

Behavioral Interventions for Tweens and Teens with Down Syndrome Seminar

Saturday, November 10, 2012
9:00 AM to 4:00 PM
Westin at Crown Center
One East Pershing Road
Kansas City, MO 64108

Behavioral Interventions for Tweens, Teens and Adults — Reducing Problem Behaviors in the Middle School Years and Beyond.

Tweens and teens often have behavioral needs that are distinctly different from younger children. This seminar will describe how behavior develops and how behavior change is possible at any age. Specific strategies and techniques will be discussed to help you learn how to get (or keep) your child on the right track.

Important topics covered in this seminar:

- Basic behavioral principles
- What a functional assessment is
- Replacement behaviors and how they are essential to decrease problem behaviors
- How environment impacts behavior
- Working collaboratively with your school

REGISTRATION FEE $25.00

Your Presenter: Stacy Taylor, MA, B.C.B.A.

Stacy received her Bachelor's degree in psychology from Rollins College and completed her Masters degree in Early Childhood Education at the University of Central Florida. For over 12 years, she has worked as a behavior analyst providing services for people with developmental disabilities and behavioral challenges.

She has served as director for 3 behavioral intervention programs and currently owns and operates, Advance Behavior & Learning in Central Florida. In addition to providing 1:1 treatment to children, Stacy has also provided training and consultation to parents, teachers, therapists and agencies.

Stacy has spoken at numerous conferences across the country on behavioral treatment and serves on the board of the Down Syndrome Association of Central Florida. She has taught bachelor's level courses in learning and behavior and provided an internship site to help students gain real-world experience in addressing behavior concerns. She is also the mother of a child with Down syndrome.
