A Stewardship Moment

Among the compelling Eucharistic themes proclaimed in today's readings is the notion of "participation" as found in Saint Paul's letter to the Corinthians. Good stewards are part of a Eucharistic family: loving, welcoming, serving. An important part of living as a steward comes about in the many ways we can participate in the life of the Church. No matter how much time we have to give, no matter what our skills or interests, no matter what our level of commitment, there is a way to participate as a good steward to enrich our lives and the lives of others to build up the Body of Christ.

The Constitution on the Sacred Liturgy

"Preach it, brother!" Yes, there are Catholic assemblies that are free enough to make such exclamations. Have you ever been so excited that you wanted to make such a shout, or call out an "Amen"? People of many faiths flocked to houses of worship after the horror of September 11, 2001, looking to hear the Word of God and to hear it applied to that experience. When the homilist opens up God's Word and proclaims "God's wonderful works in the history of salvation," the People of God are moved. The homilist seeks to open the Word and liturgical celebration and to apply it to the present time, place, and community. Finding our place in the midst of the grand story authored by God is one part of our lifelong quest, and the Homily is a moment in our journey where we find assistance in that search.

You Are What You Eat

In John's Gospel, Jesus gives a long discourse on the Bread of Life. The first part talks of bread as a sign of God's loving care for the people. Like the manna in the desert, Jesus represents God caring for the people in a new way. But the part we hear in today's Gospel is more specific. He says the bread he will give is his flesh. The leaders of the Jews don't understand. Hopefully, we can do better.

In the pagan world at the time of Christ and before, a sacrifice was also a meal. An animal was ritually killed and burnt (i.e., cooked) to be shared at a meal with the people. The sacrifice was a gift to the god(s) that joined the people to their deity and also to each other. So Jesus used that understanding of sacrifice to explain his gift of self. He would die on the cross as a sacrifice to the Father and we would share in the meal by consuming bread and wine, which are his Body and Blood. That meal is shared today in the Eucharist.

Better than the pagan sacrifice, the Eucharist unites us with God because Jesus is both human and divine. His humanity allowed him to represent us to the Father, as a lawyer represents a client to the court. Jesus' divinity allowed his sacrifice to be worthy of the Father, as no merely human gift could be. So giving his life on the cross was the best and only way that he could offer a true sacrifice to the Father.

The Eucharist also unites us to one another. We share this meal with other Christians as a sign of our common faith. Christ who gave himself to the Father on the cross also gives himself to us in the Eucharist. And because the food we share is the Body and Blood of Christ, we in a sense become what we eat. So we are all members of the Body of Christ. We show this by our love, by sharing our faith, by forgiving each other, and by our service to each other. If we believe that Jesus is divine, we must believe his word that the Eucharist is truly his Body and Blood, given for us. Tom Schmidt, Copyright (c) J. S. Paluch Co.

Treasures from our Tradition

Ordinary Time beckons, and so on this Sunday we surrender the last glimmers of paschal joy as we celebrate the renewal of our life around the table of the Eucharist. This feast reminds us that the goal of the catechumen's journey through Lent is not the baptismal font at Easter, but rather the experience of Pentecost. It is all about life lived in the Spirit's embrace in relationship to the Body of Christ, which is found both "on the table" and "at the table."

"Confirmation has sometimes been sadly misunderstood as a kind of graduation from religious formation, but it is nothing of the sort."

The season of confirmation is also drawing to a close, and this feast serves as a reminder that this sacrament, a solemn sending from font to table, is keyed to renewed vigor. Confirmation has sometimes been sadly misunderstood as a kind of graduation from religious formation, but it is nothing of the sort. It is about being led by the Lord Jesus to the place where the Spirit flourishes, and where the gifts of the Spirit are most easily detectable. After next week we will resume our consideration of the sacrament of confirmation, its rich and somewhat tangled history, its challenging theology, and its changing celebration. -Rev. James Field, Copyright (c) J. S. Paluch Co.

Vocation Committee

The SEAS Vocation Committee Meets the 2nd Monday of each month at 4:00 PM in Rm. 6 of the Parish Hall. We are responsible for promoting an awareness and need for vocations in our parish; to nurture, enlighten and pray for those who are responding to God's call. For more information contact Chris Pristas 702-363-6931 and please pray for our religious daily. About 75% of Catholic young people who have seriously considered religious life felt they were never encouraged to pursue that goal. Your encouragement may be all they need to answer God's call. Try it!

Pray for Vocations

Prayer is a moving force in vocation development. Prayer is effective; prayer is powerful; prayer is essential. Few are called to priesthood or religious life, but all are called to pray for vocations.

Lord, your Church is in need. Touch the hearts of many within our parish with the desire to serve you. Call forth from this community sisters, brothers, deacons, priests, and lay leaders. Help us to live lives that will nurture childhood trust into adult commitment. May this parish be a source of hope and a source of ministers for your Church, your people, and your world.
Amen.

Twelfth Night

Orsino loves Olivia (who won't give him the time of day). Olivia loves Viola (whom she thinks is a boy). Viola loves Orsino (who doesn't know she's a girl). Malvolio loves being in love, and Andrew, Toby Belch, and Maria love life to its fullest. It's all rollicking confusion, but this hilarious cast of characters, in the end, does find love when they least expect it.

An uncertain Cinderella.

A bloodthirsty Little Red Ridinghood. A wicked witch—who sings and dances? They're all among the cockeyed characters of this fractured fairy tale. But in this modern musical, happiness-ever-after is not always what it seems: Actions have consequences, charming princes have flaws, and, well, killing a giant can make the giant's wife very angry.

Stewardship

The Fruits of the Ten Virtues

Because I have experienced it personally, I believe that as people come to own the ten virtues in their lives they experience a deeper falling in love with God in Christ, which naturally brings them to develop a burning desire to share that love with others. With their faith on fire by the power of the Holy Spirit, they strive to be the best disciples and stewards they can be. People's lives are transformed.

Cultivating the ten virtues of prayer, humility, trust, patience, responsibility, gratitude, generosity, simplicity, mercy and perseverance will naturally lead the Christian Disciple to live a life of stewardship.

Prayer: if we are to grow in holiness and in our relationship with God, prayer is absolutely essential. Humility: total dependence on God is the hallmark of humility. A Christian steward is filled with humility, not pride. Trust: the Christian steward seeks to trust God more and to trust themselves much less. Patience: "Love is patient" 1 Cor. 13:14. The Christian steward is patient with God, with others, and with themselves. Responsibility: "Well done good and faithful servant" Matthew 25:19. To be responsible is to first understand that we are not our own masters, or the owners of all that we possess. We belong to God, and all that we have has been given to us from our good and gracious God. It is all a gift that is to be used and shared responsibly. Gratitude: Being a steward means living each day in gratitude, not envy.

The secret to happiness is not found in having more but in wanting less. Generosity: for the steward, authentic generosity is born out of an attitude of gratitude. For the Christian steward, giving is motivated by a need to give more than giving to a need. Simplicity: "Live simply so that others may simply live," Blessed Mother Teresa. Adopting a simpler lifestyle enables you to appreciate the abundance you enjoy compared to millions around the world. It also opens the door to living more generously. Mercy: one of the greatest measures of mercy is the ability to forgive. Christian stewards are willing to forgive others and themselves. Perseverance: the stewardship way of life is both joyful and rewarding, while at the same time being challenging and sometimes difficult so the virtue of perseverance is a vital one in the journey. "Mature disciples make a conscious, firm decision, carried out in action, to be followers of Jesus Christ no matter the cost to themselves." (Stewardship A Disciple's Response, 1992 USCCB) It's important to remember in all of this that this is not a quick fix; the transformation does not happen all at once, but over a lifetime. It's a journey, and to quote that great steward, the late Archbishop Thomas Murphy, "It's a journey that is well worth the taking!"

This article is part 12 in a series of 12 reflections on stewardship virtues by ICSC member, Dan Potvin, Director of Stewardship for the Archdiocese of Winnipeg, Canada.

USCCB-Fortnight for Freedom

O God our Creator, from your provident hand we have received our right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.
 You have called us as your people and given us the right and the duty to worship you, the only true God, and your Son, Jesus Christ.
 Through the power and working of your Holy Spirit,
 you call us to live out our faith in the midst of the world, bringing the light and the saving truth of the Gospel to every corner of society.
 We ask you to bless us in our vigilance for the gift of religious liberty.
 Give us the strength of mind and heart to readily defend our freedoms when they are threatened;
 give us courage in making our voices heard on behalf of the rights of your Church and the freedom of conscience of all people of faith.
 Grant, we pray, O heavenly Father, a clear and united voice to all your sons and daughters gathered in your Church in this decisive hour in the history of our nation, so that, with every trial withstood and every danger overcome—for the sake of our children, our grandchildren, and all who come after us—
 this great land will always be “one nation, under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.”
 We ask this through Christ our Lord.
Amen.

★ JUNE 21 to JULY 4, 2014 ★
FORTNIGHT FOR FREEDOM FREEDOM TO SERVE
 FORTNIGHT4FREEDOM★ORG

The Fortnight for Freedom: Freedom to Serve takes place from June 21 to July 4, 2014, a time when our liturgical calendar celebrates a series of great martyrs who remained faithful in the face of persecution by political power—St. Thomas More and St. John Fisher, St. John the Baptist, SS. Peter and Paul, and the First Martyrs of the Church of Rome. The theme of this year's Fortnight will focus on the freedom to serve the poor and vulnerable in accord with human dignity and the Church's teaching. Daily reflections, readings, and additional prayer resources can be found at usccb.org.

Pope Benedict XVI spoke in 2012 about his worry that religious liberty in the United States is being weakened. He called religious liberty the “most cherished of American freedoms.” Unfortunately, our most cherished freedom is under threat:

- ♦ HHS mandate for sterilization, contraception, and abortion-inducing drugs. The mandate of the Department of Health and Human Services forces religious institutions to facilitate and/or fund a product contrary to their own moral teaching. Further, the federal government tries to define which religious institutions are “religious enough” to merit protection of their religious liberty.
- ♦ Catholic foster care and adoption services. Boston, San Francisco, the District of Columbia, and the State of Illinois have driven local Catholic Charities out of the business of providing adoption or foster care services—by revoking their licenses, by ending their government contracts, or both—because those Charities refused to place children with same-sex couples or unmarried opposite-sex couples who cohabit.
- ♦ State immigration laws. Several states have passed laws that forbid what they deem as “harboring” of undocumented immigrants—and what the Church deems Christian charity and pastoral care to these immigrants.
- ♦ Discrimination against small church congregations. New York City adopted a policy that barred the Bronx Household of Faith and other churches from renting public schools on weekends for worship services, even though non-religious groups could rent the same schools for many other uses. Litigation in this case continues.

- ♦ Discrimination against Catholic humanitarian services. After years of excellent performance by the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops’ Migration and Refugee Services (MRS) in administering contract services for victims of human trafficking, the federal government changed its contract specifications to require MRS to provide or refer for contraceptive and abortion services in violation of Catholic teaching.
- ♦ Christian students on campus. In its over-100-year history, the University of California Hastings College of Law has denied student organization status to only one group, the Christian Legal Society, because it required its leaders to be Christian and to abstain from sexual activity outside of marriage.

Is our most cherished freedom truly under threat?

Yes, Pope Benedict XVI recognized just two years ago that various attempts to limit the freedom of religion in the U.S. are particularly concerning. The threat to religious freedom is larger than any single case or issue and has its roots in secularism in our culture. The Holy Father has asked for the laity to have courage to counter secularism that would “delegitimize the Church’s participation in public debate about the issues which are determining the future of American society.”

What can you do to ensure the protection of religious freedom at home and abroad? The U.S. Bishops have called for a Fortnight for Freedom from June 21 to July 4, 2014. Please visit www.fortnight4freedom.org for more information on this important time of prayer, education, and action in support of religious freedom!
