

Celebrate the People & Events of Your Life

The connection between people and the places they love is strong and enduring. The open fields, cedar forests and craggy shorelines of Door County are the backdrop to the shared experiences that shape our lives. They are near and dear to our hearts and they say something about who we are – just like our families and friends and the events of our lives do.

When you make a gift to the Door County Land Trust honoring a friend, family member, special event, or life of a loved one, your gift lasts as long as the land does – forever!

The Land Trust will send all honorees (or their family, in the case of memorial gifts) a special note informing them that a gift has been made in their name. Honorees will also receive a copy of the Door County Land Trust journal, Landings.

All gifts will be published in Landings. If you'd like, please feel free to attach a photo and a few words, simple or profound, about the person(s) or event you're commemorating and we will share with our members as many stories as room allows!

A Gift from the Heart

On November 18th, 2006, Ronald & I celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary by renewing our wedding vows. Our two sons, family, and friends were in attendance as was the pastor who married us 25 years ago. It was a very special and memorable day for both of us. On the invitation for our renewal ceremony, we asked that in "lieu of gifts," donations be made to the Door County Land Trust. After all, how many silver bells or frames do we need?! We agreed that the greatest gift anyone could give us would be a donation to the Land Trust, an organization very close to our hearts.

Over the past 15 years, we've fallen in love with Door County. What we most appreciate is the beauty and quietness of the land surrounding our cabin. We are firm believers in the Door County Land Trust and its mission to preserve and maintain the natural beauty of Door County. We are so pleased to be able to contribute a total of $325 to further its work.

Thanks again to the Land Trust for its foresight and vision and for all that it does as an organization to preserve Door County for future generations.

Sincerely,

Christine & Ronald Donovan,
Geneva, IL

The Land Trust thanks the Donovans for their support and wishes them many more happy years together!
