Parcel Evaluation Section

Landowner: Please help us picture the uniqueness of your property. Your comments help use in our evaluation of the eligibility of your property. Please contact the State Forest Legacy Coordinator with any questions or suggestions.

- A. Riparian or Hydrologic Areas: Water and watershed protection is an important forest value. Explain the water resource values of the proposed property (rivers, lakes, streams, wetlands, etc.). Information on Threatened and Impaired Watersheds and 303(d) listed watersheds are available from State Water Resources Department
- B. Existing or Potential Public Recreational Opportunities: Public recreation opportunities are defined as those having non-commercial and non-landowner users. Explain the recreational values of the proposed property.
- C. Scenic Resources: The scenic aspects of a natural resource area may often be subjective. Describe the special qualities making your parcel stand out as a scenic resource.
- D. Known Cultural, Historical, or Prehistoric areas: Material evidence of previous human occupation (e.g. petroglyphs, house pits, midden, bedrock mortars, etc.) comprises a unique and irreplaceable resource, as do other historic features such as cemeteries, pioneer home sites, old grist and sawmill sites, old grist and sawmill sites, etc. and natural landscape features. Explain the archaeological values of your parcel.
- E. Roads and Improvement: Please discuss amount (approximate total length, type (dirt, rocked, paved, etc.) and condition of roads on the property. Are there any road conditions that need to be improved, eliminated or replaced? What structural improvements exist on the property: include houses, barns, shops, power lines, fences, etc.
- F. Traditional Forest Productivity: Traditional forest uses provide timber and other forest products and amenities for an improved quality of life. Explain the traditional forestry resource values of the parcel. The Site Class is a measure of timberland productivity. The Erosion Hazard Rating (EHR) is a method of calculating the potential for erosion of soils. If you don't know your Site Class or EHR, you can get help determining this from a local Registered Professional Forester, a Forestry Assistance Specialist at your local STATE FORESTRY office, or call the Forest Legacy Coordinator.
- G. Fish and Wildlife Habitat: Protecting and enhancing wildlife features on and off the property is crucial to maintaining viable wildlife populations. Explain how your parcel contributes to healthy wildlife habitats.
- H. Known Rare, Threatened, and Endangered species: As urbanization and subdividing of forest lands continue, the need to give special attention to rare, threatened, and endangered species of fish, wildlife, and plants increases. Explain the rare plants and habitats found on or near your parcel. For more information on threatened and endangered species or Natural Diversity Data Base Sites that may be present on or near your property contact your local Department of Fish and Game, a local Registered Professional Forester, a Forestry Assistance Specialist at your local CDF office, or call the Forest Legacy Coordinator.
- Ecological Community and Connectivity Values: In addition to the characteristics already outlined, a parcel may have other exceptional ecological conditions important to the area. Explain the other ecological values or important traits of your property (e.g. geology, proximity to public lands).
- J. Type and Level of Conversion Threats: There are various kinds and degrees of threat to valuable forested areas, such as encroaching housing and recreational development, commercial and/or utilities development, illegal activities such as drug labs or pot gardens, zoning or ownership that would preclude traditional forestry values and the dividing of land ownership in smaller parcels. Explain how your property is either threatened by development or conversion to other uses, or can slow the development pressures in your area.
- K. Acquirability or Manageability: Even if a forested parcel is threatened with conversion to non-forest use, protecting it under the Forest Legacy Program is not always easy. Describe the level of support for your proposal and how it compliments other land conservation efforts.
