Gaining the Competitive Edge: A Dairy Seminar Series -- 2009

Cost: $25.00/Person (meals, breaks & materials)
10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m.

PROGRAM:

- Farm Business Management Strategies for Uncertain Times

With current uncertainty in our input and output markets, our old risk management practices may not work. What farm management strategies should we employ in these uncertain times?

Dr. Gregg Hadley

Agriculture and Natural Resources Specialist, UW-River Falls

- Livestock Gross Margin for Dairy

A new insurance product available for Wisconsin dairy producers that protects the gross margin (milk value less feed costs) against unexpected price declines.

Dr. Victor Cabrera

Dairy Management Extension Specialist, UW-Madison

- Myth Busting Milk Routines

The "real scoop" on what research shows about milking routines. Udder preparation and the overall milking routine are important aspects of implementing effective mastitis control. We will bust many of the common milking procedure myths by presenting the most recent research data.

Dr. Pam Ruegg

Milk Quality Specialist, UW-Madison

- Calf Barn Ventilation - A Breath of Fresh Air

Micro-climates in individual calf pens can be improved by using positive pressure tubes in naturally-ventilated freestalls.

Dr. Brian Holmes

Ag Engineer, UW-Madison
