Return of Title IV Funds Policy

Effective October 7, 2000 the law specifies how the school must determine the amount of SFA program assistance that a student earns if he/she withdraws. The school will calculate the amount of Title IV aid that a student has earned based on a payment period. The new law required that, when a student withdraws during a payment period, the amount of FSA program assistance that he/she has earned up to that point is determine by a specific formula. If the student has received (or the school received it on his/her behalf) less assistance than the amount earned for the payment period, he or she will be able to receive those additional funds. If a student has received more assistance than he/she has earned, the excess funds must be returned. The amount of assistance that a student has earned is determined on a pro-rata basis. That is 30 percent of the payment period. That is, if 30 percent of the payment period has been completed, the student earned 30 percent of the assistance that he/she was originally scheduled to receive for the payment period. Once a student has completed more than 60 percent of the payment period he/she will have earned all of the SFA assistance.

If a student receives excess funds that must be returned, the school must return a portion of the excess equal to the lesser of:

- The institutional charges (which are prorated for the payment period) multiplied by the unearned percentage of the funds; or
- The entire amount of the excess funds.

If the school is not required to return the excess funds, the student must return the remaining amount, even if all the funds were applied to his/her account. Any loans funds that the student must repaid in accordance with the terms of the promissory note. That is the student makes scheduled payments to the holder of the loan over a period of time.

- Any amount of unearned grant funds that you must return is called an over payment. The amount of a grant overpayment that you must repay is half of the unearned amount. You must make arrangements with the school or the Department of Education to return the unearned grant funds.
- The requirements for FSA program funds when you withdraw are separate from any refunds policy that the school may have. Therefore, you may still owe funds to the school to cover unpaid institutional charges. The school may also charge you for any FSA program funds that the school was required to return.

If you have any questions about the FSA program funds, you can call the Federal Student Aid Information Center at 1-800-4 FEDAID.
