The Official Publication of The International Conference of Sports Car Clubs

From the Gavel

Well, this year sure went fast. It seems I no sooner had gotten over the Spring Meeting and we were at the Mid-Year. I think we left A's Restaurant that Saturday and went right out to the track for the last race of the season, and I hadn't even thought of something profound to write for the Rules Changes edition of the Memo.

I had been hoping that in the second year I would get the job right but its like the classic calculus conundrum, by the time you calculate the position of a moving object, its not in that position any longer. When I lamented to one of the previous presidents about how difficult it was to get a handle on it all, he looked at me incredulously and asked, "You mean you're supposed to? Or even able to?"

You would think that a sport that is so simple to excel at would be easy to administer. Of course its simple to do, all you have to do is lead the last lap of the race. How hard can that be? It is however, a complex sport in complex times. It certainly could not survive long were it not for all the volunteers who give so freely of their time, energy and resources to help the sport and the clubs that represent it go forward. If you took away all the non-drivers, you wouldn't have a race. These people literally slave away under conditions that you could not pay them to work under. And its all for the us the drivers. When the time comes to applaud the workers at the banquet, I want to see the ceiling tiles get knocked loose.

Throughout the past two years I have always tried to what was best for the sport and for Conference as a whole. I never could give everybody all that they wanted but I could and certainly hope that I did, give them their opportunity for an open discussion and chance to put forth their side of the question. As I said to someone who wished to have a point raised, "I can't promise you your way, just your say."

Since my cultural heritage leads back to the Mid-lands of the UK, I am given to a few stories that reflect the mores and outlook of the populace I will close with a little Yorkshire story.

There was young Yorkshire lad who fancied himself an up and coming Opera Tenor. He took lessons locally and deciding it was time to take to the stage, he applied, and by some fluke, was accepted by the Milan Opera Company. On his opening night he was to sing a solo aria and at his cue he took to the stage and gave his best rendering of the work. As his final note drifted up to the roof of the theatre the crowd rose from their seats shouting "Again! Again! Sing it once more!" Awed by this response, he nodded to the conductor who struck up the introduction again and he repeated the performance with more confidence and passion. Once more the crowd were on their feet shouting, "Again! Again! Encore! Encore!" He sang the piece for a third time with increasing confidence, and was once more with the calls for yet another encore. As he waited in the wings for the calling to subside so he could once again regale them with his virtuosity he turned to the laconic and cynical stage hand, that every theatre everywhere has at least one of, and asked, "How many times will they ask me to encore it?" The stagehand turned to him and giving him an even stare replied, "Until you get it right."

See you at the Races

Steward's Report

Great racing for the final two events of what I thought was a very good year for our drivers, crews and friends. Many of our Championship contests were not fully decided until the ultimate race of the season. That added to the pleasure of the fine weather and good racing at both Mission and Seattle.

Mission

We did not have any incidents worthy of the name at Mission. The usual minor scraping and rubbing but the participants generally agreed that it was "Just Racing;" not vehicular assault-the old my corner or die kamikaze approach seen in other less refined and disreputable racing venues. Thanks to the good folks of SCCBC for giving us another great weekend of racing.

Though the wind in Canada Friday night made for much damage to some very nice but unfortunately not well secured canopies and awnings (can anyone spell airfoil). It looked for all the world like a collection of big, dead, very colorful, spiders artfully arranged by Christo when I go there early Saturday.

I hope that my participation in the CFDA event (which I enjoyed greatly) did not cause anyone unnecessary delays or inconvenience. If it did I offer my apologies.

Seattle

At Seattle we wrote off a Mazda at turn 8 and resurrected one that appeared terminal given it's upside down, facing backward, resting place just up the hill from turn 6. I was amazed and pleased to see the upside down car back in action on Sunday.

We did an experiment with transponders at Seattle which, went well I thought. If we decided to use such a system I can see real possibilities for getting sector times and for being able to do a much more efficient job of timing and scoring. We would get results quicker and there would not be any more of that Saturday afternoon BS in the pits about how "they" missed my fast lap.

Thanks for letting me...

It was a real pleasure to serve as the Race Steward this year. Now that we are almost through the season except for the awards giving at the banquet I feel as if a great weight has rolled off me. I learned a great deal about how our races actually work, and much about the inner life of Conference. It is truly amazing how much effort gets put in by a series of wonderful people, just so a couple of hundred men and women can go racing twice a month.

Of special note are some of the interesting people who help the rest of us go racing. Sometimes, I think that one or more of the truly austere Minor Prophets has swooped down from the ecclesiastical sanctuary and randomly taken over one of our leadership positions. This is never more apparent then when someone is debating the wisdom of one or more of the Steward's decisions. It is always enlightening to know that one is regarded as one of the more unlikable contagious germs.

We in Conference are fortunate indeed to have quality people working very hard to make our racing possible. I tell you plainly that if they didn't, we would not be able to. I urge each of you to consider shouldering part of the burden of continuing our long tradition of good racing and great fun. If not now perhaps at sometime in the future. The rewards, spiritually if not monetarily, are well worth the effort. Remember Jacques Delille's maxim "Fate chooses our relatives, we choose our friends". Some of the best friends any of us will have are our fellow (a non-gender-specified reference) racers.

Assistant Steward

Chris Bowl has asked me to mention in this report that we need an Assistant Steward for next year. I already have one volunteer in Jack Scher. Now of course I am not personally certain that his heart is really into the offer but each of you should think through the consequences of this particular path forward. Perhaps that will stimulate one of you to offer yourself up for this important and interesting task.

Appearance Issues

As our cars become slightly shop worn over the course of the year we have tended to let the little things like missing fenders, caved in doors, hood held down with duct tape etc ride. For sure we want to have all of you attend to the cosmetics as well as the performance enhancements you have planned for the winter.

Car Classification Issues

This year we had several people entered their respective cars in classes, which were not legal. That in turn led to several disqualifications over the course of the year. I know that everyone wants the maximum track time during the weekend. It is not fair to the people who have and race legal class appropriate cars.

Allegations related to overly aggressive car preparation
If you are of the opinion that one or more of your fellow competitors have misread the car preparation rules I just want to remind you that we have a system for such matters. Secondly I suggest that each of us ought to either "put up or shut up"

"Get Out of Jail Free Cards"

A word to the wise in Group 3 next year. I will be back and I have several "Former Steward get out of jail free cards" so don't even think about crossing my bow. Really, I only have a couple—but I will use them ruthlessly when needed. I am looking forward to once again trying the nerves and patience of various Conference officials. Remember forewarned is forearmed.
