Babysitter Training

A Big Responsibility with Big Rewards

Why Is this So Important?

What Do We Offer?

Babysitter Training at Harrington consists of a one-day, six-hour course. The program is supported by our hospital and also from a fee paid by participants.

Students who enroll learn what it takes to become a responsible babysitter. They leave with a booklet full of helpful tips, a special Harrington Babysitting Card— and the confidence that results from gaining the following skills:

- How to administer CPR and basic First Aid.
- How to prevent choking.
- How to respond to fires and other emergencies.
- How to hold, feed, and diaper babies.
- How to deal with “stranger danger.”
- How to deal with children “acting out.”
- How to safely play with children of different ages and prevent injury.
- How to be a creative and considerate caretaker.

Our program was honored with a Community Champion Award by the Southbridge Credit Union in 2007.

Whether caring for a younger child or preparing to stay home without supervision, young people need to become attentive to what’s happening around them and learn to resolve conflicts without resorting to forceful tactics. Babysitting isn’t all about chatting online and watching DVDs. Rather, it’s a big responsibility that requires maturity, skills, and confidence.

Parents who hire babysitters want to be assured that they are leaving their children in the care of someone who is skilled and experienced. When parents see the Harrington Babysitting Card, they’ll have greater peace of mind that the students will exercise good judgment in unexpected situations.

Ultimately, babysitting should be a fun and rewarding experience!
