: Registration deadline for Dec. 11 ACT.
- Dec. 4: SAT & Subject Tests date.
- Dec. 11: ACT test date.
- Dec. 23: Registration deadline for Jan. 22 SAT & Subject Tests.

2011

January

- Attend local college financial aid awareness activities and workshops.
- As soon as possible after January 1, complete and mail your FAFSA, or complete it on-line at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Estimate your income if you have not yet completed your tax returns. Keep a copy of all the forms you file. Complete and submit all other required financial aid forms. Watch your deadlines! You'll receive your Student Aid Report (SAR) within four weeks after filing your FAFSA by mail; sooner if you complete it on-line. Review your SAR carefully. Follow directions to correct errors.
 - Jan. 7: Registration deadline for Feb. 12 ACT - Outside NYS only.
 - Jan. 22: SAT & Subject Tests date.

February and March

- If you have not already done so, visit the colleges.
- Start to look for a summer job.
- In March, colleges will begin to notify students of college acceptance. See April for more information.
- New York State students who file the FAFSA on-line may apply for TAP on-line by linking to it directly on your FAFSA confirmation page. For more information call 1-888-NYSHEC.
 - Feb. 11: Registration deadline for Mar. 12 SAT only.
 - Feb. 12: ACT test date - Outside NYS only.
 - Mar. 4: Registration deadline for Apr. 9 ACT.
 - Mar. 12: SAT only test date.

Visit
www.studentaid.ed.gov or www.nasfaa.org
for answers to questions about financial aid.

April

- Colleges with traditional admissions and financial aid deadlines will notify you of college acceptance and financial aid packages. Evaluate the offers. Notify all the colleges of your decision or request an extension, usually by May 1. Pay attention to those deadlines!
- If you still wish to expand your options, some colleges will accept admissions and financial aid applications at this time. See the Campus Profiles on pages 25-43 or www.nycolleges.org/profiles.php for college contact information.
 - Apr. 8: Registration deadline for May 7 SAT & Subject Tests.
 - Apr. 9: ACT test date.

May and June

- May 1 is the traditional deadline for students to notify colleges of their college choice. If you decline admission and have received an aid package, notify the college financial aid office so it can offer the award to another student.
- NYS residents applying for TAP: Check your e-mail for correspondence from HESC about your TAP award. If you decide on a college in New York State, review, provide additional information, or make corrections to your TAP application information as necessary or if requested by HESC. If you applied by mail, review, correct and return your Express TAP Application (ETA) to HESC. Be sure your TAP Award Certificate contains the code for the college you will attend. Visit www.hesc.org for more information, or call 1-888-NYSHEC.
- Follow up on the progress of your grants, scholarships, loans, work-study and other forms of student aid.
 - May 2-6 & 9-13: Advanced Placement Program® Exams.
 - May 6: Registration deadline for Jun. 4 SAT & Subject Tests.
 - May 6: Registration deadline for Jun. 11 ACT.
 - May 7: SAT & SAT Subject Tests date.
 - Jun. 4: SAT & SAT Subject Tests date.
 - Jun. 11: ACT test date.

- Don't forget to send thank-you notes.

NOTE: Register for the SAT® exams on-line at www.collegeboard.com. Register for ACT Assessment® exams on-line at www.act.org. Registration deadlines listed here refer to regular U.S. postmark dates. Visit above Web sites for international deadlines and U.S. late registration deadlines.
