Homeowners Inventory Chart

The information you place in your home inventory file can make insurance claim settlements faster and easier. You should have a record of your property in order to help make an accurate insurance claim. The inventory may also help you in determining whether you may need personal property limits higher than already specified in your policy.

In taking an inventory of your home, you should include everything except vehicles, animals and items that are insured under other policies. This inventory should be kept in a safe location outside of your home (e.g. at work, at a relative's house or in a safe deposit box). It would be helpful if you made a copy of this file and other important documents and placed the originals in safe keeping.

Home Inventory Tips:

- List every item of value in your house.
- Include the serial numbers of all items that have them.
- Continuously update your Home Inventory as you acquire new items.
- Keep all receipts along with a description of the items.

Photo Tips:

- Use a color or video camera if possible.
- Take both wide-angle and close-up shots.
- Have a family member in all pictures to help verify ownership.
- Make sure videotapes, slides and pictures are dated.
- To demonstrate quantity of clothing, open closet doors.
- Take pictures of open drawers to show contents.
- When taking pictures of a shiny or reflective surface, hold camera at a 45 degree angle.

Determining ownership and the value of stolen property is difficult after the loss, simply because there is nothing to view. One or more of the following may help verify the facts:

- Receipts, purchase orders or invoices
- Cancelled checks
- Charge account records
- Credit card slips
- Chattel mortgages
- Registration (i.e. guns, boats, etc.)
- Customs declarations
- Warranties and guarantees
- Instruction manuals
- Tax records
- Bills of lading and shipping receipts

Hopefully, the need for this inventory will never arise. However, if you do experience a loss, you should feel better knowing that you are prepared by having a Home Inventory ready and easily accessible.
